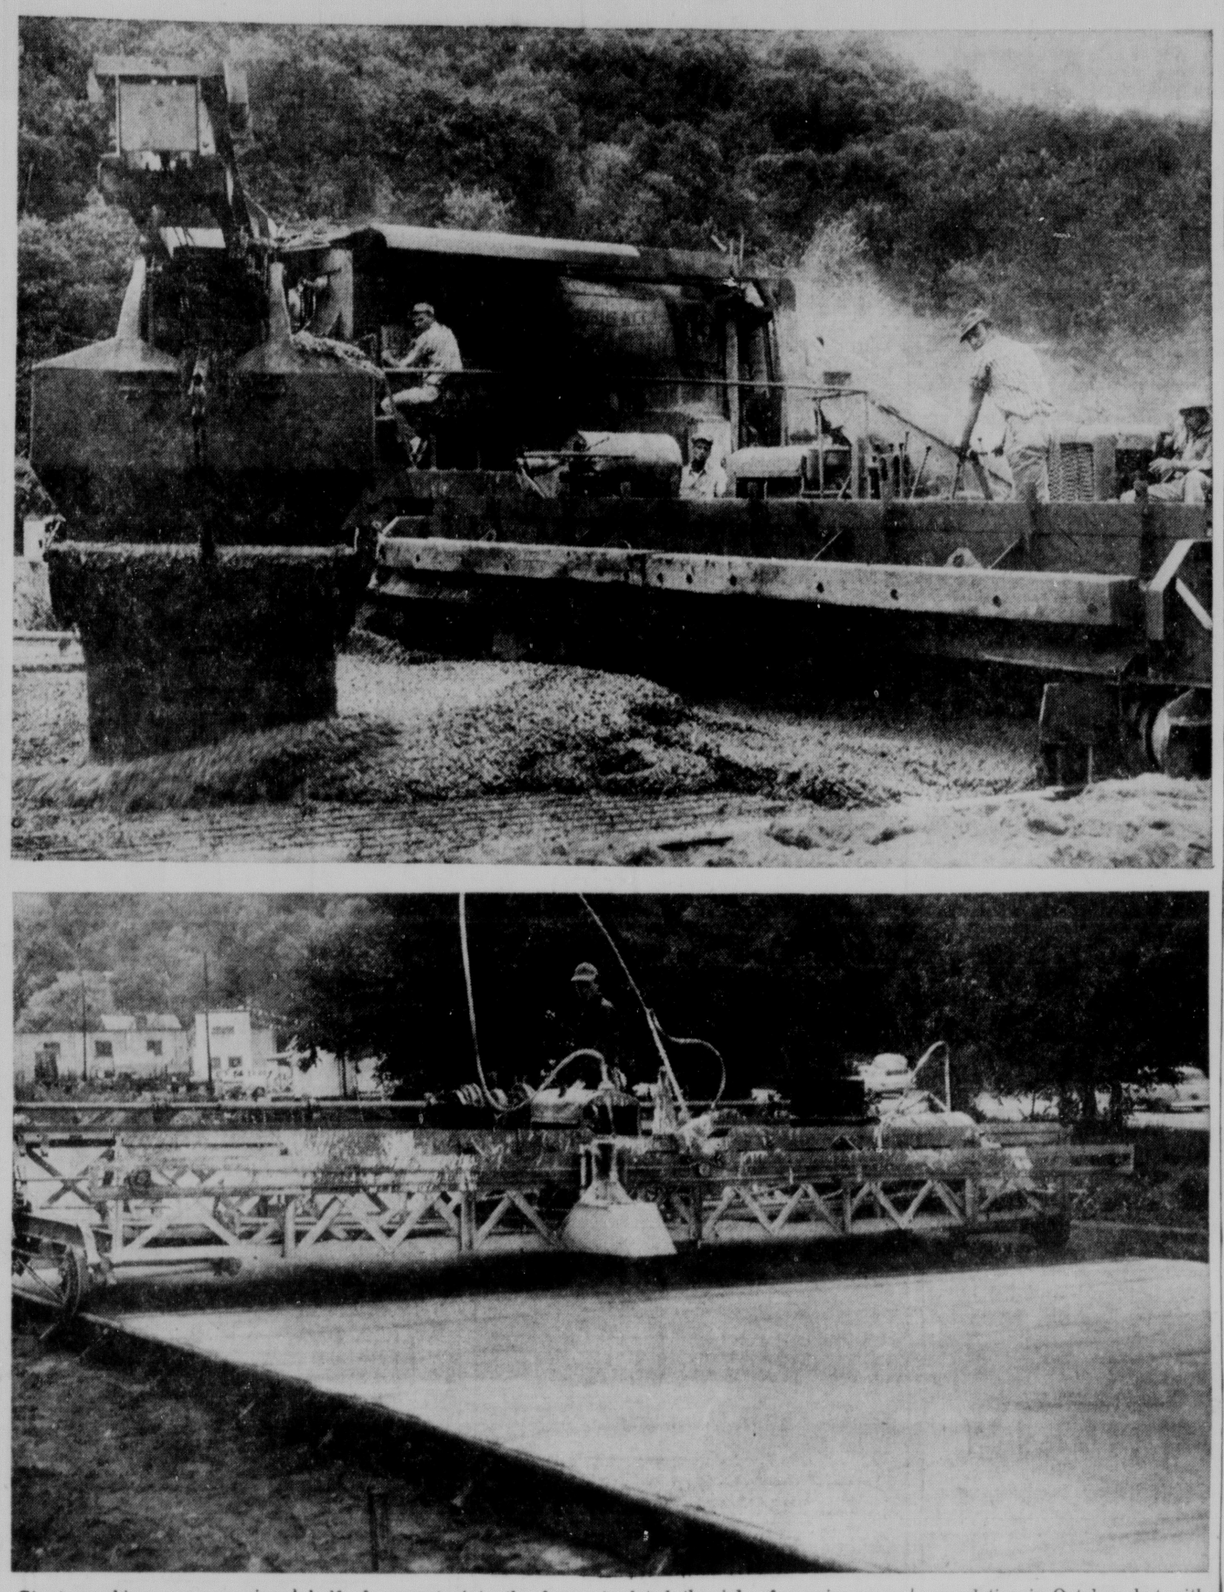
Machines Spew Concrete

Firm Speeds Paving Of Freeway



Giant machines are spewing concrete in big batches as Chapin & Chapin, Inc., of Norwalk moves ahead rapidly with the job of pouring concrete in the California Hollow area for the new East Liverpool Freeway.

The top photo shows a bucket emptying about a yard and a half of concrete into the forms while the machine at the right spreads the mix. Following machines smooth the surface.

In the lower photo, another machine is spreading a hardening compound on the surface of the new concrete.

The firm virtually has completed the job of pouring concrete for the northbound lane from the W. 8th St. interchange to the city limits. A section of the southbound lane has been completed, along with some work from the interchange to the Newell Bridge.

The freeway is scheduled for completion in October, but with work moving ahead of schedule, the job may be finished earlier.

The work has been under way since early 1961. Overall cost of the project will total about $6 million. The federal and state governments provided virtually all the money.

Defeat For Kennedy

Medical Care Plan For Aged Killed In 52-48 Senate Vote

Campaign Trail Calls To Kennedy

Will Drive To Nip Coalition Bent On Scuttling His Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appears almost certain to hit the campaign trail this fall with a drive aimed at breaking up the coalition bent on scuttling his program in Congress.

A Republican - Southern Democratic federation flexed its muscles in the Senate Tuesday and knocked into the ash can by a 52-48 vote the Kennedy program for health care of the elderly financed through Social Security.

The crucial countdown showed 31 Republicans and 21 Democrats —17 of them Southerners—against the Kennedy proposal. It got the support of 43 Democrats and five Republicans.

Because he had tabbed this as the top issue in this year's elections, Kennedy obviously was more angered by the Senate action than previous defeats by a House coalition which killed his tight-controls farm bill and his plan to set up a department of urban affairs.

The President read to reporters at the White House a statement in which he said rejection of his health care plan was "a most serious defeat for every American family."

He added significantly: "We have to decide in the congressional election whether we want to stand still or support this legislation for the benefit of the people."

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota translated this to mean that Kennedy personally will carry the fight to the people.

"This will become the major issue of the 1962 campaign and I expect the President will redouble his efforts for it," Humphrey said.

Chairman John M. Bailey of the Democratic National Committee accused the Republicans of "reckless partisan obstruction."

He said in a statement: "This obstruction will be an important issue in this fall's campaign. The Republicans have shown clearly that they want this country to stop. President Kennedy and the Democrats want it to go.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he doesn't fear the results of any such Democratic drive. He is a candidate for re-election.

Nobody expected Kennedy to campaign against any Democrat. His sights, then, would be set on the defeat of a dozen Republicans who opposed his plan and are seeking election.

This list includes Sens. George D. Aiken of Vermont, Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, Joseph S. Bottum Jr. of South Dakota, Homer Capehart of Indiana, Frank Carlson and James B. Pearson of Kansas, Norris Cotton and Maurice J. Murphy of New Hampshire, Dirksen, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky and Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin.

Words Due Khrushchev

President Tells Red Aide Troops To Stay In Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—In words destined for Premier Khrushchev, President Kennedy is reported to have told the Soviet ambassador that the Soviet Union's demand for removal of U.S. troops from West Berlin is totally unacceptable.

Kennedy met with Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin for an hour Tuesday night in his office at the White House. They also discussed Laos, disarmament and the problem of a ban on nuclear tests.

Dobrynin said as he climbed into his limousine to return to his embassy, "It would be improper for me to comment."

Kennedy intervened personally in U.S.-Soviet talks on the Berlin situation in the evident hope of overcoming any lingering belief in Moscow that the troops issue may be negotiable or that the United States would yet yield to threats and pressures and accept some kind of compromise for West Berlin's military protection.

The President's move came two days before Secretary of State Dean Rusk leaves for Geneva where he plans to talk over the East-West Berlin stalemate with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. The occasion for their gathering in Geneva will be the signing of accords on the neutralization of Laos.

The effect of Kennedy's action is to reinforce Rusk's position at a crucial stage of the U.S.-Soviet talks.

The talks which began last September are deadlocked. There is little hope in official quarters that the deadlock can be broken in the predictable future. There is some lingering hope that if Khrushchev fully understands U.S. determination in support of West Berlin he may be willing to reach some agreement on what the diplomats call a "modus vivendi"—a way of living with the situation without stirring up major crises periodically.

It was authoritatively reported that Kennedy's main concern in the unusual session with Dobrynin was to emphaszie personally the importance he attaches to the U.S. position that the Soviet demand for withdrawal of U.S., British and French troops from West Berlin is nonnegotiable.

President's Irked, Raps At Coalition

'Serious Defeat For Every U.S. Family,' Kennedy Declares

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has killed the administration's compromise medical care plan for the elderly on a 52-48 vote, branded by President Kennedy as "a most serious defeat for every American family."

Kennedy promptly fired his stinging reverse by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats into a major issue for the November congressional elections and said he would offer the program again next year.

The American Medical Association, which led the fight against the program that would have been financed through higher Social Security payments, said Tuesday's Senate action was "a vote in the public interest."

Kennedy had placed the medical care plan in the top priority bracket of his legislative program. The coalition that scrapped it was of the same pattern of the one that had killed two of his other major proposals in the House —his farm bill and his plan to set up a Department of Urban Affairs.

Joining 31 Republicans to kill the medical care plan were 21 Democrats, 17 of them Southerners. Five Republicans who cosponsored the compromise voted with 43 Democrats in trying to save it.

The showdown was on approval of a motion by Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., to table and thus kill an amendment by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., that would have hooked the plan onto a House-passed public welfare bill.

The climax to the most bitterly fought issue of the current session came at midafternoon in a packed Senate chamber. All 100 senators were on hand. Many House members and Senate employes huddled at the rear of the floor. Capacity crowds filled the galleries.

An hour after the Senate vote, Kennedy went before television cameras and radio microphones to read a statement. He said the defeat had dealt a setback to 17 million Americans over 65, and was a blow to children of older persons who have to educate their families and help their parents meet medical expenses.

Then he added:

"I think the American people are going to make a decision in November as to whether they want this bill, and similar bills, to be passed, or whether they want it to be defeated. Nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Soviet Given U.S. Protest On 'Buzzing'

BERLIN (AP) — The United States has protested to Soviet officials against the buzzing of an American plane by a Soviet jet in one of the West Berlin air corridors Tuesday.

It was the first Soviet harassment of Allied traffic in the air corridors since last winter. It came only hours before President Kennedy called in the Soviet ambassador in Washington and told him the West has no intention of withdrawing its troops from Berlin.

The U.S. mission here said the American plane was a DC3 of the U.S. Federal Aviation Agency on its way from Hamburg, West Germany, to West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport to check navigational aids.

The Soviet MIG swooped within 400 feet of the DC3's nose just after the American plane had crossed the Iron Curtain border into Communist East German territory. The MIG then took a position off the wing of the U.S. plane.

LISBON — County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge today reminded residents that Friday is the closing date for payment of real estate taxes for the second half of the 1961 tax year.

He said collections began to pick up this week after a slow start. Big checks from several utilities are expected this week.

County Auditor Kenneth Bell said he is aiming for distribution of the first advance on real estate taxes by Aug. 10. Several Boards of Education need the money to meet the Aug. 15 payroll, he said.

Last-Minute Deal Fails

President Of Peru Seized In Bloodless Troop Coup

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Troops moved in on the government palace early today and seized President Manuel Prado in a military coup.

The coup, climaxing weeks of crisis, was bloodless.

Tanks and troops surrounded the palace, then Prado was taken away in a military vehicle.

The military acted after charging that the June 10 presidential elections were fraudulent.

A last minute political deal to swing the disputed presidency to former dictator Manuel Odria failed.

The target of the army wrath was Victor Raul Maya de la Torre, controversial political figure who ran first in the election but failed to get enough votes for the presidency.

A leftist but anti-Communist, he long has been at odds with the army and other politicians.

His Popular Revolutionary Alliance (APRA) agreed Tuesday to throw the presidency to the rightist Odria, who was third in the voting.

The military, however, apparently would not settle for such an arrangement although Odria is a conservative. Odria would need the support of Haya's forces in Congress, where the Odria and Haya groups would have a majority.

The constitution requires that Congress choose the president from among the three top men in the election unless the high man gets one-third of the total vote. Haya fell 6,000 votes short, Fernando Belaunde Terry came second and Odria was third. The leftist APRA and the rightist Odrista Union together will have a comfortable majority in the new Congress—if the military lets it meet.

After the APRA-Odria deal, outgoing President Manuel Prado restored Premier Carlos Monreyra Paz Soldan and his Cabinet to office, rejecting all but one of the resignations the Cabinet had submitted Monday. The sole holdout, Navy Minister Guillermo Tirado, said his resignation was irrevocable.

Prado announced that the new Congress will meet July 28, as scheduled, to name the next president.

Celebrezze Plans Review Of Situation

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, nominated by President Kennedy to be secretary of health, education and welfare, says he wants to review the whole structure of the department "to see if consolidations are possible for economic reasons and greater efficiency."

"One of my aims will be to make the people around me aware that they've got to be careful how they spend the taxpayers' money," he said Tuesday night after returning from a trip to the White House.

Celebrezze spent 35 minutes Tuesday with Kennedy and Abraham A. Ribicoff, the present secretary.

Assuming his appointment is confirmed by the Senate, Celebrezze said his first effort would be meetings with heads of agencies within his department "to get their thinking and make them understand my philosophy of government."

Trucker Hurt When Big Rig Strikes Train

A New Castle (Pa.) trucker escaped serious injury Tuesday afternoon when his tractor - trailer rig smashed into the side of a passing freight train on Route 7 at Rogers and broke off a crossing flasher signal.

William Byers, 25, of New Castle suffered bruises of the body and nose when his rig, owned by the Erskine Trucking Co. of Youngstown, rammed the third box car in the train which was traveling east through the Rogers crossing at 4:25 p. m.

Donald Mahon, 48, of Negley was engineer on the diesel locomotive pulling the train of the Youngstown & Southern Railroad Co.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Byers was headed north when the mishap occured.

Witnesses said Byers reported he had halted for the traffic signal in Rogers, then moved downgrade to the crossing. He said he did not hear the whistle or see the flasher signal.

The front of the truck was demolished, with damage estimated at $3,500. About $200 damage was caused to the boxcar, while damage to ties, one rail and the flasher signal was estimated at about $3,000, officers said.

About four trains daily pass through Rogers, two east and two west, hauling coal and freight supplies.

Iran Premier Quits Post After 14 Months

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Premier Ali Amini resigned today after 14 months in office marked by sweeping land reforms and sporadic demonstrations demanding a return to parliamentary government. The shah accepted the resignation.

Supervisor's Job Filled By County Board

Greenford Resident To Be Replacement In High School Post

LISBON — Urton Anderson of Greenford, near Salem, is the new high school supervisor for the Columbiana County rural school system.

The County Board of Education gave him a two-year contract Tuesday at $7,700 for 12 months, plus $600 for travel. The system has four high schools — Beaver Local, United, Southern and Salineville, and Crestview.

Principal of Fairfield building in Fairfield-Waterford Local District, Anderson was one of seven applicants, all from the county system. He succeeds Mrs. Marilyn Solak of Salineville, who resigned to go to Youngstown schools as a high school consultant in English.

Anderson is a science major. He was graduated from Harding High School at Marion in 1943 and served with the Navy in the Far East during World War II.

Petitions Ask Ballot Test On Building Plan

Wellsville's Council Sets Extra Session On Initiative Form

Initiative petitions on the question of whether or not the residents should be allowed to vote on the issue of constructing a combination City Hall - Post Office were scheduled to be presented at a special meeting of Wellsville Council this afternoon at 12:30.

The petitions, containing a total of 647 signatures, were displayed by those who circulated them at Council Chambers Tuesday night, the regularly - scheduled meeting time.

But only three councilmen were present and no official business could be transacted for lack of a quorum. Persons circulating the petitions hope to have the Council members opposing the issue change their minds and allow the residents to vote on the proposal of constructing a combination building.

The measure has been blocked each time it has come up in Council. It was turned down again, 2-3, at a special meeting Saturday, July 7.

If Council would place the issue on the ballot, only one election test would be required. With the initiative vote, the city first would cast ballots on whether or not to have the proposal of constructing a combination building put on a ballot. If it passed, the public then would vote on the question of whether or not to go ahead with the construction.

Council members opposed to putting the issue to a vote indicated previously that if the general public is interested, the residents should circulate petitions.

Council members present last night were Robert Taggart, Mrs. Kay Drago, Dwight MacLean and Mrs. Mary Rahter, president.

Also present, along with the 21 in the audience, were Mrs. Mar-

Boy Remains Critical With Mishap Injuries

Keith Eastham, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Eastham of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, remains in "critical" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a one-car mishap early Tuesday morning on the No. 16 School Rd. near Wellsville.

Austin Estham, 18, his brother, is in "fairly good" condition with multiple bruises and abrasions of the body and a cut of the forehead. The younger boy received a head injury, arm fractures and multiple cuts and abrasions.

The two youths were headed south when the auto veered off a curve after a skid and struck an embankment, according to a preliminary investigation by Yellow Creek Constable Walter Johnson.

Move Draws Protests

Council In Rogers Delays Plans To Dispose Of Hall

ROGERS — An ordinance providing for the sale of the Community Hall was tabled by Council Tuesday night at a special meeting at which petitions were presented opposing a public sale and various residents expressed belief the structure should be retained.

Council earlier had directed legislation be prepared for sale of the 40-year-old brick structure in line with a planned construction of a new Village Hall at the site of the present abandoned railroad depot.

Grover Williams, retired businessman, presented two petitions, representing some 77 village residents, which proposed the hall be retained for the fire department.

Fire Chief Sid Cowan asked the reasons for the proposed sale and Councilman Glenn Rhodes, acting as president in the absence of vacationing Mayor Robert McCreary, said the cost of maintaining the structure has been "too high."

About $2,400 was spent on the hall last year, including $1,005 for a new furnace, $765 for repairs and $600 for janitor service.

Wayne Rudibaugh, another retired businessman, said the Hall has been used for social and entertainment purposes in the village for a number of years and he believes it should be retained in the village custody. "I will fight to keep it," he declared.

Cowan said he felt the structure should not be sold, but should be kept either by the village or for the fire department, which has been using the building.

Councilman George Long agreed with Cowan. Rhodes said the village has not received a reply from the Montour railroad concerning the move to acquire the old depot.

Rhodes suggested the village construct a small garage and a storage facility at the site of the depot and Council could sell the hall to the fire department and then rent office space from the department.

Rudibaugh said he doubted if the fire department had sufficient funds to maintain the hall and proposed that the hall be leased to the department.

Cowan discussed whether the firemen could undertake to remodel the hall for a fire truck garage and storage area if the building were leased.

Councilman Glenn Baker declared he was not in favor of "an outsider" getting ownership of the building and Long agreed.

After further discussion, Rhodes said he felt the mayor and Councilman Everett Galbreath, who was absent on vacation, should be heard. Wallace Swaney said he wanted additional time to consider the matter and the meeting was adjourned.

Prior to this, Council approved the 1963 budget of $7,900, a decrease from 1962. The budget includes $6,500 for the general fund and $1,400 for the street fund.

Dale Williams asked about last year funds designated for fire protection, an allotment of $2,000 of which only $500 was spent. He was told the remaining money still was available and that $843 was alloted for fire protection in 1963.

Council will meet again Aug. 6.

Bird Bath 'Joust' Bests Local Man On Yard At Home

Cecil Blair Carver, 60, of 705½ Green Ln. probably is the only man in the annals of the East Liverpool police department injured in a collision with a bird bath.

Carver, injured in the strange encounter Tuesday night, wound up in City Jail on an intoxication charge.

Patrolman L. E. Richard reported he was dispatched to a W. 5th St. home at 7 p.m. on a report a man was lying in a flower bed. He said he found Carver had fallen against a bird bath on the lawn, causing it to break. Sharp shards cut Carver about the face and head, the officer said.

The patrolman took Carver to City Hospital for treatment, then booked him into jail on an intoxication charge.

Garver was fined $10 and costs at a hearing this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, who suspended the fine and ordered him to pay the court costs.

County Courts Collect $5,699 During Month

LISBON — The three Columbiana County Courts at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine took in to a report from Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

He said 263 criminal cases and 89 civil cases were filed in the county courts last month.

The county treasurer received $2,423 made up of 55 per cent of State Highway Patrol case fines and all of other fines and $1,248 from court costs in civil and criminal cases, for a total of $3,671.

The state received $1,598, which was 45 per cent of the patrol case fines and $125 in fines from other cases.

Fees totaling $305 were paid the sheriff, constables and city police.

Is The New Deal Old Hat?

When does the new grow old?

At what point does a political reform turn into an established order?

How old is a "youth leader" before he reaches middle age?

And is it true that the New Deal is "old hat"?

Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., says the Kennedy administration is in charge of "unimaginative, reactionary individuals . . . whose only answers to our problems consist of more and more federal power, more and more federal spending."

His accusation strikes fire. He is chairman of the Republican National Committee and in a position to lay down a party line for 1962 and 1964.

Even if he had no official position, it is significant that a Republican congressman looks upon what others too have described as warmed-over New Dealers as "reactionaries." These people think of themselves as "progressives" and "radicals," the same roles they played with relish during the first two terms of Franklin D. Roosevelt when the mildest word anyone applied to a New Dealer was "liberal."

THE QUESTION is whether time has passed them by and Rep. Miller is right when he says they are stuck with ideas that are out of date. It has happened countless times. Norman Thomas, the perennial agitator for socialism, used to make wry jokes about planks that have been taken from his platforms by both major parties.

The world moves on in politics as it does in all other things. Political ideologies go in cycles, and today's novelty is tomorrow's bromide. One thinks of Henry A. Wallace, the hotly controversial New Deal "progressive." If he were to return to public life now with the same ideas, he would be an outlandish political curiosity. The world moved on and left him in the lurch.

HAS IT ALSO moved on and left the Kennedy administration in the lurch?

Is the Republican party now the possessor of the newer ideas?

Was Brooks Hays, former U.S. representative from Arkansas and now a White House assistant for federal and local affairs, speaking the truth a few days ago when he told the National Association of Counties to quit running to Washington because the federal government didn't want to interfere in local affairs?

Is the New Deal really that dead?

Rep. Miller seems willing to stake his political life on it.

Depreciation Policy A Real Reform

One effect of the depreciation policy reform has been neglected in comment dealing with this important move as a tax cut.

True enough, it is a tax cut.

Equally true it is a tax cut not accompanied by a reduction of federal spending. Unless it stimulates enterprise to the point of producing so much more wealth than was being produced before that the government will have no net loss of revenue, the over-all effect could be inflationary.

But as experts in tax matters begin their studies of the new policy they agree that the most important change is the simplification it introduces into practices that had grown hopelessly complex.

AN EXAMPLE in the soap industry is cited to show the difference between the old and the new depreciation policy.

Under the old policy 201 items entered into depreciation accounting covering the industry. The "lives" of the items varied from as few as four years to as long as 30 years.

Under the new policy everything is covered by the rule of 11 years for writeoffs in the chemical industry—including the soap industry. Instead of more than 5,000 categories to keep track of, the new regulations compress the famous Bulletin F schedules into 75 compact categories.

IN THIS and other respects the new policy does for business taxation what tax reformers have been insisting should be done to all taxes; it simplifies them and by so doing minimizes the inequities that grow out of chaos and confusion.

The time is not in sight when a small businessman can figure out his taxes by himself.

But with a little luck he has a fighting chance of understanding what his hired expert is doing in his behalf.

It is a genuine reform, not just a new face on the same old practices.

There's No Place Like It

The Committee for Economic Development will get no further with its notion about getting rid of surplus farmers to stop farm subsidies than Ezra Taft Benson got with the same notion when he was secretary of agriculture in President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

But it's an interesting proposition, no matter who makes it.

The only thing wrong with it is it's so logical it has no more appeal than a frozen fish. It has no political attractiveness. It cuts across the grain of a feeling only slightly less vibrant than devotion to home and mother — that life on the farm is better than life elsewhere.

Song writers, novelists and poets wax sentimental about it. The weak and ailing are advised to live on farms until their health improves.

There is a fixed belief that only on farms do people manage to get in touch with the eternal verities that can steer them through difficulties as the fixed stars steer mariners.

AND ON TOP of everything else there is a near-holy conviction that farming has a built-in dignity never approached in any other pursuit, least of all such contrived activities as are associated with the "rat race" of these mid-20th-century years.

It stands to reason that if farmers are producing chronic oversupplies of food and fiber there must be too much production and presumably too many producers. It stands to reason that any government making farming attractive when there already are too many farmers must not know whether it is going or coming.

But farming is not an exercise in logic. It is an exercise in emotionalism and politics. That is why the CED proposal for getting rid of surplus farmers and thereby getting rid of surplus production and subsidies will be rejected out of hand. It is as unthinkable as proposing that the United States should get rid of bleeding hearts.

ACTUALLY, things are better than they seem to be. No one knows how many bona fide farmers there are. Millions classified as rural residents are just that, nothing more.

Millions are so inefficient they contribute nothing to farming.

The 1960 census showed 69.9 of the country's population was urban. If there had been a clear definition of what it takes to be a bona fide farmer, the urban proportion would have been as high as four out of five—80 per cent or better.

If farming continues to dwindle in proportion to everything else, the time may not be far off when new farmers will have to be recruited.

First Right, Then Left

By Truman Twill

They tell stories in my family about the men with no sense of direction.

We are shrewd enough, however, to marry women with built-in guidance systems. Lacking the ability to get there on our own, we mate with navigators.

This paid off while we were motoring in Britain. Our older son, whose inability to find his way out of a broom closet with the door ajar has been something of a special nature since he was a small child, did the driving. Once we started him off on a 700-mile journey by telling him to turn left at the end of our lane and again at the intersection a couple miles up the road and he missed the second turn and went hundreds of miles out of his way. . .

But did that boy ever marry a navigator!

That girl even mastered the London Underground. Several times while she was leading us through the intricacies of that vast subterranean fun-house strangers asked us for instructions—and we confidently referred them to our precocious daughter-in-law. Our confidence was justified.

Not only could she find her way around in London's subway system but with a map of the city spread on her lap she charted the surface traffic of that great city, even threading her way through the booby traps of Hyde Park and the confusion of Piccadilly Circus after dark.

Never once in 1,200 miles of traveling did this paragon lose her way. She had as sure a touch in Liverpool as in the desolate Cheviot Hills. On entering Edinburgh, with the rest of us braced for a protracted hunt to find the off-the-main-road house we were going to stay in, she suddenly directed the driver to make a sharp left, then another and there we were. "How did you know?" we demanded. "I didn't," she explained. "I just thought the buildings looked like it was the right street."

Only once was our confidence shaken—the day we looked for the White Horse, marking a hill fort built from about 300 B.C. to 43 A.D. The White Horse took a lot of imagination, being a crude representation consisting of shallow trenches uncovering the white limestone on a hillside, and we almost missed it. But as always she was on target, as we knew when we climbed the hill and saw the fort dug into its top.

Our prodigy pointed out one flaw in mapmaking—that maps are made to be looked at with north at the top, east on the right hand and west on the left hand. As long as we were driving north everything was as it should but but when we started south the map was upside down as far as names and numbers were concerned. This entailed giving more sophisticated instructions to the driver, who spent the entire journey being lost. It was necessary to remember always which was his right hand before telling him to turn.

This And That

The average racehorse travels one mile on an average track, under average weather conditions, in one minute and 40 seconds, meaning 100 seconds, or at a rate of 52.8 feet per second.

Within a 45-mile radius of Detroit, are the home plants of companies which turn out nine of every 10 American automobiles.

FBI Chief Airs Red Threat

By J. Edgar Hoover

Before leaving for Europe, Victor Riesel asked J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, to take the measure of the Communist movement in the U.S.A. Mr. Hoover's reply is the subject of today's column.

Leading members of the Communist hierarchy never have minimized the significance which they attach to the Communist nucleus in this country. Shortly before his death in Moscow last year, William Z. Foster, then chairman emeritus of the Communist party U.S.A., said:

"The CPUSA today is potentially, if not actually, stronger than it ever was in history, because great socialist countries of the world are marching forward to greater and greater victories and the United States is bound to reflect this worldwide advance of socialism."

Not long ago, Benjamin J. Davis, national secretary of the Communist party, U.S.A., in the course of a radio appearance made a statement to the effect that: "The Communist party in America is potentially the largest of all political parties. . . ."

AT THE SOVIET Communist party congress last fall, Nikita Khrushchev gave his own assessment of his organization's branch office in the United States. To make sure that there could be no misunderstanding as to how he regarded the Communist party, U.S.A., he spelled it out plainly. Admitting that party membership was not numerically great, he stated:

"One can say, using the words of the folk proverb: 'It's a small unit of weight, but it's valuable' "

Why is it valuable?

Domestic Communists, like other Communist conspirators, are absolute realists. They know they can never hope to gain power through the elective process. They concentrate, therefore, on efforts to (1) agitate and propagandize (2) infiltrate legitimate, noncommunist organizations (3) create and support Communist fronts.

Through these tactics, Communist strength can be greatly enhanced. In addition, ideological cultivation in Marxism-Leninism makes members potential recruits for Soviet espionage.

THE PARTY is always staunchly loyal to Soviet Russia, a fact which is reflected in its shifting line.

In September 1961, "The Worker" in an editorial demanded a permanent ban on nuclear explosions. This paper hit the street just hours before the Soviets announced the resumption of nuclear tests.

One week later "The Worker" carried four articles justifying the Soviet Union's action.

A primary concern of domestic Communists today is the infiltration of non-Communist ranks. With infinite subtlety and patience, they hope to influence American opinion to fit a collectivist mold.

The process of opinion subversion is developed with such diabolical skill that even today a surprising number of victims are drawn into the active promotion of causes which advance Communist aims and ideas. Such persons often remain totally ignorant of the fact that they are themselves subject to Communist manipulation.

The Communist movement is currently concentrating great effort in the youth field.

IN THEIR EFFORTS to broaden opportunities to exploit college-age youth, they recently announced the creation of a lecture bureau. Plans for the creation of Marxist discussion groups for teen-age youngsters are being promoted and party members have "papered" gathering places of young people with thousands of copies of their unlabeled propaganda sheets.

The subversive is fully aware of the idealism of youth. He knows the value of exploiting appealing, if controversial subjects in such a way that he always gives the impression of being "on the side of the angels."

It is his ostensible support of idealistic causes which so often entraps the unsophisticated youth and turns him into a willing puppet manipulated by Communist masters.

Who, for example, can quarrel with such issues as peace, civil rights, academic freedom, equality, freedom from want?

Is it reasonable that men whose ultimate aim is to achieve a dictatorship by rule of armed force under which civil rights and academic freedom would be totally destroyed, would now be engaged in supporting, often vociferously, these very rights and freedoms?

To the person unversed in the deceptive tactics used by Communists to enlist the aid of the unwary, such a thing is inconceivable.

THE DISILLUSIONMENT which follows firsthand acquaintance with the Communist police state is a searing experience. Many recognize immediately the evil in which they have become enmeshed.

A forthright few are honest enough to admit that they were "taken" by Marxist propaganda and seek to atone for having given aid to the Communist conspiracy. Others, less conscientious, do nothing.

Supporters of the conspiracy strive constantly to portray the Communist organization within the United States as "just another political party like the Democratic and Republican parties."

The uninformed too often are persuaded to accept this false impression despite the fact that as recently as June 5, 1961, the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the conclusion of the Subversive Activities Control Board that the Communist party, U.S.A., "was substantially directed, dominated or controlled by the Soviet Union. . . ."

What is the measure of danger we face from the Communist movement?

ENTIRELY APART from the deadly danger of espionage activities operating under the cover of every Russian-run establishment in the United States, we must recognize the fact that a powerful foreign government has, at this moment, an advance detachment within our borders.

This group has no cloak of legitimacy. Some cohorts from this detachment currently are striving to infiltrate vital segments of our society.

This detachment stands behind the efforts of other conspirators in their attempts to clamp the iron control of Communism on our sister republics.

Even more deadly than these is the Communist capacity to pervert our thinking and destroy the spiritual supports which form the foundation of our freedom.

Will we succumb to opinion subversion? Can we be changed from forthright, self-reliant, self-respecting American citizens into irresolute, half-hearted, irresponsible weaklings willing to compromise away the freedoms for which so many have fought and died?

Therein lies the measure of our danger.

Guns Or Butter?

By David Lawrence

Disarmament Seen Key To Peace, Prosperity

How can the armament expense of the United States — approaching $50 billion a year — be materially reduced so that an era of business growth and a sound economy can be achieved in America?

David Lawrence

This question is more important than a tax cut or any other "gimmick" being advanced as a cure for the stagnant economy of today. For the truth is America cannot absorb the present-day expense for armament and grow productively at the same time. America, in other words, cannot have "guns and butter, too."

Most important is the fact that Moscow has discovered this same truism with respect to the Soviet Union.

The 17-nation conference on disarmament between the East and the West, which has just resumed in Geneva, cannot accomplish much, however, with a formula that calls for nations to abolish their defenses or to stop exploring the merits of new weapons. Nor is there a likelihood that an agreement can be reached to permit inspection. What is more plausible is to find a means of agreeing on the amounts of armament expense as a ratio of national budgets.

Each country—the Soviet Union and the United States — will wish to be the judge of how it will spend its own money allocated to defense and what weapons it will produce but if a budget limitation on arms spending were imposed by mutual understanding between the Soviet Union and the United States, the economic development on each side would be stimulated, and there would be a greater opportunity to improve the standard of living of peoples and to stimulate a return to a natural economy.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV is worried about his economic troubles. He blames the armament expense for his failure to carry out promises to the people. He cries out that Western countries are driving him into spending more and more for military purposes. He says unequivocally that, if it weren't for the threat from the West, he would be able to employ more of the national budget of the Soviet Union for better housing, for better transportation, and for more aids to agriculture and industry.

Moscow needs an agreement on reduction of armament even more than does the United States. But the American people, like the Russian people, would like to see armament reduced primarily because they have been taught to believe that the mere existence of powerful instruments of war can lead to war.

The truth is that, since the deadliness of nuclear weapons has been convincingly demonstrated on both sides, the movement to limit or reduce armament has taken on considerable impetus though not enough to bring an effective international agreement.

BEFORE LONG a different and perhaps almost as powerful stimulus may come from a calm consideration of the threat to economic stability which can arise inside the Soviet Union, as well as inside the United States, if armament expense isn't substantially reduced.

No formula has as yet been advanced by either side in the international conferences that gives any promise of an agreement. Each side is afraid of the other.

The argument has long turned on inspection, but no procedure or mechanism has been devised thus far that will satisfy both sides. An agreement on budget limitation, however, involves a different approach. The amounts of money spent are much more readily ascertained and verified than the facts concerning the location of mobile weapons at any given time.

INTERNATIONAL agreements are rarely arrived at by powers of persuasion or by emotional appeals. They are made possible as a rule only when they become of direct benefit to both sides. The common obligation today is to economize on armament spending so that more funds can be devoted to bettering the lives of the respective peoples on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

This would make possible, too, a reduction of tensions in the cold war and would give the normal processes of trade a chance to expand. For individuals — a growing number of consumers —would have more to spend for an improving standard of living. It is today the key to a business revival in the United States.

Letters To The Editor

The Democratic Central Committee and members of the Democratic party have gone on record, at a meeting Friday evening, July 13, commending Councilmen William Stroble, Frank DeLonzo, Allen Baldwin and Councilwoman Kaye Drago for the stand they took on the combination city hall-postal building issue. We commend them further for not succumbing to pressure.

Mayor Daugherty in his letter to the editor of The East Liverpool Review July 13, inferred that the above named councilmen and councilwoman have denied the people of Wellsville the right to vote on this issue. This is not true. These councilmen and councilwoman feel that since his proposal was not sound that they should not vote to place the issue on the ballot, but rather let Mayor Daugherty and his group take the alternative step and place the issue on the ballot by means of referendum. It would require only approximately 250 signatures.

They feel that the figures in his proposal were inaccurate and were used in the hope of trying to fool council into endorsing his proposal, thereby taxing the people of Wellsville and working a great hardship on our aged citizens, who depend on their fixed pensions as their sole means of livelihood.

Mayor Daugherty in his proposal stated that Cora Nickle's property could be purchased for $10,000. At the special meeting of council and the advisory board, Cora Nickle said "that her property was not for sale at $10,000, that her price would be much higher".

Frank DeLonzo submitted a proposal to build a garage to house city equipment at a bid price of $6,800 thereby saving the city of Wellsville $1,284 annually in garage rent. This building could be constructed at no additional tax increase.

But in the mayor's proposal, he is willing to spend $27,700 to purchase the U. P. Church, raze it and build a garage at this site in order to arrive at the same savings of $1,284 in garage rent. The fooler in this proposal is that he would build a parking lot over the garage and realize $1,000 yearly from metered parking, according to him. This is a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul, since our street parking meters are not operating at full capacity.

The mayor computed the cost of the combination city hall-postal building on 10,000 square feet of floor area, but the drawings submitted by the architect called for 10,516 square feet of floor area. Now, can you tell us who is going to pay for this additional 516 square feet.

The Wellsville Press Building was sold in May 1960 for $11,500. Mayor Daugherty is willing to purchase it for $15,000.

The mayor stated in his proposal that he could purchase office equipment for the city building for $4,500. Now we all know that office equipment comes high and the cost of equipping the city offices would be mucher higher than that.

The above named councilmen and councilwoman have given the board of control 100 per cent cooperation in appropriating finances so that they can carry out the street program and city business to the best interest of the people of Wellsville, but they feel that they do not receive the same kind of cooperation from the mayor and service director.

We feel that this project is not a necessity and we can get a new post office without costing the taxpayers one red cent. In view of this, we feel that it is not sound business to tax our people for a city hall-postal building, especially when we have knowledge that after the first of the year our taxes are going to be higher because of the new tax appraisal.

It is the duty of the president of Council to conduct a meeting in a good and harmonious fashion. The president of Council votes only in case of a tie, and at no time should the president of Council try to influence how an individual councilman should vote, nor is it good practice to score Council if the vote does not go to her satisfaction, as was the case in this issue.

In closing, we wish to state that the Democratic party is strong and solid and we have no weaknesses in our ranks.

CHARLES LEWIS, Chairman
Wellsville Democratic Central Committee

This entailed giving more sophisticated instructions to the driver, who spent the entire journey being lost. It was necessary to remember always which was his right hand before telling him to turn.

This And That

The average racehorse travels one mile on an average track, under average weather conditions, in one minute and 40 seconds, meaning 100 seconds, or at a rate of 52.8 feet per second.

Within a 45-mile radius of Detroit, are the home plants of companies which turn out nine of every 10 American automobiles.

Looks Like A Hit!

FBI Chief Airs Red Threat

By J. Edgar Hoover

Before leaving for Europe, Victor Riesel asked J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, to take the measure of the Communist movement in the U.S.A. Mr. Hoover's reply is the subject of today's column.

Leading members of the Communist hierarchy never have minimized the significance which they attach to the Communist nucleus in this country. Shortly before his death in Moscow last year, William Z. Foster, then chairman emeritus of the Communist party U.S.A., said:

"The CPUSA today is potentially, if not actually, stronger than it ever was in history, because great socialist countries of the world are marching forward to greater and greater victories and the United States is bound to reflect this worldwide advance of socialism."

Not long ago, Benjamin J. Davis, national secretary of the Communist party, U.S.A., in the course of a radio appearance made a statement to the effect that: "The Communist party in America is potentially the largest of all political parties. . . ."

AT THE SOVIET Communist party congress last fall, Nikita Khrushchev gave his own assessment of his organization's branch office in the United States. To make sure that there could be no misunderstanding as to how he regarded the Communist party, U.S.A., he spelled it out plainly. Admitting that party membership was not numerically great, he stated:

"One can say, using the words of the folk proverb: 'It's a small unit of weight, but it's valuable' "

Why is it valuable?

Domestic Communists, like other Communist conspirators, are absolute realists. They know they can never hope to gain power through the elective process. They concentrate, therefore, on efforts to (1) agitate and propagandize (2) infiltrate legitimate, noncommunist organizations (3) create and support Communist fronts.

Through these tactics, Communist strength can be greatly enhanced. In addition, ideological cultivation in Marxism-Leninism makes members potential recruits for Soviet espionage.

THE PARTY is always staunchly loyal to Soviet Russia, a fact which is reflected in its shifting line.

In September 1961, "The Worker" in an editorial demanded a permanent ban on nuclear explosions. This paper hit the street just hours before the Soviets announced the resumption of nuclear tests.

One week later "The Worker" carried four articles justifying the Soviet Union's action.

A primary concern of domestic Communists today is the infiltration of non-Communist ranks. With infinite subtlety and patience, they hope to influence American opinion to fit a collectivist mold.

The process of opinion subversion is developed with such diabolical skill that even today a surprising number of victims are drawn into the active promotion of causes which advance Communist aims and ideas. Such persons often remain totally ignorant of the fact that they are themselves subject to Communist manipulation.

The Communist movement is currently concentrating great effort in the youth field.

IN THEIR EFFORTS to broaden opportunities to exploit college-age youth, they recently announced the creation of a lecture bureau. Plans for the creation of Marxist discussion groups for teen-age youngsters are being promoted and party members have "papered" gathering places of young people with thousands of copies of their unlabeled propaganda sheets.

The subversive is fully aware of the idealism of youth. He knows the value of exploiting appealing, if controversial subjects in such a way that he always gives the impression of being "on the side of the angels."

It is his ostensible support of idealistic causes which so often entraps the unsophisticated youth and turns him into a willing puppet manipulated by Communist masters.

Who, for example, can quarrel with such issues as peace, civil rights, academic freedom, equality, freedom from want?

Is it reasonable that men whose ultimate aim is to achieve a dictatorship by rule of armed force under which civil rights and academic freedom would be totally destroyed, would now be engaged in supporting, often vociferously, these very rights and freedoms?

To the person unversed in the deceptive tactics used by Communists to enlist the aid of the unwary, such a thing is inconceivable.

THE DISILLUSIONMENT which follows firsthand acquaintance with the Communist police state is a searing experience. Many recognize immediately the evil in which they have become enmeshed.

A forthright few are honest enough to admit that they were "taken" by Marxist propaganda and seek to atone for having given aid to the Communist conspiracy. Others, less conscientious, do nothing.

Supporters of the conspiracy strive constantly to portray the Communist organization within the United States as "just another political party like the Democratic and Republican parties."

The uninformed too often are persuaded to accept this false impression despite the fact that as recently as June 5, 1961, the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the conclusion of the Subversive Activities Control Board that the Communist party, U.S.A., "was substantially directed, dominated or controlled by the Soviet Union. . . ."

What is the measure of danger we face from the Communist movement?

ENTIRELY APART from the deadly danger of espionage activities operating under the cover of every Russian-run establishment in the United States, we must recognize the fact that a powerful foreign government has, at this moment, an advance detachment within our borders.

This group has no cloak of legitimacy. Some cohorts from this detachment currently are striving to infiltrate vital segments of our society.

This detachment stands behind the efforts of other conspirators in their attempts to clamp the iron control of Communism on our sister republics.

Even more deadly than these is the Communist capacity to pervert our thinking and destroy the spiritual supports which form the foundation of our freedom.

Will we succumb to opinion subversion? Can we be changed from forthright, self-reliant, self-respecting American citizens into irresolute, half-hearted, irresponsible weaklings willing to compromise away the freedoms for which so many have fought and died?

Therein lies the measure of our danger.

Guns Or Butter?

By David Lawrence

Disarmament Seen Key To Peace, Prosperity

How can the armament expense of the United States — approaching $50 billion a year — be materially reduced so that an era of business growth and a sound economy can be achieved in America?

David Lawrence

This question is more important than a tax cut or any other "gimmick" being advanced as a cure for the stagnant economy of today. For the truth is America cannot absorb the present-day expense for armament and grow productively at the same time. America, in other words, cannot have "guns and butter, too."

Most important is the fact that Moscow has discovered this same truism with respect to the Soviet Union.

The 17-nation conference on disarmament between the East and the West, which has just resumed in Geneva, cannot accomplish much, however, with a formula that calls for nations to abolish their defenses or to stop exploring the merits of new weapons. Nor is there a likelihood that an agreement can be reached to permit inspection. What is more plausible is to find a means of agreeing on the amounts of armament expense as a ratio of national budgets.

Each country—the Soviet Union and the United States — will wish to be the judge of how it will spend its own money allocated to defense and what weapons it will produce but if a budget limitation on arms spending were imposed by mutual understanding between the Soviet Union and the United States, the economic development on each side would be stimulated, and there would be a greater opportunity to improve the standard of living of peoples and to stimulate a return to a natural economy.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV is worried about his economic troubles. He blames the armament expense for his failure to carry out promises to the people. He cries out that Western countries are driving him into spending more and more for military purposes. He says unequivocally that, if it weren't for the threat from the West, he would be able to employ more of the national budget of the Soviet Union for better housing, for better transportation, and for more aids to agriculture and industry.

Moscow needs an agreement on reduction of armament even more than does the United States. But the American people, like the Russian people, would like to see armament reduced primarily because they have been taught to believe that the mere existence of powerful instruments of war can lead to war.

The truth is that, since the deadliness of nuclear weapons has been convincingly demonstrated on both sides, the movement to limit or reduce armament has taken on considerable impetus though not enough to bring an effective international agreement.

BEFORE LONG a different and perhaps almost as powerful stimulus may come from a calm consideration of the threat to economic stability which can arise inside the Soviet Union, as well as inside the United States, if armament expense isn't substantially reduced.

No formula has as yet been advanced by either side in the international conferences that gives any promise of an agreement. Each side is afraid of the other.

The argument has long turned on inspection, but no procedure or mechanism has been devised thus far that will satisfy both sides. An agreement on budget limitation, however, involves a different approach. The amounts of money spent are much more readily ascertained and verified than the facts concerning the location of mobile weapons at any given time.

INTERNATIONAL agreements are rarely arrived at by powers of persuasion or by emotional appeals. They are made possible as a rule only when they become of direct benefit to both sides. The common obligation today is to economize on armament spending so that more funds can be devoted to bettering the lives of the respective peoples on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

This would make possible, too, a reduction of tensions in the cold war and would give the normal processes of trade a chance to expand. For individuals — a growing number of consumers —would have more to spend for an improving standard of living. It is today the key to a business revival in the United States.

Letters To The Editor

The Democratic Central Committee and members of the Democratic party have gone on record, at a meeting Friday evening, July 13, commending Councilmen William Stroble, Frank DeLonzo, Allen Baldwin and Councilwoman Kaye Drago for the stand they took on the combination city hall-postal building issue. We commend them further for not succumbing to pressure.

Mayor Daugherty in his letter to the editor of The East Liverpool Review July 13, inferred that the above named councilmen and councilwoman have denied the people of Wellsville the right to vote on this issue. This is not true. These councilmen and councilwoman feel that since his proposal was not sound that they should not vote to place the issue on the ballot, but rather let Mayor Daugherty and his group take the alternative step and place the issue on the ballot by means of referendum. It would require only approximately 250 signatures.

They feel that the figures in his proposal were inaccurate and were used in the hope of trying to fool council into endorsing his proposal, thereby taxing the people of Wellsville and working a great hardship on our aged citizens, who depend on their fixed pensions as their sole means of livelihood.

Mayor Daugherty in his proposal stated that Cora Nickle's property could be purchased for $10,000. At the special meeting of council and the advisory board, Cora Nickle said "that her property was not for sale at $10,000, that her price would be much higher".

Frank DeLonzo submitted a proposal to build a garage to house city equipment at a bid price of $6,800 thereby saving the city of Wellsville $1,284 annually in garage rent. This building could be constructed at no additional tax increase.

But in the mayor's proposal, he is willing to spend $27,700 to purchase the U. P. Church, raze it and build a garage at this site in order to arrive at the same savings of $1,284 in garage rent. The fooler in this proposal is that he would build a parking lot over the garage and realize $1,000 yearly from metered parking, according to him. This is a case of robbing Peter to pay Paul, since our street parking meters are not operating at full capacity.

The mayor computed the cost of the combination city hall-postal building on 10,000 square feet of floor area, but the drawings submitted by the architect called for 10,516 square feet of floor area. Now, can you tell us who is going to pay for this additional 516 square feet.

The Wellsville Press Building was sold in May 1960 for $11,500. Mayor Daugherty is willing to purchase it for $15,000.

The mayor stated in his proposal that he could purchase office equipment for the city building for $4,500. Now we all know that office equipment comes high and the cost of equipping the city offices would be mucher higher than that.

The above named councilmen and councilwoman have given the board of control 100 per cent cooperation in appropriating finances so that they can carry out the street program and city business to the best interest of the people of Wellsville, but they feel that they do not receive the same kind of cooperation from the mayor and service director.

We feel that this project is not a necessity and we can get a new post office without costing the taxpayers one red cent. In view of this, we feel that it is not sound business to tax our people for a city hall-postal building, especially when we have knowledge that after the first of the year our taxes are going to be higher because of the new tax appraisal.

It is the duty of the president of Council to conduct a meeting in a good and harmonious fashion. The president of Council votes only in case of a tie, and at no time should the president of Council try to influence how an individual councilman should vote, nor is it good practice to score Council if the vote does not go to her satisfaction, as was the case in this issue.

In closing, we wish to state that the Democratic party is strong and solid and we have no weaknesses in our ranks.

CHARLES LEWIS, Chairman
Wellsville Democratic Central Committee

Mrs. Rahter announced at 7:45 p. m. that it was apparent no quorum would be present. The session was scheduled to begin at 7:30. She said it is the first time it has happened in her five years in Council.

Absent were Councilmen Allen Baldwin, Frank DeLonzo, Donald Miller and William Stroble.

Mrs. Baldwin reported Stroble is on vacation and the others were working. She said she was notified late in the afternoon they would not be present. Mrs. Rahter said two of the members also called her to explain they would be absent.

Mrs. Rahter then pointed out that the petitions had been circulated and said that those in the audience were present to discuss the issue.

It was indicated that those absent were the ones who oppose the issue. Mrs. Drago, DeLonzo and Stroble opposed the issue at the last special meeting, with Miller abstaining.

Mrs. Rahter then asked for general comments from persons in the audience who had worked on circulating the petitions. She commented the petitions were drafted by a local attorney and a Cleveland law firm. They were placed in circulation Monday evening.

Mrs. Helen Welch commented that an overwhelming majority of the people who signed her petition could not understand why Council would not allow them to vote on the issue.

J. L. Pilmer, who also circulated the petitions, said at least 1,000 signatures would be obtained by today.

It was indicated 265 is the minimum needed to have the issue placed on the ballot. Most of those who spoke said the residents want a chance to vote.

Mrs. Rahter said the citizens can go ahead with the move without consulting Council, but indicated the members may change their minds after seeing the petitions and numerous signatures.

Charles Lewis, chairman of the Wellsville Democratic Central Committee, commented from the audience that they should not criticize those who were absent on the way they voted on the issue. He said since it is known how the people feel, there isn't any doubt how Council will vote.

Lewis then asked what procedure had taken place in the past and what was being done with the petitions. The matter was explained by Mayor Daugherty. Lewis then commented that the people are entitled to their right to express an opinion.

The mayor commented he was a "Doubting Thomas" when the petitions first were started. He said he did not believe the response would be as great as it was. He said it was presented a petition Monday night and obtained 30 signatures.

He presented the proposal to Council to put the issue to the people on whether or not to construct a combination building.

He said most of the city's cost would be paid by the rental fee received from the government for the Post Office section.

The proposal calls for the razing of the City Hall and purchasing adjoining property for the project.

Charles Lewis, chairman of the Wellsville Democratic Central Committee, commented from the audience that they should not criticize those who were absent on the way they voted on the issue. He said since it is known how the people feel, there isn't any doubt how Council will vote.

Lewis then asked what procedure had taken place in the past and what was being done with the petitions. The matter was explained by Mayor Daugherty. Lewis then commented that the people are entitled to their right to express an opinion.

The mayor commented he was a "Doubting Thomas" when the petitions first were started. He said he did not believe the response would be as great as it was. He said it was presented a petition Monday night and obtained 30 signatures.

He presented the proposal to Council to put the issue to the people on whether or not to construct a combination building.

He said most of the city's cost would be paid by the rental fee received from the government for the Post Office section.

The proposal calls for the razing of the City Hall and purchasing adjoining property for the project.

United Local District. The post becomes vacant Aug. 1 with the retirement of Dale W. Gates after 37 years in education.

The board deferred until the next meeting Tuesday, Aug. 21, action on a transfer petition from Ralph and Shirley Kreps, who live in the northwest corner of Franklin Township. They seek transfer from Southern Local to United Local, where the children have been attending three years. The board wants to determine if their property is contiguous to the United Local District boundary.

McBride reported that only four teachers are needed to fill the county's 225-teacher staff. Beaver Local High School needs two for commercial subjects and English and Fairfield-Waterford needs a commercial teacher and music instructor.

McBride and executive heads of the four districts will visit the surplus property warehouse at Columbus on Thursday, Aug. 2.

Young Loser Finds Fun In Running

When a young lady just turning nine is willing to take the responsibility of keeping the caloric score on what she eats, she has it made!

Ida Jean Kain

Kay Miller's shining success story is bound to be an inspiration to overweight youngsters and their mothers. Here are the figures: On Nov. 7, 1961, she weighed 118½ pounds; by Dec. 29, she was down to 104 pounds, and on April 12, 1962, she weighed a slim 91½ pounds.

On the measurement score, our model's waist measurement was slimmed from 31 to 25½ inches. Starting height 4 feet 6½. Present height 4 feet 7½. Her bone structure is between medium and large.

Her mother reports, "Kay is now next to the fastest runner among the girls in her class. I am sure she must have been the slowest last year! She gets lots of good exercise now, bike riding, roller skating and kickball in the backyard."

ON THE CALORIE keeping score: "Kay no longer has to count calories. With practice she now can almost guess at what her count is for the day. She has learned to eat slowly and to drink her milk at the end of the meal.

"She watches carefully what she eats for an after school snack. I buy sugarless soda pop and low calorie ice cream — and she makes a soda. What a treat!"

To help other mothers with their overweight youngsters, let's relate some of the setbacks, when the pointer on the scales didn't budge. Following a week or two of having company, Kay gained. It was sweets...always when Kay went overboard on sweets, she either didn't lose, or gained. At this point her mother stopped baking cookies and made sure to have low calorie snacks on hand.

Congratulations to a wise and understanding mother who is helping her daughter to establish the protective pattern of eating that will lead to a lifetime of good eating habits.

The latest triumph...our slim young princess was invited to light the candles at a church wedding.

Cheers for this spirited young lady! She's a living doll!

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Mental Illness Of One Affects Family

When mental illness strikes the family — a parent, teen-ager, grandparent or more remotely related member — all the rest of the family are affected, especially the children. Perhaps hardest time for them is when, as usual, the onset of the mental illness is gradual and insidious and its symptoms are not recognized as those of mental illness. Usually the adults of the family are earlier aware of these symptoms than the children are. Yet few of these older members of the family will confer as early and promptly with their doctor about these symptoms as they would if the patient showed many of the more familiar symptoms of common physical illness.

Dr. Garry Meyers

SHOULD A doctor inform you that a relative of yours is mentally ill, it might not be easy for you to accept his diagnosis and his urging of the need for further study by a psychiatrist. You may insist that such could not be so until the patient's mental illness is far advanced.

In the meanwhile, the children have heard a lot of whispering among adults, even tales among their playmates, about the unusual or queer ways of the patient. With all the vagueness and uncertainties about the symptoms of oncoming mental illness, the children may feel more and more anxious and troubled.

Besides, they are worried over the secrecy of the whole matter and the fears and feeling of shame revealed by the older members of the family and their unwillingness to face up to realities.

Your physician may prescribe that the patient go to see a psychiatrist in private practice or to a psychiatric clinic. He may advise that your relative needs full-time psychiatric care.

YET THIS MAY not mean he must go far away from home to a public or private mental hospital. A growing number of general hospitals assume responsibility for mental ills; some have wards for private patients.

If the general hospital in your community does not accept mental patients, or if your relative does not seem to improve under the treatment he is getting, your doctor may advise that he go to a mental hospital.

There remains the big problem of what to tell the child about a relative under mental care. A good booklet, "When a Parent Is Mentally Ill: What to Say to Your Child", may be had (for 50c) from the Child Study Association of America, 9 East 89th Street, New York 28, N. Y.

About the finest publication I know, a paperback of 95 pages which I wish all who read my column would also read, is "Mental Illness, A guide for the family" by Edith M. Stern, published by the National Association for Mental Health, 10 Columbus Circle, New York 19, N. Y. (50c).

My own bulletin, "A Pledge to Mental Health," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Pastor Urges Retention For Liquor Rules

"We are trying to prevent a bad thing in West Virginia from becoming worse," a minister said of a proposed liquor control amendment due before voters this fall at a meeting Tuesday night in Weirton.

The Rev. Elwood Fleming, pastor of Moundsville Calvary Methodist Church, spoke at a joint meeting of the Hancock County Citizens Committee for Defeat of the Liquor Amendment and the WCTU of Weirton at the First Christian Church.

"This issue is a nonpartisan one, it is not a campaign for prohibition; it is a damp-wet proposition," declared Rev. Fleming, who is president of the West Virginia United Churches Alcohol Action Program of Charleston.

"We are trying to prevent a bad thing from becoming worse. There are about 140 state liquor stores operating under the present setup, and with one license issued for each 1,000 persons in the state, there is a potential of 1,800 or more outlets that would be added to the 5,000 or more places we have already where intoxicants would be sold, should the issue pass," he said.

He was introduced by Elmer Hanlin, county chairman of the committee urging defeat of the proposal.

A film, "Behind the Skyscrapers," was screened.

"You are going to have a chance to make that judgment. With your support in November, this will pass in 1963."

Also prompt in its comment was the American Medical Association. Its president, Dr. George M. Fister, said in Chicago:

"It would have been inequitable to force wage earners to pay substantially higher payroll taxes to provide health care for millions who are able to take care of themselves.

"The American Medical Association will continue its efforts to further implement and strengthen the Kerr-Mills law (which offers federal funds to states to help cover medical care for the aged under certain circumstances) and all voluntary programs to help meet health needs of the aged."

Posse Nabs Man And Girl In Slaying Of Constable

WAKEENEY, Kan. (AP) — A hitchhiker and his 17-year-old girl friend, sought three days in the slaying of a town constable, were flushed from an abandoned grain shed Tuesday.

Farmer Charley Martin, a volunteer posseman, found the couple as he poked through litter and boxes in the shed, nine miles east of here. He spotted the girl's head and ran for help.

Possemen surrounded the shed and the fugitives walked out with their hands in the air.

The pair, Harry Jack Bloomer, 29-year-old harvest worker, and Shirley Nixon, of Wilsonville, Neb. had been the objects of an extensive manhunt since Saturday, when the Wakeeney town marshal was slain and the Trego County sheriff was wounded.

Bloomer and Miss Nixon were dirty, tired and hungry. Bloomer, an ex-convict from Youngstown, Ohio, and Bloomsburg and Benton Pa., had no shirt. Insect bites mottled the tatoo work on his arms and torso.

Shirley wore khaki shorts, canvas shoes and a blouse that once was white.

The hunt ended two miles north of the spot on Interstate 70 where Al Claycamp, 37-year-old marshal, was slain. He and Sheriff Chet McAtee, 57, had picked up the young hitchhikers for questioning. They were in the back of the sheriff's car when the shooting started. Sheriff McAtee was wounded three times but is recovering.

All 4 Crewmen Found Alive In Crashed Plane

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —All four U.S. Air Force crewmen aboard a two-engine transport that crashed Sunday were found alive late today.

A rescue helicopter was unable to land at the crash site in the mountainous terrain 150 miles northeast of here. But a sling lift was lowered, on which two of the survivors were lifted to a hovering craft and taken to a field hospital at the coastal town of Nha Trang.

One of the other two survivors apparently had a broken leg, and could not use a sling. The fourth survivor stayed on the ground with his companion, and medical personnel were lowered.

None of the four men was seriously injured, U.S. authorities said.

The wreckage of the twin-engine G123 was spotted by one of the 21 planes that had been searching.

There was no indication whether any of the four airmen had survived or what caused the crash.

At present rates of use, the magazine said, the workoff of inventory won't be over until September.

Pennsy's Spokesmen, Officials Air Merger

Pennsylvania Railroad Co. officials met Tuesday night at Conway Yards with Beaver County leaders to discuss the effect on Beaver County if the ICC approves a proposed merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads.

Morton F. Smith, vice president of the Pennsy, said if the two companies are successful in merging $1½ million will be invested in enlarging the Conway diesel maintenance shop and 350 jobs will be added in diesel maintenance work.

He said Conway will become one of seven diesel maintenance terminals with a total of 500 units assigned there for maintenance. The ICC hearings will begin Aug. 20 in Washington and continue for six months to a year.

Deadline Set For Settling Airline Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eastern Air Lines has fixed tonight as the deadline for settlement of a labor dispute which has grounded its planes for 26 days.

The announcement of a final contract offer came after a day of meetings Tuesday between representatives of the airline and the striking Flight Engineers International Association. More meetings were scheduled today in Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg's office.

Eastern said if the flight engineers union doesn't accept its offer by 6 p.m. it will be made individually to the flight engineers themselves for acceptance before next Tuesday.

The airline described its proposal as an offer "which requires specific time for its acceptance."

The new proposal defines the qualifications an engineer must have to serve as the third cockpit crew member on jet aircraft. It also calls for an approximate 11 per cent average pay increase plus an additional 3 per cent increase effective next April 1.

Eastern and other major jet carriers want to reduce the number of cockpit personnel from four —three pilots and an engineer—to three. The flight engineers have insisted that the third man be a flight engineer while the airlines want the third man to have pilot training.

Kobuta Union To Drop Case

Although little progress was reported in talks Tuesday in the strike at the Koppers Co., Inc., plant at Kobuta, it was announced the union will withdraw its charge of unfair labor practices against the company.

The withdrawal of charges by Local 8-74, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, representing about 615 striking employes, followed an investigation by the National Labor Relations Board.

Donald Stewart, plant manager, said: "We have held all along that this charge had no basis in fact and therefore we are gratified to learn this outcome of the NLRB investigation was a withdrawal of the charge of the union."

During negotiations Tuesday at Pittsburgh, little progress was reported, the union said. Talks concerned part of the mixed proposal on contracting, maintenance and operating work.

Negotiations are to resume next Tuesday. Federal and state mediators have been sitting in on the talks. Supervisory employes have been operating the plant.

Deputy Lost Wallet, Fishing Called Off

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies Russell Mize and John Townsend called off their fishing expedition near the mouth of Sarasota Bay when Mize discovered he had lost his wallet. It had contained $50 and important personal papers.

Mize was watching television at home several hours later when the telephone rang. The caller identified himself as Jurgen K. Feuerherd of Sarasota. He said he and his sister had been fishing in their boat when they saw a wallet floating on the tide toward the Gulf of Mexico.

They netted it and returned it, soggy but intact, to Mize.

Gets Permission To Appeal

Soblen's Plea For Asylum Rejected By British Court

LONDON (AP) —Three high court justices refused today Dr. Robert Soblen's plea to be set free on British soil, but gave him permission to appeal the decision.

Court observers estimated the appeal—even if denied—would delay Soblen's deportation to the United States for perhaps six weeks. They estimated it would take that long to complete the process in the court of appeal.

If he loses the appeal, Dr. Soblen still would have pending a request to the Home Office for asylum as a political refugee. The Home Office has declined to give any inkling of its attitude toward this request, but it is thought unlikely it will be granted.

The high court turned down Soblen's plea to free from him detention by the Home Office under a writ of habeas corpus.

The court upheld the government contention that the 62-year-old fugitive, who fled from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, is an alien in transit who had been allowed to pause in Britain only long enough to recover from the stab wounds he inflicted on himself while en route from Israel to America.

Soblen, who jumped $100,000 bail when he fled from New York to Israel last month, is fighting for permission to remain in Britain or to go on to refuge in some other country.

A Home Office spokesman said that even if Soblen finally loses in the courts he would not be formally deported.

"The Home Office," the spokesman said, "Would simply hand him back to the airline which brought him here and the airline would have to remove him from Britain."

2 City Youths Nabbed On Car Theft Charge

A 17-year-old Glenmoor youth and a 16-year-old from Dresden Ave. are being held by Hudson, Ohio, police today after being apprehended in a car which an investigation showed was stolen from a city auto dealer's used car lot, but not reported.

Hudson police advised city officers early yesterday afternoon the two youths were seized in a 1962 two-door Chevrolet owned by Mike Turk, Inc., 415 E. 6th St.

The car was recovered before it had been reported stolen, police said. An official of the auto firm said the car was taken from the used car lot on Broadway sometime between Friday and yesterday.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing for July 31 at 9 a. m. for Harry Thomas Woolley, 906 Fairview St., on a charge of furnishing false information to the police department.

This is the third continuance in the case. When first arraigned, Woolley asked for time to secure an attorney. His counsel, Atty. Paul Tobin, then asked for a continuance to allow time to prepare the defense.

Woolley's $500 bond was continued. The affidavit states Woolley "knowingly" reported his car was stolen on Tuesday, July 10, "well knowing" it was not stolen.

Plant History Told For Club

William Pomeroy Jr., president of Wellsville China Co., discussed the history of both Wellsville China and the Sterling China Co., two of Wellsville's major industries, at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at the Hotel Wilk.

Pomeroy said Wellsville China was started about 1879 and presently is entirely owned by Sterling, but is being operated as an independent unit.

The two potteries are in competition with each other and each has its individual sales outlets, he commented. Sterling had $4 million in sales in 1960 and accounted for between 500 and 550 jobs.

Pomeroy, who is the son of William Pomeroy, president of Sterling, said the potteries anticipate holding their own in the competitive market in the future and probably will increase two to three percent in sales annually.

He said that from his own personal observation of the community, Wellsville's principal asset is its water supply. He said the city should capitalize on this potential for future industrial growth and should have a zoning commission to stabilize and control available industrial areas.

Fifteen attended. Richard Grills, president, conducted business.

The club will tour the Review plant next Tuesday afternoon.

The party will last about two and a half hours. Prior to the screening of the film "Huckleberry Finn," Nunzio Lombardozzi, Jaycee president, will present certificates to those who completed the book club requirements.

Gets Permission To Appeal

Soblen's Plea For Asylum Rejected By British Court

LONDON (AP) —Three high court justices refused today Dr. Robert Soblen's plea to be set free on British soil, but gave him permission to appeal the decision.

Court observers estimated the appeal—even if denied—would delay Soblen's deportation to the United States for perhaps six weeks. They estimated it would take that long to complete the process in the court of appeal.

If he loses the appeal, Dr. Soblen still would have pending a request to the Home Office for asylum as a political refugee. The Home Office has declined to give any inkling of its attitude toward this request, but it is thought unlikely it will be granted.

The high court turned down Soblen's plea to free from him detention by the Home Office under a writ of habeas corpus.

The court upheld the government contention that the 62-year-old fugitive, who fled from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, is an alien in transit who had been allowed to pause in Britain only long enough to recover from the stab wounds he inflicted on himself while en route from Israel to America.

Soblen, who jumped $100,000 bail when he fled from New York to Israel last month, is fighting for permission to remain in Britain or to go on to refuge in some other country.

A Home Office spokesman said that even if Soblen finally loses in the courts he would not be formally deported.

"The Home Office," the spokesman said, "Would simply hand him back to the airline which brought him here and the airline would have to remove him from Britain."

AMERICA'S ONLY FIRE-BREWED BEER

What Does Mr. K Have In Mind?

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS

Is Premier Khrushchev brewing up a new Berlin crisis?

Or is all the Khrushchevian sound and fury merely intended to impress the Stalinists with the fact that the grandest Bolshevik of them all (for the moment) has neither lost his capacity to breathe fire nor his dramatic flair for inventing justifications for such things as the forthcoming new round of Soviet nuclear tests?

If Mr. Khrushchev is about to present Mr. Kennedy with his second Berlin crisis, the Soviet leader is electing to take on a United States and a leadership that is vastly different from that which existed at the time of the somber sessions in Vienna in June, 1961.

The vast changes that have occurred in less than a year have gone largely unnoticed in this country, which is as preoccupied today with a so-called economic gap as a young senator named John F. Kennedy used to be with a so-called missile gap.

And indeed if the radically altered situation were to be set to music, the theme song might be a jingle entitled: "Whatever became of the missile gap?"

BACK IN JUNE 1961, in Vienna, our worried young President was still under the spell of his own campaign oratory in which he had said this about the missile gap: "We are rapidly approaching the period . . . in which our own offensive and defensive missile capabilities will lag so far behind those of the Soviets so as to place us in a position of great peril . . . the most critical years would appear to be 1960-1964 . . . The truth must be grasped that the old assumption that America always has superior bargaining power at the diplomatic table is a false assumption. . . ."

In the New Frontier the bells were never publicly tolled over the disappearance of the missile gap, because for one thing, it is embarrassing for an administration to admit that a major campaign issue never really existed. For there never was a missile gap.

Indeed when the new administration began analyzing the masses of inside information at its disposal, the administration decided that even the secret estimates of Soviet strength were overinflated.

It was further established that Mr. Khrushchev had been involved in a gigantic bluff. And in the last few months, there have been pictures from the spy satellite Samos that have reinforced these judgments.

Indeed, if there is a missile gap today, it is the property of Premier Khrushchev and the same goes for bombers. And while the Russians may still be somewhat ahead of the U.S. in space, there are enough Khrushchev gaps in other crucial fields to have caused a major revision in American evaluation of the West's chances of victory in the cold war.

The Khrushchev gaps include the economic lag, particularly in agriculture, and this in turn relates to the challenge of the Common Market and the newly unified Europe. For Europe's success instead of capitalist decay and fratricidal warfare creates a doctrinal gap which has great potential for ripping apart the declarations of Communism on which the Soviet empire has been built.

The Khrushchev gaps — strategic, economic, psychological, and political — are among the reasons why, for the first time, responsible New Frontiersmen are suggesting that the Communists may have passed the peak of their drive for world conquest.

Officials who only last year thought Mr. Khrushchev strong enough to push to war over Berlin are talking of the decline and fall of Communism.

ALL THIS would be pretty breathtaking except for the sobering fact that America has held positions of unquestioned predominance before and thrown it all away in fear of exercising that power. An instance is the loss of Eastern Europe to Stalin at a time when Russia was bombless, starving and in chaos.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, retired Naval Chief of Staff, has put the issue this way: "A fundamental unreality in our policy is the desire to have peace without the use of power. . . . The simple fact is that America and the West in general have a guilt complex about power and its uses, psychologically, economically and militarily.

"This guilt complex frustrates our use of every variety of power. . . . So we half use it in a compromise between dream and reality."

So in the forthcoming crises on Berlin which, as the Russians saying goes, will occur in "due time, or somewhat later," the Soviet aim will be to probe not just the balance of power but the balance of wills.

Katangans Cited By UN In Killing Of Two Women

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) —The chief of the U.N. Congo operation intimated today that two Katangan women reported killed during an attack on U.N. troop in Eliabethville may have been shot by fellow Katangans.

Robert Gardiner, of Ghana, said Tuesday's shootings apparently occurred before U.N. Indian troop manning the roadblock besieged by thousands of women had been ordered to open fire.

U.N. headquarters in New York asserted there was reason to believe the demonstrations were staged by President Moise Tshombe's secessionist Katanga government.

Tshombe accused the U.N. force of gunning down the two women and wounding a boy when several thousand Katangan women and children attacked troops manning the roadblock. The U.N. roadblocks were put up last week to halt movement of Katangan troops into the capital.

A spokesman for the U.S. State Department said in Washington that the incident was "an obviously organized, politically motivated attack on the forces of the United Nations."

He charged that "women and children appear to have been deliberately exposed to danger by Katangan authorities."

DiSalle Reveals 2 Public Health Grants To Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today two public health research grants to Ohio and posed another question for his Republican gubernatorial opponent.

The U. S. Public Health Service granted $35,000 to find ways for bolstering present services to the mentally retarded and those with cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis and vision and hearing defects.

Another grant of $20,000 will go for a study in a program to develop community services and facilities for the chronically ill and aged.

Question No. 22 for state Auditor James A. Rhodes, GOP opponent of the Democratic incumbent, asked: "Will you support programs for the care of dependent children at lower levels, existing levels or higher levels?"

Rhodes remained unresponsive to the series of questions asked by DiSalle since the primary election. The auditor said answers could be expected in the fall campaign.

What Does Mr. K Have In Mind?

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS

Is Premier Khrushchev brewing up a new Berlin crisis?

Or is all the Khrushchevian sound and fury merely intended to impress the Stalinists with the fact that the grandest Bolshevik of them all (for the moment) has neither lost his capacity to breathe fire nor his dramatic flair for inventing justifications for such things as the forthcoming new round of Soviet nuclear tests?

If Mr. Khrushchev is about to present Mr. Kennedy with his second Berlin crisis, the Soviet leader is electing to take on a United States and a leadership that is vastly different from that which existed at the time of the somber sessions in Vienna in June, 1961.

The vast changes that have occurred in less than a year have gone largely unnoticed in this country, which is as preoccupied today with a so-called economic gap as a young senator named John F. Kennedy used to be with a so-called missile gap.

And indeed if the radically altered situation were to be set to music, the theme song might be a jingle entitled: "Whatever became of the missile gap?"

BACK IN JUNE 1961, in Vienna, our worried young President was still under the spell of his own campaign oratory in which he had said this about the missile gap: "We are rapidly approaching the period . . . in which our own offensive and defensive missile capabilities will lag so far behind those of the Soviets so as to place us in a position of great peril . . . the most critical years would appear to be 1960-1964 . . . The truth must be grasped that the old assumption that America always has superior bargaining power at the diplomatic table is a false assumption. . . ."

In the New Frontier the bells were never publicly tolled over the disappearance of the missile gap, because for one thing, it is embarrassing for an administration to admit that a major campaign issue never really existed. For there never was a missile gap.

Indeed when the new administration began analyzing the masses of inside information at its disposal, the administration decided that even the secret estimates of Soviet strength were overinflated.

It was further established that Mr. Khrushchev had been involved in a gigantic bluff. And in the last few months, there have been pictures from the spy satellite Samos that have reinforced these judgments.

Indeed, if there is a missile gap today, it is the property of Premier Khrushchev and the same goes for bombers. And while the Russians may still be somewhat ahead of the U.S. in space, there are enough Khrushchev gaps in other crucial fields to have caused a major revision in American evaluation of the West's chances of victory in the cold war.

The Khrushchev gaps include the economic lag, particularly in agriculture, and this in turn relates to the challenge of the Common Market and the newly unified Europe. For Europe's success instead of capitalist decay and fratricidal warfare creates a doctrinal gap which has great potential for ripping apart the declarations of Communism on which the Soviet empire has been built.

The Khrushchev gaps — strategic, economic, psychological, and political — are among the reasons why, for the first time, responsible New Frontiersmen are suggesting that the Communists may have passed the peak of their drive for world conquest.

Officials who only last year thought Mr. Khrushchev strong enough to push to war over Berlin are talking of the decline and fall of Communism.

ALL THIS would be pretty breathtaking except for the sobering fact that America has held positions of unquestioned predominance before and thrown it all away in fear of exercising that power. An instance is the loss of Eastern Europe to Stalin at a time when Russia was bombless, starving and in chaos.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, retired Naval Chief of Staff, has put the issue this way: "A fundamental unreality in our policy is the desire to have peace without the use of power. . . . The simple fact is that America and the West in general have a guilt complex about power and its uses, psychologically, economically and militarily.

"This guilt complex frustrates our use of every variety of power. . . . So we half use it in a compromise between dream and reality."

So in the forthcoming crises on Berlin which, as the Russians saying goes, will occur in "due time, or somewhat later," the Soviet aim will be to probe not just the balance of power but the balance of wills.

Katangans Cited By UN In Killing Of Two Women

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) —The chief of the U.N. Congo operation intimated today that two Katangan women reported killed during an attack on U.N. troop in Eliabethville may have been shot by fellow Katangans.

Robert Gardiner, of Ghana, said Tuesday's shootings apparently occurred before U.N. Indian troop manning the roadblock besieged by thousands of women had been ordered to open fire.

U.N. headquarters in New York asserted there was reason to believe the demonstrations were staged by President Moise Tshombe's secessionist Katanga government.

Tshombe accused the U.N. force of gunning down the two women and wounding a boy when several thousand Katangan women and children attacked troops manning the roadblock. The U.N. roadblocks were put up last week to halt movement of Katangan troops into the capital.

A spokesman for the U.S. State Department said in Washington that the incident was "an obviously organized, politically motivated attack on the forces of the United Nations."

He charged that "women and children appear to have been deliberately exposed to danger by Katangan authorities."

66 Hogs Are Killed In Plunge Of Truck

CINCINNATI (AP)—A tractor-trailer, loaded with hogs, plunged down a 15-foot embankment near here Tuesday night and 66 of the hogs were killed. The accident occurred on U.S. 50 near the Ohio-Indiana line.

Seventy hogs were trapped in the trailer but finally were removed and loaded into other trucks. A few got loose and police had to chase them.

The two eastbound lanes of the highway were blocked for several hours until the hogs could be rescued and the tractor-trailer removed.

Three Little Robins Delivered By Truck

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — E. A. Baalman of Menlo, Kan., investigated a suspicious chirping in the rear of his cattle truck at a cross country stop.

Underneath the frame he found a nest with three little robins. Baalman left the nestlings intact and continued on to Menlo where he expected mother robin would be waiting.

Man At Cadiz Selected For Palestine Job

EAST PALESTINE — Vincent L. Cooper, principal at Cadiz High School for the last five years, has been selected as principal of East Palestine High School, school officials here announced today.

Cooper, a graduate of Wittenberg College who received a master's degree from the University of Pittsburgh, succeed H. S. Laber, who was appointed superintendent of schools in June.

Cooper, about 44, previously taught in elementary and high school posts. He is married and has a son and daughter. Cooper was selected tentatively from six applicants for the post and his resignation from the Cadiz job was accepted by the Cadiz Board of Education Tuesday night.

Other school positions filled by the local board included secretary to Laber, who begins her duties Aug. 1. Mrs. Delmar Sansenbaugher of East St., former secretary in a law office, was named to the post.

Dewey E. Minteer of Ellwood City, Pa., was named biology teacher at the high school and Mrs. Carolyn Wood of 216 E. North Ave., was named librarian. She taught at Poland last year.

Elementary teachers chosen included Mrs. Charles Hallom of Bacon Ave., who formerly taught here and in Beaver Local District; Mrs. Robert Johnston of the Negley-East Palestine Rd.; Mrs. Melvin Wilson of 897 W. Martin St., and Miss Sue Watt of 367 N. Market St.

DiSalle Reveals 2 Public Health Grants To Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced today two public health research grants to Ohio and posed another question for his Republican gubernatorial opponent.

The U. S. Public Health Service granted $35,000 to find ways for bolstering present services to the mentally retarded and those with cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis and vision and hearing defects.

Another grant of $20,000 will go for a study in a program to develop community services and facilities for the chronically ill and aged.

Question No. 22 for state Auditor James A. Rhodes, GOP opponent of the Democratic incumbent, asked: "Will you support programs for the care of dependent children at lower levels, existing levels or higher levels?"

Rhodes remained unresponsive to the series of questions asked by DiSalle since the primary election. The auditor said answers could be expected in the fall campaign.

It's Hard Work, No Glamor

State Patrolman Explains Duties

Wearing the uniform of the Ohio State Highway Patrol may appear a glamorous job, but Patrolman E. D. Wain of the Lisbon Post, a veteran of 10 years with the force, could argue strongly that it's not.

A native of East Liverpool, Patrolman Wain points out his job as one of 850 gray-and-black garbed patrolmen entails driving 50,000 miles each year, constant alertness, dedication to duty and rigorous training.

Addressing the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel, the 40-year-old patrolman discussed the job of the corps, qualifications for candidates seeking membership, and personal opinions of some traffic-connected problems in Columbiana County.

"THE HIGHWAY patrol in Ohio is charged with great responsibility," Patrolman Wain told the club, pointing out one of the state property such as mental hospitals and penitentiaries, scenes of occasional rioting.

He explained that the organization is so tightly knit and highly mobilized that 500 patrolmen, armed and ready for trouble, can be assembled in any part of Ohio on short notice.

Patrolmen must be ready for emergencies at all times and work to preserve peace and order, traffic safety and enforcement of the law, he said.

—:—

PATROLMAN Wain pointed out the Highway Patrol is different from a comparable industrial organization, in that the patrol does not have a union or representatives to hear any grievances.

"We do things the way we are told," he said.

He explained that the normal work week of a patrolman is 40 hours, but most work nine hours a day, or even 12 or 16, if necessary.

"If a man is ambitious, the 40-hour week is only a figure," he continued.

Patrolmen are not paid for any time on the job after eight hours a day, but the time is credited them at the patrolman's post. "Extra" time may also be donated to the state as free service, he explained.

—:—

MEMBERS of the patrol who are accepted as candidates are sent on to a training school on a farm south of Columbus, where they received $330 monthly, plus room, board and uniforms.

The recruits undergo 14 weeks of hardy training — plenty of calisthenics and running — and are assigned to posts throughout the state after graduating, Patrolman Wain said.

The Lisbon officer attended the recruit school when 30 and told the club he remembers the training was "really rough," with classroom and field activities starting at 8 a. m. and concluding at 9 p. m.

CANDIDATES for the patrol's training school must be 21 and not over 35 years, have a high school education, have 20-30 vision without glasses, have resided in Ohio five years, stand between 5 feet 8-inches, and 6 feet 4-inches and weigh at least 165, the speaker said in listing basic requirements.

In his wide-ranging talk, the patrolman also backed a proposal for compulsory inspection of autos, termed Route 30 the "most dangerous" road in the county and urged operators of farm equipment to exercise caution when pulling onto highways from fields.

He was introduced by Ralph A. Finley, vice president. Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, presided.

Jury Cites Negligence In Road Injury Case

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — An Ohio trucker has been declared negligent in a 1960 Kentucky traffic accident in which Mrs. Arthur E. Sands of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was seriously injured. But a U.S. District Court jury here also ruled Tuesday that Mrs. Sands' husband, whose car collided with a truck driven by Delberg Lee Hurley of Hamilton, Ohio, was also partly to blame.

The jury awarded Mrs. Sands $5,000 from Hurley's employer, Roadway Express Co., but said she must pay half of that amount back to the trucking firm because of her husband's negligence. The woman had sought damages totaling $119,500.

Kennedy Mare, 3 Ponies Give Police Workout

WEST BARNSTABLE, Mass. (AP)—Part of the Kennedy menagerie—a mare and three ponies —is back in the stable today after giving Barnstable police and volunteers a workout.

The animals, owned by Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, escaped Tuesday from a farm where they are stabled for the family's use at the nearby Kennedy estate.

The mare was quickly tethered with a clothesline by a farmer who saw her chomping apples from a tree.

The ponies cavorted about the countryside for nearly three hours before police and nearby residents rounded them up.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — An Ohio trucker has been declared negligent in a 1960 Kentucky traffic accident in which Mrs. Arthur E. Sands of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was seriously injured. But a U.S. District Court jury here also ruled Tuesday that Mrs. Sands' husband, whose car collided with a truck driven by Delberg Lee Hurley of Hamilton, Ohio, was also partly to blame.

The jury awarded Mrs. Sands $5,000 from Hurley's employer, Roadway Express Co., but said she must pay half of that amount back to the trucking firm because of her husband's negligence. The woman had sought damages totaling $119,500.

Kennedy Mare, 3 Ponies Give Police Workout

WEST BARNSTABLE, Mass. (AP)—Part of the Kennedy menagerie—a mare and three ponies—is back in the stable today after giving Barnstable police and volunteers a workout.

The animals, owned by Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, escaped Tuesday from a farm where they are stabled for the family's use at the nearby Kennedy estate.

The mare was quickly tethered with a clothesline by a farmer who saw her chomping apples from a tree.

The ponies cavorted about the countryside for nearly three hours before police and nearby residents rounded them up.

The Wellsville Board of Education will hold its regular July meeting tonight at 9.

The meeting was postponed earlier this month as some of the members were away on vacation and Earl Bake, president, was in a Steubenville hospital. Bake has returned home and will be present tonight. The session was set late as another of the members is working.

The 1963 budget will be considered. The board also will consider installation of a new lighting system for the Beacom Memorial gym and interior painting.

Mr. K Rocket Boast Discounted By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a boast by Russian Premier Khrushchev of an antimissile that "can hit a fly in space," the Defense Department still thinks U.S. missiles can penetrate to their targets.

"We think our knowledge of defensive systems is as good or better than theirs," a Pentagon spokesman said Tuesday when asked about Khrushchev's statement. "We are satisfied our missiles can penetrate."

Well Watered

Americans are using more water than ever to keep cool, clean and occupied.

Water consumption by factories, farms and homes has jumped more than 12 per cent in the past six years. The United States gulps its liquid assets at the rate of 270,000 million gallons per day.

The greatest water glutton is not the hot tennis player or suburban gardener, but American industry. Industrial cooling processes account for more than half the water consumed in this country. It takes 65,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of finished steel, 200,000 gallons for a ton of rayon and no less than 600,000 gallons for a ton of synthetic rubber.

Irrigation farmers rank as second largest users of water, followed by individuals at work, play and home.

Billions of gallons go down the drain annually from such modern conveniences as showers, sprinklers, swimming pools, dishwashers, laundromats and garbage disposals.

Sheer waste takes a heavy toll. Even during New York's severe water shortage of 1949-50, engineers estimated that 200 million gallons a day dripped from leaky faucets and pipes alone.

Police Nudge Burglar Asleep On The Job

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Police nudged Dennis Lee Corbett, 31, and told him he had fallen asleep on the job.

A doctor's office employe found Corbett snoozing in front of an open safe, burglar tools scattered around.

"I guess I just had too much out of that bottle," Corbett told an arresting officer.

Seven jockeys have won two straight Belmont Stakes. They are Jimmy Rowe, W. Simms, J. Bullman, Earl Sande, Jimmy Stout and Eric Guerin. James McLaughlin won three straight on two occasions.

Nationwide Rail Walkout Seen Aug. 16

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The nation's railroads have set Aug. 16 as the date to put into effect new work rules recommended by a presidential commission five months ago. The move is expected to trigger a nationwide strike call by the five operating brotherhoods.

Jobs of 13,000 firemen employed on diesel locomotives would be eliminated under the carriers' plan, announced Tuesday in Chicago.

Some 27,000 other firemen, working as second men in diesel locomotives cabs in freight yard service and pulling freight trains, would keep their jobs.

Officials of three of the five affected unions drafted a reply to the railroads' proposal.

The dispute, involving claimed "featherbedding" problems the carriers say has cost them $500 million a year unneeded expenditures, seems headed for the White House.

There is little likelihood of a strike in the near future by the 200,000 employes who operate the trains, the locomotive engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen, trainmen and switchmen.

President Kennedy has the power to bar a strike for at least 60 days. He has the authority to invoke emergency provisions of the Railway Labor Act and name a board to make settlement recommendations during the cooling-off period.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the carriers' joint bargaining committee, made the announcement to a Chicago news conference a day after the Railway Mediation Board formally ended its efforts on reaching a settlement in the manpower economy dispute. The unions rejected the board's arbitration offer and called for further negotiations.

Eisenhower Sailing For Europe Visit

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said in a shipboard interview today that he would carry abroad a message that the United States wants peace, but will not be pushed around.

He talked with newsmen as he and his wife and two grandchildren prepared to sail for Europe on the Queen Elizabeth.

It is his first trip abroad as a private citizen since 1928.

Eisenhower and his family plan to visit England, France, Denmark, Germany, Sweden and Culzean Castle near Prestwick, Scotland, in which the British government has allocated him space for life.

He will address a teachers conference at Stockholm on July 31.

"I hope to carry to such a body the message that we are trying to produce peace, that we are ready to be conciliatory, but not to be pushed around," Eisenhower said.

Interviewed in the huge vessel's veranda cafe, the former President said he believed most Americans are "fine ambassadors of American hopes and aspirations abroad."

He said he resented books like the "Ugly American," which dealt with difficulties in the American foreign aid program, and added:

"We try to be decent people. I think we are. I certainly believe the people of the world are thoroughly of one mind in wanting peace."

In addition to their grandchildren, Barbara Ann, 13, and David Eisenhower, 14, the Eisenhowers were accompanied by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Schulz, the former President's aide, Mrs. Schulz; Freeman Gosden of the "Amos and Andy" radio team, Mrs. Gosden, and their son, Craig, 13.

Church Groups Meet For Summitville Fete

Eighteen attended a wiener roast and joint worship session of the junior and senior Westminster Fellowship Groups of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church near Summitville Sunday night with Loretta Phillips. Mrs. Alice Burrows was leader.

Robbie Carter has returned from a week at the Father Kane camp at Lake Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meiser and children of Yuma, Ariz., have concluded a visit with friends and relatives.

Stock Market Prices Dip On Broad Front

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices declined on a broad front early today, with trading heavy and the ticker running late.

Some stocks, however, showed a tendency to recover from their worst losses. International Business Machines Corp., which was down $12 at one time, soon pared this to a $4 loss at $366.12.

At 11 a.m. the Dow Jones industrial average was down 4.23 to 573.62.

Well Watered

Americans are using more water than ever to keep cool, clean and occupied.

Water consumption by factories, farms and homes has jumped more than 12 per cent in the past six years. The United States gulps its liquid assets at the rate of 270,000 million gallons per day.

The greatest water glutton is not the hot tennis player or suburban gardener, but American industry. Industrial cooling processes account for more than half the water consumed in this country. It takes 65,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of finished steel, 200,000 gallons for a ton of rayon and no less than 600,000 gallons for a ton of synthetic rubber.

Irrigation farmers rank as second largest users of water, followed by individuals at work, play and home.

Billions of gallons go down the drain annually from such modern conveniences as showers, sprinklers, swimming pools, dishwashers, laundromats and garbage disposals.

Sheer waste takes a heavy toll. Even during New York's severe water shortage of 1949-50, engineers estimated that 200 million gallons a day dripped from leaky faucets and pipes alone.

Police Nudge Burglar Asleep On The Job

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Police nudged Dennis Lee Corbett, 31, and told him he had fallen asleep on the job.

A doctor's office employe found Corbett snoozing in front of an open safe, burglar tools scattered around.

"I guess I just had too much out of that bottle," Corbett told an arresting officer.

Seven jockeys have won two straight Belmont Stakes. They are Jimmy Rowe, W. Simms, J. Bullman, Earl Sande, Jimmy Stout and Eric Guerin. James McLaughlin won three straight on two occasions.

Nationwide Rail Walkout Seen Aug. 16

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The nation's railroads have set Aug. 16 as the date to put into effect new work rules recommended by a presidential commission five months ago. The move is expected to trigger a nationwide strike call by the five operating brotherhoods.

Jobs of 13,000 firemen employed on diesel locomotives would be eliminated under the carriers' plan, announced Tuesday in Chicago.

Some 27,000 other firemen, working as second men in diesel locomotives cabs in freight yard service and pulling freight trains, would keep their jobs.

Officials of three of the five affected unions drafted a reply to the railroads' proposal.

The dispute, involving claimed "featherbedding" problems the carriers say has cost them $500 million a year unneeded expenditures, seems headed for the White House.

There is little likelihood of a strike in the near future by the 200,000 employes who operate the trains, the locomotive engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen, trainmen and switchmen.

President Kennedy has the power to bar a strike for at least 60 days. He has the authority to invoke emergency provisions of the Railway Labor Act and name a board to make settlement recommendations during the cooling-off period.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the carriers' joint bargaining committee, made the announcement to a Chicago news conference a day after the Railway Mediation Board formally ended its efforts on reaching a settlement in the manpower economy dispute. The unions rejected the board's arbitration offer and called for further negotiations.

Eisenhower Sailing For Europe Visit

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said in a shipboard interview today that he would carry abroad a message that the United States wants peace, but will not be pushed around.

He talked with newsmen as he and his wife and two grandchildren prepared to sail for Europe on the Queen Elizabeth.

It is his first trip abroad as a private citizen since 1928.

Eisenhower and his family plan to visit England, France, Denmark, Germany, Sweden and Culzean Castle near Prestwick, Scotland, in which the British government has allocated him space for life.

He will address a teachers conference at Stockholm on July 31.

"I hope to carry to such a body the message that we are trying to produce peace, that we are ready to be conciliatory, but not to be pushed around," Eisenhower said.

Interviewed in the huge vessel's veranda cafe, the former President said he believed most Americans are "fine ambassadors of American hopes and aspirations abroad."

He said he resented books like the "Ugly American," which dealt with difficulties in the American foreign aid program, and added:

"We try to be decent people. I think we are. I certainly believe the people of the world are thoroughly of one mind in wanting peace."

In addition to their grandchildren, Barbara Ann, 13, and David Eisenhower, 14, the Eisenhowers were accompanied by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Schulz, the former President's aide, Mrs. Schulz; Freeman Gosden of the "Amos and Andy" radio team, Mrs. Gosden, and their son, Craig, 13.

Church Groups Meet For Summitville Fete

Eighteen attended a wiener roast and joint worship session of the junior and senior Westminster Fellowship Groups of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church near Summitville Sunday night with Loretta Phillips. Mrs. Alice Burrows was leader.

Robbie Carter has returned from a week at the Father Kane camp at Lake Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meiser and children of Yuma, Ariz., have concluded a visit with friends and relatives.

Stock Market Prices Dip On Broad Front

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices declined on a broad front early today, with trading heavy and the ticker running late.

Some stocks, however, showed a tendency to recover from their worst losses. International Business Machines Corp., which was down $12 at one time, soon pared this to a $4 loss at $366.12.

At 11 a.m. the Dow Jones industrial average was down 4.23 to 573.62.

Civil War Incident

Rebels Saluted Old Glory

By HAL BOYLE

WALLAND, Tenn. (AP) — In America's war of brother against brother a hundred years ago, a detachment of Confederate cavalry once saluted the U.S. Stars and Stripes—and thereby unknowingly saved their lives.

This odd and little-known incident, documented by Miss Inez Burns, a local historian, happened early in that long ago civil strife that tore the nation asunder.

Turbulent Tennessee—the last state to secede from the union and the first to be readmitted—was divided in loyalty.

The sentiment in the slave-holding flatlands was pro-Southern. But many of the tradition-minded mountaineers, whose ancestors had fought valorously for independence in the Revolutionary War, were strongly pro-Union.

Bitterness developed when Confederate troops stationed in these foothills of the Great Smoky Mountains were ordered to disarm the local populace. The angry mountaineers, who cherished their squirrel rifles as a constitutional right, began holding Union rallies and erected flagpoles from which they defiantly flew Old Glory.

Learning that a Confederate officer, a Lt. White, was to lead his troops on a gun-seizure mission, a local judge warned him that he would encounter the Stars and Stripes floating from a pole in a narrow mountain pass.

"Now, let me ask you not to disturb that flag," he advised. "The mountain men placed it there. It belongs to them, and if you leave it undisturbed, you will be kindly treated on your trip. But as sure as you touch it or interfere with it, you will have to get out of those mountains."

Later Lt. White recalled:

"I said nothing to the men about it, and as we went up the narrow defile, suddenly we came to the opening, and there floated at the top of a tall pole the Stars and Stripes in all its grandeur.

"I looked around and saw a number of the men with their guns raised as if to shoot. I halted the squad and made them a little speech, telling them to lower their guns. That was the flag under which we were born, and under which our fathers had fought, and many of them died.

"While we were engaged in efforts to establish a new government, and were fighting under a new flag, still that was the flag of our fathers, and let us honor it for its history and for the memory of the blood poured out so freely by our brave ancestors in its defense. Instead of doing it any injury, I proposed that we salute it.

"Then, following my leadership, they rode in single file, forming a circle around the pole, and we lifted our hats and reverently bowed our heads. Tears streamed down the faces of a number of men as we stood in this attitude before the old flag.

"After a brief silence the circle was broken and, forming twos, we went on. We knew nothing of anyone being in sight, but the news of our saluting the flag went faster than we traveled, and appeared to be known spontaneously all over.

"We were never treated with more hospitality and kindness by any people. They prepared us dinners of the best they had, fed our horses, took us into their homes, and were lavish in their acts of kindness. But they did not bring out their guns, and we could not find them."

What Lt. White didn't know at the time was that armed mountaineers had lurked in ambush on each side of the gap as the Confederates rode up.

Postal Auxiliary Outing Draws 16

A wiener roast featured the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary 1983 of the National Association of Letter Carriers Tuesday night in the upper pavilion at Thompson Park. Among the 16 who attended were several daughters of members.

Croquet was played, with prizes going to Mrs. Ethel Poling and Miss Karen Jones.

Mrs. Pauline Anthony, president, conducted business. Mrs. Mary Gitshier, social chairman, announced the group will attend the family basket picnic of the postal employes Aug. 19 at the park. The auxiliary will furnish the ice cream and coffee.

The opening fall meeting will be Sept. 18 at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Kiwanians Tour Gas Storage Site

Sixteen members of the Chester Kiwanis Club toured the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. gas storage field near Lisbon Tuesday night following a picnic at the site.

Conducting the tour were Thomas Ridge, club member and Division 2 superintendent of the utility, and Lloyd Holloway of near Lisbon, supervising engineer of the facility, known as the Brinker Storage Field.

The field, consisting of some 102 former gas producing wells, stores natural gas during the summer months for use during the winter. Gas is supplied from a major pipeline which runs from the Southwest to New England.

A picnic supper was served by Ridge at one of the buildings at the pumping station.

Mild Weather Slated Again For Thursday

More mild weather is in store for the East Liverpool area Thursday, the Ohio forecaster said.

The forecast calls for a sunny, mild day. Today will be marked with considerable sunshine and little temperature change. The mercury is expected to hit a high of 77-83. Tonight will be cool with a low of 58-64.

A very brief shower was noted early last night in some East Liverpool suburbs, but it didn't last long enough to make any appreciable showing in a rain gauge.

Firemen Air Plan For Fair

Advance ticket sales will be held for the annual Lawrenceville volunteer firemen's fair Sept. 5-8 at grounds adjoining the fire station.

Further plans were made Tuesday night by the firemen for the fair, at which the Continis Amusement Co. of Wheeling will provide rides.

District organizations interested in operating concession stands at the fair may register with Ray Bryan, general chairman.

Plans also were discussed for a membership drive. Men between 18 and 50 who are residents of the Fifth Precinct are eligible.

It was announced Don Chaney, operator of a Carolina Ave. service station, has granted firemen use of the station Aug. 18 with proceeds from gasoline, oil, car wash and repairs to be donated to the department.

Firemen will solicit donations for the truck fund in a canvass of the Lawrenceville area.

An addition to the fire station, consisting of an apartment, kitchen and public rest rooms should be completed in three weeks, it was reported.

Tentative plans for a family picnic in the near future were aired. Charles Wagner, trustee, presided.

Lausche And Young Back Medicare Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's two Democratic senators backed the Kennedy Administration's health care for the aged bill in Tuesday's close Senate vote which killed it—at least for this session of congress.

Sens. Frank Lausche and Stephen Young voted with the losing side against tabling the bill — which in effect means they voted for the Medicare plan. The Senate, with every member voting, tabled the controversial bill by a 52-48 count.

Symphony Unit Makes Stop At Huntington

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Using a barge for a stage and the riverbank to accomodate its audience, the American Wind Symphony performs here tonight on its annual jaunt down the Ohio River Valley.

The orchestra arrived Tuesday and attracted some 1,000 persons for its first children's program of the tour. Director Robert Boudreau invited 200 youngsters aboard the barge for a special educational session.

The conductor explained every instrument individually to the youngsters, let them hear their sound, them had the orchestra play collectively.

DiSalle Says Campaign Off To Auspicious Start

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today his re-election campaign was off to an auspicious start.

"I'm glad we are starting out as early as we are," he said after a two-day swing through Southeastern Ohio.

"It has been very fine. I can compare it with crowds four years ago. They are larger this time, more enthusiastic.

"Many of them are almost total strangers who are interested in the Democratic programs. I think it has been a wonderful experience."

The Democratic nominee wound up his motorcade tour Tuesday night with an address in Ironton and a "Meet the Press" type television broadcast to Ohio from Huntington, W. Va.

At a dinner meeting in Ironton's Hotel Marting, the governor blamed the Republican-dominated General Assembly for what he called "15 items of failure" affecting the Mental Hygiene Department.

"I have just been re-reading the department's annual report and it is a real lesson in how to be short-sighted," he said.

The 27-page report by Mental Hygiene Director Robert A. Haines emphasizes a "reversal of progress," the governor asserted. He said the report is punctuated by such phrases as: "freeze on employment" . . . "lost jobs" . . . "800 positions short" . . . "year of retrenchment" . . . "reduced activity" . . . "fewer personnel" . . . "loss of competent engineers" . . . "plans will remain shelved."

The governor cited such examples as the May 1961 freeze on employment that cost the department about 1,000 positions through attrition.

The governor noted "the incongruous position of having approximately 250 newly-acquired beds which we are unable to operate. At the same time, the need for as many as 1,000 additional beds exists if we are to meet the minimal demand placed upon the state because of the tremendous growth in juvenile delinquency."

Another major blow, the report said, was failure to receive funds for the start of a proposed Grafton Correctional Institution.

The report said the institution was a step in a long - range program to relieve overcrowding in Ohio prisons for adults.

After spending the day at his Statehouse desk, the governor plans to carry his campaign Thursday into Marysville, London, Urbana, Russells Point and Kenton.

During the coming weeks, he said, his campaign will reach into all 88 counties.

The governor's tour took him into Jackson, hometown of his Republican opponent, State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The governor said he has asked Rhodes to state his position on a series of major issues but had received only silence.

DiSalle asserted it is the duty of candidates to let the people know where they stand. Rhodes has said he would answer the questions later in the campaign.

Appeals Mount For Aid In Northeastern Drought

By The Associated Press

A northeastern drought that is drying up farm land and toasting pastures brown has entered its fourth week with mounting pleas for governmental assistance.

Some showers were predicted for parts of the afflicted area today, but many farmers insisted that even excessive rainfall could not undue damage already done.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has designated 22 counties in Pennsylvania as federal disaster areas and is considering the plight of 18 other counties in that state.

Eight New Jersey counties have been declared federal disaster areas. Farmers in a 24-county area of New York State are clamoring for similar treatment. The 24 counties represent more than seven million acres and include 38,000 of New York State's 80,000 farms.

A federal disaster area declaration makes it possible for affected farmers to obtain aid in the form of low-interest loans and permission to use lands retired in the soil bank.

Several small towns in New Jersey have placed mild controls on domestic water use because of low reservoirs. No community, however, is reported to have a dangerously low water supply.

In New Jersey, Gov. Richard J. Hughes awaited federal action aimed at relieving a drought-caused feed shortage that he says is swelling hay prices to black market proportions.

In New England, the drought situation eased somewhat last week when showers and cooler weather moved in.

However, the threat of forest fires remained constant throughout the northeast, and in many sections planes stood by with water bombs.

Probe Of Murder Shifts Following Arrest Of Pair

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Investigation of a North Hollywood, Calif., murder shifted here today following the arrest of two young men carrying papers belonging to the victim.

Police notified California authorities after finding the papers in the possession of Andrew G. Dunn, 18, of Baltimore, Md., and William L. Palmer, 25, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Dunn and Palmer were picked up Monday after a late model sports car they were driving was involved in a traffic accident. Palmer quoted his companion as saying a man had turned the car over to him on the West Coast for a trip to Baltimore.

Police said a check with California authorities disclosed the car had been leased to the murder victim, Peter Donald Fallis, 43, of Burbank, Calif. Fallis' body was found in North Hollywood Monday.

Zanesville police said they have an order to hold the pair for authorities at North Hollywood, who indicated they will come here to question Dunn and Palmer.

An autopsy revealed that Fallis had been beaten on the head and strangled.

Man Nabbed At Race Track In Theft Bid

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies said a Butler County man grabbed some bills from a Hamilton Raceway cashier Tuesday night, but he was nabbed before he could run from the track.

Deputies identified the man as Dale Sloniker, about 35, after running about 200 yards from the cashier's window.

Investigators said the incident occurred right after the last race of the night. Sloniker had $380 in his pockets when stopped, officers said.

A "pine wood" derby will be held at the July 27 pack meeting at Shelter 6 in Brady's Run Park.

County Boy Scout Group Holds Membership Drive

A concentrated membership drive throughout the Columbiana Boy Scout Council area has been launched, with a special gathering of representatives of all 103 units in the council scheduled Saturday at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

Robert Gray, district executive, said all cub packs, scout troops and explorer posts have been urged to take part in the campaign.

Details of the drive are to be presented at the meeting Saturday afternoon at 2:30, Gray said.

A program kit, containing fall quarterlies, notebooks, charts, equipment catalogs and the membership contest sheet will be distributed.

Each unit has a goal of at least five new members as part of the contest and those achieving the quota are to receive a meeting room banner. Each boy recruiting another will be given a uniform patch in the contest called "The Go Roundup."

Some 2,800 youths are presently in the Council — divided into Shawnee and Cherokee districts—and officials hope to boost the total to 3,000.

Cub Scout units are for boys 8 to 11, Boy Scouts for those 11 to 14, and Explorers for 14 to 18.

Gray said the scout program is designed to provide building of character, training for various skills and physical fitness.

Information can be obtained from Gray or any adult Scout leader.

Striking Canada Doctors Soften To Medical Plan

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP)—Saskatchewan's striking doctors were reported softening their opposition to the provincial government's compulsory medical care plan today as they prepared to put their case before the ruling Socialist party's convention.

Dr. H. D. Dalgleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, was to spell out the doctors' views before the annual convention of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (CCF).

His statement was scheduled late today.

Dalgleish declined to comment on what he would say, but he observed to newsmen that "there are other ways of instituting (medical care) insurance that have never been seriously considered by both parties."

It was learned Tuesday night that Dalgleish has been exchanging letters on the dispute with provincial Premier Woodrow Lloyd. Neither Dalgleish nor Lloyd would disclose what the letters said, but a senior official of the doctors' college attached great importance to the exchange.

A college spokesman said the medical organization had softened its position since the government put the medicare plan into effect July 1, touching off the doctors' strike.

He added, however, that the college still wants suspension of the plan, which provides prepaid compulsory medical care insurance financed by personal assessments and taxes. All citizens in the province are covered by the plan with the government setting the doctors' fees.

Ticketless Man Beaten In Tiff With Railroad

NEW YORK (AP)—David Winston, 78, a rugged individualist, pitted himself against the New Haven Railroad Tuesday. He lost, but so did the railroad.

Winston, a retired stock broker who lives in Manhattan, boarded a New Haven train for Boston. When the conductor asked for his ticket, Winston informed him that he had none and had no intention of buying one.

Winston said that for years he has been traveling without tickets on railroads and airlines. He explained that he liked to be billed afterward, as in restaurants.

The conductor said the New Haven Railroad is not a restaurant.

Winston said he saw no reason why he couldn't charge his ticket.

The conductor asked Winston to leave the train. Winston refused. The conductor insisted.

Winston, according to the conductor, became "loud and boisterous."

The conductor called railroad police, who took Winston to Manhattan arrest court where he was paroled pending trial next Tuesday on a charge of disorderly conduct.

His tiff with the conductor delayed the train to Boston 14 minutes.

Castoffs Roberts, McBride Shine

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There are some red faces in the American League today.

The causes of these embarrassing blushes are Robin Roberts of Baltimore and Ken McBride of Los Angeles, a pair of cast-off pitchers shunned by the rest of the league.

Roberts, former mainstay of the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed and then cut loose by the New York Yankees even before he had pitched a championship game. Only the Orioles were willing to gamble on him. The 35-year-old right-hander long since has rewarded their faith in him. Tuesday night the Orioles received extra dividends on their investment when Robbie pitched a seven-hitter to defeat Kansas City 3-2 for his fifth victory in eight decisions.

McBride was thrown into the grabbag by the White Sox in the American League player pool nearly two years ago and the Angels plucked him for $75,000. A 12-game winner in 1961, the 26-year-old right-hander shut out Detroit 1-0 for his ninth straight victory and tenth of the season. He has lost only three.

Th triumph gave the Angels undisputed possession of second place but left them still 3½ games behind the Yankees, who nipped Boston 1-0 for their fifth straight victory. Minnesota dumped Cleveland into third place with a 7-2 success over the Indians and Washington swept a doubleheader from the White Sox 1-0 and 7-5.

Ralph Terry pitched a four-hitter for the Yankees and rookie shortstop Tom Tresh singled home the run in the Yankees' 1-0 triumph over the Red Sox. Gene Conley matched Terry's shutout pitching until the eighth when Hector Lopez and Clete Boyer sinigled and Tresh came through with his two-out blow.

In another 1-0 decision, Dave Stenhouse of Washington bested Juan Pizarro of the White Sox in the first game of their twi-night twin bill. Rookie Don Lock homered for the only run. Stenhouse pitched a three-hitter for his eighth victory. The Senators, blanked by Early Wynn with three hits through seven innings, erupted for six runs in the eighth for their two-game sweep. Tom Cheney was the winner.

Harmon Killebrew, emerging from a batting slump, drove in four runs, three with his 22nd homer of the season, to lead the Twins to victory. Camilo Pascual went the route, holding the Indians to five hits for his 14th victory.

Locke Fires One-Hitter For Central

Keith Locke fired a one-hitter at the Dental Society giving Central Service a 2-0 decision in the Colt League Tuesday.

Tom Kraft was the only batter to hit safely off Locke who received seven-hit backing from his teammates.

Dave Bowersock smashed a triple while Dave Chetwynd had two hits in three trips to lead the winners.

Two fine fielding plays were turned in when Ron Kinsey, first baseman for the Dentists stopped a low line drive and Ralph Smith made a good catch of a foul ball.

Rookie's Debut Rocky But Has Happy End

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Lock's major league debut with the Washington Senators was somewhat rocky. But it had a happy ending.

The first time at bat he struck out. The second time he took a called third strike. In the sixth inning he called for a pop fly in short left and shortstop Ken Hamlin let Lock take it. The ball dropped for a fluke double, leaving Lock a little red faced.

In the top of the seventh Chicago pitcher Juan Pizarro kept firing the fast ball and got two strikes on Lock. Then Lock slammed the next pitch into the stands for a home run and a 1-0 victory over the White Sox. Washington also won the second game of a twi-night doubleheader, 7-3.

That's the story of Lock's initiation to the majors, but behind it is another tale—one of futility. Lock, 25, has been knocking around the minors for several years.

The closest he came to the big leagues was in the New York Yankees' spring camp for rookies.

"Two weeks a season, the last two seasons. That's it," said Lock.

"I was never happier when I heard I was leaving Richmond to play with Washington. I didn't think I'd ever make it."

Pirates Ahead Of 1960 Pace But Still In 3rd

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, who suffered a relapse last season after winning the National League pennant in 1960, moved into town today seeking to fatten up on the futile Mets while continuing baseball's strongest surge.

"We're playing at a better clip than we did two years ago," said Manager Danny Murtaugh. "Yet, we're still in third place."

Pittsburgh has won 17 of its last 21 games and lifted its season's won-lost record to 57 victories and 35 defeats. This is two games better than the Pirates' 1960 gait after 92 games. Their record then was 55-37 and they led the league by a half game over Milwaukee.

The Pirates' comeback from sixth place in 1961 can be traced directly to the comebacks of Bob Skinner, Dick Groat and Vern Law plus the continued lusty hitting of Roberto Clemente.

Skinner, who hit 15 homers and drove in 86 runs in 1960, tailed off to only three home runs and 42 RBI last year. His 1962 totals are 10 homers and 47 runs batted in with a .328 average.

Groat, the NL batting champion two years ago with .325, dipped to .275 in 1961. He's back up to .316 this season. Clemente, the defending batting champion, is hitting .349.

Law, a 20-game winner in '60, was out most of last year with a sore arm. He won only three games. This year, the veteran right-hander already owns eight victories.

Fanok Whiffs 13 Batters, Singles In Atlanta's Win

By The Associated Press

Harry Fanok may not win the most games in the International League this season, but at the rate he's going no one is going to strike out more enemy batters.

The 22-year-old right - hander has fanned 133 in 112 1-3 innings, even though he shows a mediocre 7-8 record.

Tuesday night Fanok whiffed 13 Columbus batters and added icing to the cake by breaking a 1-all tie with a two-run single to enable his Atlanta Crackers to defeat the Jets 3-1.

With the count tied 1-1 in the seventh, Fanok came up with mates on second and third. The Jets' Don Rowe fired two quick strikes past him, but Fanok caught the next pitch and sent it into left center for a single, sending home the two runners.

In other action, league leading Jacksonville won a doubleheader from Richmond 3-2 and 4-1; Rochester downed Toronto 3-2 and Syracuse turned back Buffalo 5-1.

Pony Stars Meet Beaver In Tourney

The East Liverpool Pony League All-Stars will meet Beaver Friday at 6 p. m. at Beaver in the district tournament opener. The tourney is a double elimination affair. Beaver will play at East Liverpool's Dopler Field Saturday at 2 p. m. and a second game will follow if necessary.

A work party will be held Thursday at 6 p. m. at Dopler Field and Pony League fathers are requested to attend.

Woodbine and George Bright's battled to a 3-3 tie in the Pony League Tuesday before the game was called after eight innings because of darkness. Jerry Vaughn and Nick Marchbanks, mound opponents, pitched brilliantly. Burbicks and Golden Star meet tonight. Games which were scheduled for Thursday and Friday have been reset for Monday and Tuesday because of the tournament games this week.

Cumberland Notches 13th Softball Win

League - leading New Cumberland chalked up its 13th win of the season with a 3-1 victory over East End in the City Softball League play.

Frank Paytors pitched a five-hitter for the leaders and Floyd Glover led the attack with a two-run triple and single. Jack Thayer doubled and singled for the winners.

Vern Jones doubled home the only run for the losers. Tice also clouted a double for the East End nine.

Knowles edged American Vit., 7-6, on Bob McGaffic's eighth inning home run. Campbell led the way with two hits and McCartney collected three safeties for the losers.

Patterson Wetzel downed the Owls Club, 8-1, behind Bob Williams. Jack Gallagher smashed two home runs for the winners.

The fastest swimming fish in the world is the sailfish which has been clocked at speeds as high as 70 miles per hour.

Campbell Pitches, Bats Locals To Tourney Win

Righthander Bob Campbell pitched and batted the East Liverpool Merchants to a 6-2 victory in the New Castle tournament Tuesday night over Woodale.

The local entry has lost one game in the double elimination affair.

Campbell hurled a three-hitter and fanned five batters as he and his teammates banged out 12 hits. Campbell homered, tripled and singled, driving in three runs. His home run traveled over the 375-foot mark in left center field with two mates on base.

G. Hughes also had a perfect night at the plate with a triple double and single in three trips. Bob Hobbs belted a triple and single in three appearances at the plate.

Rightfielder Don Prentice made a great try for a fly ball and crashed into the fence and was injured slightly.

The Merchants return to New Castle Thursday night and meet Columbiana in a County - City League game today at 6 p. m. at Patterson Field.

Creaturo's Gain Bowling Crown In Mixed League

Creaturo's won the Monday Mixed Bowling League title and team members were honored at a banquet Saturday night at the Travelers Hotel. The runnerup team in the league was Comparetta's.

The individual high average for women was posted by Ann Creaturo, captain of the winning team who maintained a 159 mark and also rolled high scratch game for the women with a 212. High average for men went to Dave McFaul with 172 along with a high scratch game of 268 and high game with handicap of 275. M. McIntosh led the women's individual high game with handicap showing a 220.

McFaul had the high three-game series with 618 while Cartwright led the women in this department with a 550.

Long Homer Clouted In Slow Pitch

Outfielder Ed Pack belted the longest home run of the year in one of two Slow Pitch League softball games Tuesday night at Thompson Park.

The East End slugger's blast went deep into left field, farther than any homer hit in the league this year. Pack's homer helped East End gain a 6-4 victory over Mets 22. Daniels went 3-for-3 for the winners. Boley was the losing pitcher.

In the first game, the Collegians trimmed Dresden A. C., 16-8, with Jim Clunk chalking up his third mound victory and getting four hits to boot. The Collegians are tied with American Billiards for first place both having 4-0 records.

Doc Sprouse homered with one runner aboard, and Bill Smith had three hits for the Collegians. Mike Russell was the losing pitcher. Harley Fisher homered and Wilson had three hits, including a triple, for Dresden.

Wright Hurls 1-Hit Game In Easy Victory

Bill Wright hurled a one hitter as Lawrenceville ran wild in a 29-0 rout of Frankfort in the South Side Hot Stove League's Senior Division, Tuesday.

Gary Cashdollar homered for the Lawrenceville nine.

Angels' McBride Wins 9th In Row

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Bill Rigney has pointedly declined all year to single out any one performer in the astonishing play of Los Angeles' angry young Angels.

But Rigney could make an exception today in the case of his 26-year-old right-hander—Ken McBride.

The husky 6-footer has won nine straight games and Tuesday night pitched his third shutout of the year, 1-0 over Detroit.

McBride has hardly been overwhelmed by his supporting cast because all three shutouts were by 1-0 scores—at Chicago April 12, on four hits, and the White Sox here on seven hits, June 6.

Against the Tigers the Alabama-born Clevelander yielded only three singles.

Ken is one of the prime supports to the oft-made query, of what holds up the Angels. He now has hurled two complete-game wins in a row and has traveled the distance in five of his 21 starts. He is the idol of the Angels' bullpen and now has a scoreless string of 12 innings.

Nicklaus, Arnie Paired Again

Palmer Seeks 3rd Major Crown In PGA Tomorrow

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) —Arnold Palmer, the one big Injun chief on this golf course where every hole has an Indian name, faces 171 little Indians Thursday in the opening round of the 44th PGA championship.

Some could qualify as chiefs in their own right—National Open champion Jack Nicklaus, for example, or defending champion Jerry Barber, Gary Player, Billy Casper, Gene Littler, Jay Hebert or a dozen or so others who could win almost any tournament.

But no one in recent years has dominated professional golf to the extent that Palmer does. He has to be tabbed as favorite every time he starts. So far this year Palmer has won the British Open title—only last week—the Masters and five other U.S. tournaments and lost the U.S. Open title in a playoff to Nicklaus.

An oddity of the pairings set these two out together for the first two rounds over the 7,045-yard, par 35-35—70 Aronomink course in Philadelphia's "Main Line" suburban area. They also played together in the National Open and in the Western Open. Nicklaus, who had an unhappy week in Scotland while Palmer was registering his latest victory, professes to be delighted.

"If you can play with Palmer and stay even with him or ahead of him, you know you're doing pretty well. He's never far behind," said the blond Ohio youngster.

Wismer Pays Fired Baugh

NEW YORK (AP) — Sammy Baugh has joined the thin line of coaches and managers, including Casey Stengel, who have been paid for not running a ball club.

Slingin' Sam has nothing but the best to say about the boys he left behind on the New York Titans of the American Football League. After coaching the Titans for two years, Baugh will be paid off in full—$20,000—for the last year of his contract.

"They have better material and a better club than we had last year," Baugh said Tuesday when he and owner Harry Wismer smoked the peace pipe in public at a news conference.

Although Baugh hadn't heard from Wismer since the next-to-last game of the 1961 season and had reported to training camp at East Stroudsburg, Pa., without any official notice of his firing, all was sweetness and light.

"We're both good friends," said Wismer. "Everything worked out all right. Sammy will be paid in full for the year."

"I've always liked Harry," said Baugh. "We've had our little differences but I've enjoyed working with the Titans."

How about Baugh? What's next?

"I like this league. I'd like to stay in it. I wouldn't mind a college job if it was close to home. But I'd prefer the pros."

St. Ann's, Orchard Grove Cop Victories

Knute Shields stroked three hits to drive in five runs in St. Ann's 10-4 victory over Glenmoor U. P. Tuesday in the YMCA-Church League. Joe Presutti was the winning hurler with F. Jones the loser.

Another contest found, Orchard Grove defeating Oakland Methodist, 6-3, with Morris the winning hurler.

New Zealand Golfer Leads French Open

PARIS (AP) — Southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand held a slim two-stroke lead today going into the final two rounds of the French Open Golf Championship.

Charles fired a 7-under par 65 Tuesday, which combined with his first-round 69, gave him a 134 at the halfway point—two strokes better than Peter Thomson of Australia.

Sebastian Miguel of Spain and Alan Murray of Australia were tied for third with 137, while defending champion Kel Nagle of Australia was tied with three others with a 141.

The field was cut to the low 50 and only two Americans made the 152 cutoff. Don Essig, an Indianapolis pro serving with the Air Force here, had a 77-71—148 and William Castleman of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., had a 76-76—152.

Brewer Becomes 21st Of Browns To Sign

CLEVELAND (AP) — Johnny Brewer, the 6-foot-3 sophomore end who came from Mississippi and is switching from defense to offense this season, is the 21st member of the Cleveland Browns to sign for the 1962 National Football League campaign.

The Browns' coaching staff is high on the 232-pound Brewer. "He could be a real good one," said coach Paul Brown. "In our system, the slot end is a key blocker so Brewer's size and strength will be a big help to Jim Brown and Ernie Davis."

Polar bears have been known to swim 300 miles between ice floes.

County Boy Scout Group Holds Membership Drive

A concentrated membership drive throughout the Columbiana Boy Scout Council area has been launched, with a special gathering of representatives of all 103 units in the council scheduled Saturday at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

Robert Gray, district executive, said all cub packs, scout troops and explorer posts have been urged to take part in the campaign.

Details of the drive are to be presented at the meeting Saturday afternoon at 2:30, Gray said.

A program kit, containing fall quarterlies, notebooks, charts, equipment catalogs and the membership contest sheet will be distributed.

Each unit has a goal of at least five new members as part of the contest and those achieving the quota are to receive a meeting room banner. Each boy recruiting another will be given a uniform patch in the contest called "The Go Roundup."

Some 2,800 youths are presently in the Council — divided into Shawnee and Cherokee districts— and officials hope to boost the total to 3,000.

Cub Scout units are for boys 8 to 11, Boy Scouts for those 11 to 14, and Explorers for 14 to 18.

Gray said the scout program is designed to provide building of character, training for various skills and physical fitness.

Information can be obtained from Gray or any adult Scout leader.

Striking Canada Doctors Soften To Medical Plan

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP)—Saskatchewan's striking doctors were reported softening their opposition to the provincial government's compulsory medical care plan today as they prepared to put their case before the ruling Socialist party's convention.

Dr. H. D. Dalgleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, was to spell out the doctors' views before the annual convention of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (CCF).

His statement was scheduled late today.

Dalgleish declined to comment on what he would say, but he observed to newsmen that "there are other ways of instituting (medical care) insurance that have never been seriously considered by both parties."

It was learned Tuesday night that Dalgleish has been exchanging letters on the dispute with provincial Premier Woodrow Lloyd. Neither Dalgleish nor Lloyd would disclose what the letters said, but a senior official of the doctors' college attached great importance to the exchange.

A college spokesman said the medical organization had softened its position since the government put the medicare plan into effect July 1, touching off the doctors' strike.

He added, however, that the college still wants suspension of the plan, which provides prepaid compulsory medical care insurance financed by personal assessments and taxes. All citizens in the province are covered by the plan with the government setting the doctors' fees.

Ticketless Man Beaten In Tiff With Railroad

NEW YORK (AP)—David Winston, 78, a rugged individualist, pitted himself against the New Haven Railroad Tuesday. He lost, but so did the railroad.

Winston, a retired stock broker who lives in Manhattan, boarded a New Haven train for Boston. When the conductor asked for his ticket, Winston informed him that he had none and had no intention of buying one.

Winston said that for years he has been traveling without tickets on railroads and airlines. He explained that he liked to be billed afterward, as in restaurants.

The conductor said the New Haven Railroad is not a restaurant.

Winston said he saw no reason why he couldn't charge his ticket.

The conductor asked Winston to leave the train. Winston refused. The conductor insisted.

Winston, according to the conductor, became "loud and boisterous."

The conductor called railroad police, who took Winston to Manhattan arrest court where he was paroled pending trial next Tuesday on a charge of disorderly conduct.

His tiff with the conductor delayed the train to Boston 14 minutes.

Cincy Cuts Dodgers' Lead Over Giants To One Game

Musial's HR Nets St. Louis Victory

By The Associated Press

You can get an argument on whether expansion was a good thing for the National League, but you won't get it from the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Phils, who tied a record for futility last year, are thriving on the expansion clubs. Tuesday night they took their ninth and tenth straight from the sagging Houston Colts, who have yet to beat them. The scores were 3-0 and 8-2. The twi-night doubleheader loss ran the Houston record to 20 losses in the last 23 games.

At the other end of the league standings, the leading Los Angeles Dodgers had their troubles, too.

Sore-handed Sandy Koufax lasted only an inning against the Cincinnati Reds and gave up two runs before he retired with a blister on the forefinger of his left hand. The Reds went on to a 7-5 victory, cutting the Dodgers' lead over the San Francisco Giants to one game.

The Giants pushed over a run without a hit in the ninth inning to beat Milwaukee 4-3.

Ageless Stan Musial cracked a three-run homer to give the St. Louis Cardinals a victory over the Chicago Cubs, 8-6. The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Mets were not scheduled.

Koufax' difficulties dealt a blow to the Dodgers. The great left hander has been suffering from a mysterious numbness in his pitching hand for about a month. He has not been able to finish a game since July 4, when he beat the Phillies, 16-1.

The Braves were in a give-away mood against the Giants. With Warren Spahn on the mound, Mack Jones misplayed a line drive by Willie Mays into a double in the first inning and Orlando Cepeda followed with a two-out homer. Felipe Alou added a homer in the seventh.

Musial plastered his three-run homer in the sixth inning with the Cardinals trailing 5-4. It was the 13th of the season and 457th of his career. Larry Jackson, hurt by a leaky defense, got the victory although Lindy McDaniel worked the last three innings, giving up a homer to Ernie Banks, his 23rd.

Johnny Callison homered for the Phils as they shut out the Colts in the first game behind Jack Hamilton, who went the first seven, and Jack Baldschun. Frank Torre was the hitting star in the second game with two singles and a triple, as Cal McLish won his sixth game with relief help from Dennis Bennett.

Braves Fail To Support Spahn And Hurling Staff

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee pitchers, headed by southpaw great Warren Spahn, have plenty of grounds for a non-support suit against their hitters and fielders.

The Braves' give-way program is reaching new heights.

The San Francisco Giants combined homers by Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou with the weakness of the Braves in the field for a 4-3 victory Tuesday night to move within one game of National League leading Los Angeles, 7-5 loser to Cincinnati.

Spahn, who has been given only 19 runs by his mates in 11 losses, failed in a bid for his ninth triumph of the season and No. 318 of his brilliant career. However, he escaped the defeat.

The Giants scored the winning run in the ninth without a hit against reliever Claude Raymond. Cepeda drew a walk, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored as rookie Amado Samuel let Harvey Kuenn's grounder go through his legs for a two-base error.

Spahn, the 41-year-old dean of the Milwaukee pitching staff, declined to criticize his lack of support, which included a misjudged line drive by center fielder Mack Jones just before Cepeda's 20th homer in the first inning. Willie Mays got a double as Jones watched the ball sail over his head.

"Any time a pitcher is given three runs he has no reason to complain," Spahn said philosophically. "I wanted to bounce the ball up the plate to Cepeda, especially with first base open, but I got it over somehow and he belted it. Alou hit a changeup which hung waist high."

In the stretch, Rivers Bend was overtaken at the eighth pole by Penny's First and just as that one was in the clear with Kenny Pichette driving hard, Rivers Bend stumbled and fell throwing Jockey Albert Florio. FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Between Japanese beetles, oat bugs, poison ivy and what have you, this is the most miserable time of the year to enjoy the outdoors. The period is commonly referred to as "dog days". The tiniest little scratch or insect bite seems to be 10 times worse than any other time of the year.

I have a fungus of some sort, which the doctor said could have been contacted going through the bushes. At any rate I have been out of circulation for two weeks and the end is not yet in sight. The fungus is something like poison ivy, but about 10 times more vicious.

VACATIONERS coming back from Canada report bass fishing in the Trent River area as fabulous.

There's something about this season that also has provided good bass fishing right in our own area. Seems that bass have been on a rampage everywhere. Now if you are a smart man, figure the seasons or whatever the conditions were that have provided good fishing and you will know something probably no one else knows. It stands to reason the early spring and dry weather has something to do with it.

The pollution situation in Beaver Creek near Negley remains the same.

The strip miners apparently have finished their operations and removed the pipelines that they were pumping mine water into the creek and there is now a steady flow of mine water flowing down the little drainage area, which has all the earmarks of a continuous source of polution that might ruin this section of the north fork of Beaver Creek forever.

RIGHT ABOVE this source is another pipeline flowing out of Pennsylvania into the same drainage area that is equally as bad. There also is seepage coming out of the hillside in Pennsylvania from some source that is most undesirable.

I insist, if the two main sources of bad water are stopped in Ohio and Pennsylvania, the problem will be licked. This little creek or drainage area probably would be a dry run but for the supply of what appears to be acid mine wastes that provides an unhealthy current of pollution.

Around Irondale, Little Yellow Creek is a mess. Go see for yourself. When a game protector reports these conditions he has done his duty. He does not have the power of arrest for pollution.

Kiger Named Manager Of SS All-Stars

During a special meeting of junior managers of the South Side Hot Stove League Tuesday night to select personnel for an All-Star team, John Kiger of Newell was elected manager.

Coaches named were John Petkovich of Hookstown and William (Bud) Green of Shippingport. The All-Star team, made up of boys of the league's seven districts, was selected and will be announced Aug. 1, the last day of the regular season play.

The first practice of the All-Star team will be Aug. 4 at the Hookstown American Legion Field.

The team will participate in a tournament which starts Aug. 13 at Moon Run Field in Robinson Township, sponsored by the Robinson Township Lions Club for the benefit of the blind.

South Side has not received its tournament schedule yet. One of the teams it will face though will be Sto-Ken-Rox, a McKeesport-Stowe Township team which won last year's tournament.

The South Side Athletic Club, sponsors of the South Side Hot Stove League, will hold a regular meeting July 24 at American Legion Post 952 near Hookstown.

The junior managers held their meeting at the Legion hall last night.

Castoffs Roberts, McBride Shine

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There are some red faces in the American League today.

The causes of these embarrassing blushes are Robin Roberts of Baltimore and Ken McBride of Los Angeles, a pair of cast-off pitchers shunned by the rest of the league.

Roberts, former mainstay of the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed and then cut loose by the New York Yankees even before he had pitched a championship game. Only the Orioles were willing to gamble on him. The 35-year-old right-hander long since has rewarded their faith in him. Tuesday night the Orioles received extra dividends on their investment when Robbie pitched a seven-hitter to defeat Kansas City 3-2 for his fifth victory in eight decisions.

McBride was thrown into the grabbag by the White Sox in the American League player pool nearly two years ago and the Angels plucked him for $75,000. A 12-game winner in 1961, the 26-year-old right-hander shut out Detroit 1-0 for his ninth straight victory and tenth of the season. He has lost only three.

Th triumph gave the Angels undisputed possession of second place but left them still 3½ games behind the Yankees, who nipped Boston 1-0 for their fifth straight victory. Minnesota dumped Cleveland into third place with a 7-2 success over the Indians and Washington swept a doubleheader from the White Sox 1-0 and 7-5.

Ralph Terry pitched a four-hitter for the Yankees and rookie shortstop Tom Tresh singled home the run in the Yankees' 1-0 triumph over the Red Sox. Gene Conley matched Terry's shutout pitching until the eighth when Hector Lopez and Clete Boyer sihgled and Tresh came through with his two-out blow.

In another 1-0 decision, Dave Stenhouse of Washington bested Juan Pizarro of the White Sox in the first game of their twi-night twin bill. Rookie Don Lock homered for the only run. Stenhouse pitched a three-hitter for his eighth victory. The Senators, blanked by Early Wynn with three hits through seven innings, erupted for six runs in the eighth for their two-game sweep. Tom Cheney was the winner.

Harmon Killebrew, emerging from a batting slump, drove in four runs, three with his 22nd homer of the season, to lead the Twins to victory. Camilo Pascual went the route, holding the Indians to five hits for his 14th victory.

Angels' McBride Wins 9th In Row

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Manager Bill Rigney has pointedly declined all year to single out any one performer in the astonishing play of Los Angeles' angry young Angels.

But Rigney could make an exception today in the case of his 26-year-old right-hander—Ken McBride.

The husky 6-footer has won nine straight games and Tuesday night pitched his third shutout of the year, 1-0 over Detroit.

McBride has hardly been overwhelmed by his supporting cast because all three shutouts were by 1-0 scores—at Chicago April 12, on four hits, and the White Sox here on seven hits, June 6.

Against the Tigers the Alabama-born Clevelander yielded only three singles.

Ken is one of the prime supports to the oft-made query, of what holds up the Angels. He now has hurled two complete-game wins in a row and has traveled the distance in five of his 21 starts. He is the idol of the Angels' bullpen and now has a scoreless string of 12 innings.

Locke Fires One-Hitter For Central

Keith Locke fired a one-hitter at the Dental Society giving Central Service a 2-0 decision in the Colt League Tuesday.

Tom Kraft was the only batter to hit safely off Locke who received seven-hit backing from his teammates.

Dave Bowersock smashed a triple while Dave Chetwynd had two hits in three trips to lead the winners.

Two fine fielding plays were turned in when Ron Kinsey, first baseman for the Dentists stopped a low line drive and Ralph Smith made a good catch of a foul ball.

Rookie's Debut Rocky But Has Happy End

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Lock's major league debut with the Washington Senators was somewhat rocky. But it had a happy ending.

The first time at bat he struck out. The second time he took a called third strike. In the sixth inning he called for a pop fly in short left and shortstop Ken Hamlin let Lock take it. The ball dropped for a fluke double, leaving Lock a little red faced.

In the top of the seventh Chicago pitcher Juan Pizarro kept firing the fast ball and got two strikes on Lock. Then Lock slammed the next pitch into the stands for a home run and a 1-0 victory over the White Sox. Washington also won the second game of a twi-night doubleheader, 7-3.

That's the story of Lock's initiation to the majors, but behind it is another tale—one of futility. Lock, 25, has been knocking around the minors for several years.

The closest he came to the big leagues was in the New York Yankees' spring camp for rookies.

"Two weeks a season, the last two seasons. That's it," said Lock.

"I was never happier when I heard I was leaving Richmond to play with Washington. I didn't think I'd ever make it."

Pirates Ahead Of 1960 Pace But Still In 3rd

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, who suffered a relapse last season after winning the National League pennant in 1960, moved into town today seeking to fatten up on the futile Mets while continuing baseball's strongest surge.

"We're playing at a better clip than we did two years ago," said Manager Danny Murtaugh. "Yet, we're still in third place."

Pittsburgh has won 17 of its last 21 games and lifted its season's won-lost record to 57 victories and 35 defeats. This is two games better than the Pirates' 1960 gait after 92 games. Their record then was 55-37 and they led the league by a half game over Milwaukee.

The Pirates' comeback from sixth place in 1961 can be traced directly to the comebacks of Bob Skinner, Dick Groat and Vern Law plus the continued lusty hitting of Roberto Clemente.

Skinner, who hit 15 homers and drove in 86 runs in 1960, tailed off to only three home runs and 42 RBI last year. His 1962 totals are 10 homers and 47 runs batted in with a .328 average.

Groat, the NL batting champion two years ago with .325, dipped to .275 in 1961. He's back up to .316 this season. Clemente, the defending batting champion, is hitting .349.

Law, a 20-game winner in '60, was out most of last year with a sore arm. He won only three games. This year, the veteran right-hander already owns eight victories.

Fanok Whiffs 13 Batters, Singles In Atlanta's Win

By The Associated Press

Harry Fanok may not win the most games in the International League this season, but at the rate he's going no one is going to strike out more enemy batters.

The 22-year-old right - hander has fanned 133 in 112 1-3 innings, even though he shows a mediocre 7-8 record.

Tuesday night Fanok whiffed 13 Columbus batters and added icing to the cake by breaking a 1-all tie with a two-run single to enable his Atlanta Crackers to defeat the Jets 3-1.

With the count tied 1-1 in the seventh, Fanok came up with mates on second and third. The Jets' Don Rowe fired two quick strikes past him, but Fanok caught the next pitch and sent it into left center for a single, sending home the two runners.

In other action, league leading Jacksonville won a doubleheader from Richmond 3-2 and 4-1; Rochester downed Toronto 3-2 and Syracuse turned back Buffalo 5-1.

Games which were scheduled for Thursday and Friday have been reset for Monday and Tuesday because of the tournament games this week.

The fastest swimming fish in the world is the sailfish which has been clocked at speeds as high as 70 miles per hour.

Campbell Pitches, Bats Locals To Tourney Win

Righthander Bob Campbell pitched and batted the East Liverpool Merchants to a 6-2 victory in the New Castle tournament Tuesday night over Woodale.

The local entry has lost one game in the double elimination affair.

Campbell hurled a three-hitter and fanned five batters as he and his teammates banged out 12 hits. Campbell homered, tripled and singled, driving in three runs. His home run traveled over the 375-foot mark in left center field with two mates on base.

G. Hughes also had a perfect night at the plate with a triple double and single in three trips. Bob Hobbs belted a triple and single in three appearances at the plate.

Rightfielder Don Prentice made a great try for a fly ball and crashed into the fence and was injured slightly.

The Merchants return to New Castle Thursday night and meet Columbiana in a County - City League game today at 6 p. m. at Patterson Field.

McIntosh led the women's individual high game with handicap showing a 220.

Long Homer Clouted In Slow Pitch

Outfielder Ed Pack belted the longest home run of the year in one of two Slow Pitch League softball games Tuesday night at Thompson Park.

The East End slugger's blast went deep into left field, farther than any homer hit in the league this year. Pack's homer helped East End gain a 6-4 victory over Mets 22. Daniels went 3-for-3 for the winners. Boley was the losing pitcher.

In the first game, the Collegians trimmed Dresden A. C., 16-8, with Jim Clunk chalking up his third mound victory and getting four hits to boot. The Collegians are tied with American Billiards for first place both having 4-0 records.

Doc Sprouse homered with one runner aboard, and Bill Smith had three hits for the Collegians. Mike Russell was the losing pitcher. Harley Fisher homered and Wilson had three hits, including a triple, for Dresden.

Palmer Seeks 3rd Major Crown In PGA Tomorrow

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) —Arnold Palmer, the one big Injun chief on this golf course where every hole has an Indian name, faces 171 little Indians Thursday in the opening round of the 44th PGA championship.

Some could qualify as chiefs in their own right—National Open champion Jack Nicklaus, for example, or defending champion Jerry Barber, Gary Player, Billy Casper, Gene Littler, Jay Hebert or a dozen or so others who could win almost any tournament.

But no one in recent years has dominated professional golf to the extent that Palmer does. He has to be tabbed as favorite every time he starts. So far this year Palmer has won the British Open title—only last week—the Masters and five other U.S. tournaments and lost the U.S. Open title in a playoff to Nicklaus.

An oddity of the pairings set these two out together for the first two rounds over the 7,045-yard, par 35-35—70 Aronomink course in Philadelphia's "Main Line" suburban area. They also played together in the National Open and in the Western Open. Nicklaus, who had an unhappy week in Scotland while Palmer was registering his latest victory, professes to be delighted.

"If you can play with Palmer and stay even with him or ahead of him, you know you're doing pretty well. He's never far behind," said the blond Ohio youngster.

Wismer Pays Fired Baugh

NEW YORK (AP) — Sammy Baugh has joined the thin line of coaches and managers, including Casey Stengel, who have been paid for not running a ball club.

Slingin' Sam has nothing but the best to say about the boys he left behind on the New York Titans of the American Football League. After coaching the Titans for two years, Baugh will be paid off in full—$20,000—for the last year of his contract.

"They have better material and a better club than we had last year," Baugh said Tuesday when he and owner Harry Wismer smoked the peace pipe in public at a news conference.

Although Baugh hadn't heard from Wismer since the next-to-last game of the 1961 season and had reported to training camp at East Stroudsburg, Pa., without any official notice of his firing, all was sweetness and light.

"We're both good friends," said Wismer. "Everything worked out all right. Sammy will be paid in full for the year."

"I've always liked Harry," said Baugh. "We've had our little differences but I've enjoyed working with the Titans."

How about Baugh? What's next?

"I like this league. I'd like to stay in it. I wouldn't mind a college job if it was close to home. But I'd prefer the pros."

New Zealand Golfer Leads French Open

PARIS (AP) — Southpaw Bob Charles of New Zealand held a slim two-stroke lead today going into the final two rounds of the French Open Golf Championship.

Charles fired a 7-under par 65 Tuesday, which combined with his first-round 69, gave him a 134 at the halfway point—two strokes better than Peter Thomson of Australia.

Sebastian Miguel of Spain and Alan Murray of Australia were tied for third with 137, while defending champion Kel Nagle of Australia was tied with three others with a 141.

The field was cut to the low 50 and only two Americans made the 152 cutoff. Don Essig, an Indianapolis pro serving with the Air Force here, had a 77-71—148 and William Castleman of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., had a 76-76—152.

Brewer Becomes 21st Of Browns To Sign

CLEVELAND (AP) — Johnny Brewer, the 6-foot-3 sophomore end who came from Mississippi and is switching from defense to offense this season, is the 21st member of the Cleveland Browns to sign for the 1962 National Football League campaign.

The Browns' coaching staff is high on the 232-pound Brewer. "He could be a real good one," said coach Paul Brown. "In our system, the slot end is a key blocker so Brewer's size and strength will be a big help to Jim Brown and Ernie Davis."

Polar bears have been known to swim 300 miles between ice floes.

$1,000 Bond Set For Youth

An 18-year-old city youth was bound to the Grand Jury under $1,000 bond after waiving a preliminary hearing this morning in Municipal Court on a charge of burglary of the downtown warehouse of a plumbing and heating concern.

His 21-year-old companion entered an innocent plea on the same charge and requested a hearing, which was set for next Wednesday at 9 a. m.

William H. Clendenning, 18, of 129½ W. 6th St. is being held in City jail in lieu of the bond after waiving the hearing. He entered a plea of not guilty.

Thomas Wilford Moore, 21, of 244 W. 5th St. is free on $500 bond on the same charge.

The two were caught early Sunday loading hundreds of pounds of metal into their auto after breaking and entering the warehouse of the Hall Plumbing & Heating Co., located at 130 Rural Ln., police said.

They were apprehended by Patrolman Paul E. Carter, who was on foot patrol.

When first arraigned in court, Moore was represented by Atty. George Aronson, who asked a continuance to prepare the defense. He requested a minimum bond, declaring it was Moore's first offense.

Wellsville's Firemen Help Ailing Youngster

Wellsville volunteer firemen proved Tuesday night they are ready for any emergency, even when they are many miles from home.

The volunteers' emergency truck was entered in a parade at Bellevue, near Pittsburgh, when a Donora girl became ill in the line of march.

The firemen pulled the truck from the parade and rushed her to a hospital. Serving on the unit were Charles Leatherberry, Dave Lanam and Richard Burns.

The firemen said they were told by hospital authorities the girl had appendicitis.

It's Not Indian, But 'PK' Is Okay

AUBURNDALE, Fla. (AP) — A move by a group of residents to give Pilaklakaha Ave. a less tongue - twisting name brought instant response from those who want to retain such Indian names in Florida.

Mayor Fred Jones sadi, "What would Florida be without Tallahassee, the Caloosahatchee River, and towns like Istachatta?" Auburndale would fold with Pilaklakaha Ave., quoth the mayor.

Jones said for those who couldn't pronounce the name "PK Ave." would get them there.

T.S.&T. Captures Crown In Little Minor League

T.S.&T., held to one hit, "walked" to the championship of the Little Minor League by downing Rogers Drive-In, 9-7, Tuesday at the Thompson Park Field.

T.S.&T. made it two straight in the best two-out-of-three playoff series.

Although only coming up with one hit off G. Kupchinsky, T.S.&T. took advantage of 11 walks given up by the Rogers' hurler.

The new champs trailed, 6-1, going into the fifth inning when they came up with eight big markers to put the victory away.

While Kupchinsky was touched with wildness he still managed to fan 10 batters. R. Seevers, the winning pitcher, fanned 10 and gave up four hits while walking six.

S. Murray stroked the lone safety for T.S.&T. Kupchinsky had two of his team's four hits.

Musial's HR Nets St. Louis Victory

By The Associated Press

You can get an argument on whether expansion was a good thing for the National League, but you won't get it from the Philadelphia Phillies.

The Phils, who tied a record for futility last year, are thriving on the expansion clubs. Tuesday night they took their ninth and tenth straight from the sagging Houston Colts, who have yet to beat them. The scores were 3-0 and 8-2. The twi-night doubleheader loss ran the Houston record to 20 losses in the last 23 games.

At the other end of the league standings, the leading Los Angeles Dodgers had their troubles, too.

Sore-handed Sandy Koufax lasted only an inning against the Cincinnati Reds and gave up two runs before he retired with a blister on the forefinger of his left hand. The Reds went on to a 7-5 victory, cutting the Dodgers' lead over the San Francisco Giants to one game.

The Giants pushed over a run without a hit in the ninth inning to beat Milwaukee 4-3.

Ageless Stan Musial cracked a three-run homer to give the St. Louis Cardinals a victory over the Chicago Cubs, 8-6. The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Mets were not scheduled.

Koufax' difficulties dealt a blow to the Dodgers. The great left hander has been suffering from a mysterious numbness in his pitching hand for about a month. He has not been able to finish a game since July 4, when he beat the Phillies, 16-1.

The Braves were in a give-away mood against the Giants. With Warren Spahn on the mound, Mack Jones misplayed a line drive by Willie Mays into a double in the first inning and Orlando Cepeda followed with a two-out homer. Felipe Alou added a homer in the seventh.

Musial plastered his three-run homer in the sixth inning with the Cardinals trailing 5-4. It was the 13th of the season and 457th of his career. Larry Jackson, hurt by a leaky defense, got the victory although Lindy McDaniel worked the last three innings, giving up a homer to Ernie Banks, his 23rd.

Johnny Callison homered for the Phils as they shut out the Colts in the first game behind Jack Hamilton, who went the first seven, and Jack Baldschun. Frank Torre was the hitting star in the second game with two singles and a triple, as Cal McLish won his sixth game with relief help from Dennis Bennett.

Braves Fail To Support Spahn And Hurling Staff

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee pitchers, headed by southpaw great Warren Spahn, have plenty of grounds for a non-support suit against their hitters and fielders.

The Braves' give-way program is reaching new heights.

The San Francisco Giants combined homers by Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou with the weakness of the Braves in the field for a 4-3 victory Tuesday night to move within one game of National League leading Los Angeles, 7-5 loser to Cincinnati.

Spahn, who has been given only 19 runs by his mates in 11 losses, failed in a bid for his ninth triumph of the season and No. 318 of his brilliant career. However, he escaped the defeat.

The Giants scored the winning run in the ninth without a hit against reliever Claude Raymond. Cepeda drew a walk, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored as rookie Amado Samuel let Harvey Kuenn's grounder go through his legs for a two-base error.

Spahn, the 41-year-old dean of the Milwaukee pitching staff, declined to criticize his lack of support, which included a misjudged line drive by center fielder Mack Jones just before Cepeda's 20th homer in the first inning. Willie Mays got a double as Jones watched the ball sail over his head.

"Any time a pitcher is given three runs he has no reason to complain," Spahn said philosophically. "I wanted to bounce the ball up the plate to Cepeda, especially with first base open, but I got it over somehow and he belted it. Alou hit a changeup which hung waist high."

Jockeys OK After Spill At Waterford

Two horses fell, throwing their riders but neither was injured seriously in the ninth race Tuesday afternoon at Waterford Park.

In the stretch, Rivers Bend was overtaken at the eighth pole by Penny's First and just as that one was in the clear with Kenny Pichette driving hard, Rivers Bend stumbled and fell throwing Jockey Albert Florio. Tow City also fell, unseating Cecilio Chavez. Both jockeys were examined but suffered only bruises.

FIELD AND STREAM

By R. L. LIDE

Between Japanese beetles, oat bugs, poison ivy and what have you, this is the most miserable time of the year to enjoy the outdoors. The period is commonly referred to as "dog days". The tiniest little scratch or insect bite seems to be 10 times worse than any other time of the year.

I have a fungus of some sort, which the doctor said could have been contacted going through the bushes. At any rate I have been out of circulation for two weeks and the end is not yet in sight. The fungus is something like poison ivy, but about 10 times more vicious.

VACATIONERS coming back from Canada report bass fishing in the Trent River area as fabulous.

There's something about this season that also has provided good bass fishing right in our own area. Seems that bass have been on a rampage everywhere. Now if you are a smart man, figure the seasons or whatever the conditions were that have provided good fishing and you will know something probably no one else knows. It stands to reason the early spring and dry weather has something to do with it.

The pollution situation in Beaver Creek near Negley remains the same.

The strip miners apparently have finished their operations and removed the pipelines that they were pumping mine water into the creek and there is now a steady flow of mine water flowing down the little drainage area, which has all the earmarks of a continuous source of polution that might ruin this section of the north fork of Beaver Creek forever.

RIGHT ABOVE this source is another pipeline flowing out of Pennsylvania into the same drainage area that is equally as bad. There also is seepage coming out of the hillside in Pennsylvania from some source that is most undesirable.

I insist, if the two main sources of bad water are stopped in Ohio and Pennsylvania, the problem will be licked. This little creek or drainage area probably would be a dry run but for the supply of what appears to be acid mine wastes that provides an unhealthy current of pollution.

Around Irondale, Little Yellow Creek is a mess. Go see for yourself. When a game protector reports these conditions he has done his duty. He does not have the power of arrest for pollution.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING—Stan Musial, Cardinals, smashed a three-run homer, his 13th to give the Cardinals an uphill 8-6 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING—Ken McBride, Angels, pitched a three-hitter and gained his ninth straight victory as the Angels nipped Detroit 1-0.

Kiger Named Manager Of SS All-Stars

During a special meeting of junior managers of the South Side Hot Stove League Tuesday night to select personnel for an All-Star team, John Kiger of Newell was elected manager.

Coaches named were John Petkovich of Hookstown and William (Bud) Green of Shippingport. The All-Star team, made up of boys of the league's seven districts, was selected and will be announced Aug. 1, the last day of the regular season play.

The first practice of the All-Star team will be Aug. 4 at the Hookstown American Legion Field.

The team will participate in a tournament which starts Aug. 13 at Moon Run Field in Robinson Township, sponsored by the Robinson Township Lions Club for the benefit of the blind.

South Side has not received its tournament schedule yet. One of the teams it will face though will be Sto-Ken-Rox, a McKeesport-Stowe Township team which won last year's tournament.

The South Side Athletic Club, sponsors of the South Side Hot Stove League, will hold a regular meeting July 24 at American Legion Post 952 near Hookstown.

The junior managers held their meeting at the Legion hall last night.

Amendment Would Exempt Amish From Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Amish sect and other religious groups which oppose Social Security would be exempted from the system under an amendment tacked onto a public welfare bill.

The bill and the amendment, passed by the Senate Tuesday, are headed for a joint House-Senate Conference Committee.

The amendment would exempt the Amish from paying Social Security benefits.

The sect opposes Social Security on grounds that the bible requires each household to provide for its own.

"These people ask no dole," said Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio. "All they ask is to be let alone."

Joining Lausche as sponsors were Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

The amendment would permit the secretary of welfare to grant exemptions to Amish or similar religious sects if they filed affadavits that the Social Security System violated their religious tenets and that their elderly would not become public charges.

Asst. Secretary of Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen told a reporter that there is no department objection to the exemption for the Amish. But he said the provision may need to be altered since under the present wording it might apply to groups which Congress did not intend to exempt.

The U. S. Internal Revenue Service recently seized three plow horses from Mrs. and Mrs. Valentine Y. Byler of New Wilmington, Pa., and filed liens on 76 other Amish accounts for failure to pay Social Security taxes. The Bylers are suing for compensation and exemption from future Social Security taxes.

New Committees Appointed By County Legion Auxiliary

Standing committees were named at a coverdish picnic of the Columbiana County Council of American Legion Auxiliaries Tuesday at the home of Post 374 in East End. Fifty attended.

Mrs. June Patchin, of Columbiana, president, appointed: Mrs. Florence Hum, Columbiana, rehabilitation; Mrs. Frieda Skvarka, Post 374, child welfare; Mrs. Gertrude McLaughlin, Post 290, placement; Mrs. Alice Zundel, East Palestine, historian, and Mrs. Ethelyn Foster, Post 31, pianist.

In giving the report of the auditing committee, Mrs. McLaughlin, chairman, said that contributions during the past year included $15 worth of groceries, $84 worth of used clothing and other articles and $141 for rehabilitation, which consisted primarily of giving postage stamps to county draftees.

The group voted to give $25 to the post 70 auxiliary at Wellsville to go toward the purchase of a new banner as theirs was destroyed in the recent fire.

James Cregar, commander of Post 374 and social chairman of the County Council, invited the group to the annual family picnic Aug. 5 at Copeland Lake on Route 164 at Columbiana.

The program will begin at 1 p.m. with prizes awarded for games and contests for adults and children.

Get-well cards were signed for Gilford Burdick, a patient at Crile Veterans' Hospital in Cleveland, and Mrs. Gladys Pinkerton of Columbiana. Mrs. Norma Jean Poynter, president of the hostess unit, extended the welcome.

Next meeting is Aug. 21, when the Post 4 Auxiliary will be hostess unit at the post's headquarters in the Siff Building.

Gasoline Flames When Area Man Cleans Brushes

A Wellsville area man burned by flaming gasoline and a New Waterford man injured in a fall while fishing were among five district adults and youngsters treated Tuesday and today at City Hospital.

Donald Slaughter, 33, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was treated last night for first degree burns of the face, neck and arms received when gasoline he was using to clean paint brushes ignited.

Charles Spears, 25, of New Waterford was treated at 2:30 a. m. today for a laceration of the palm of the right hand suffered earlier in a fall while fishing at Yellow Creek.

Terry Lynn Tice, 3 daughter of Clifford Tice of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, suffered a cut of the forehead when struck with a mallet by her brother.

Jason Chase, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stark of 407 5th St., Wellsville, received a puncture wound of the scalp in a fall against the edge of a step.

In a fall from a bicycle, Franklin Daniels, 2, son of Franklin Daniels of 315 2nd St., Wellsville, suffered abrasions and lacerations of the chin.

$1,000 Bond Set For Youth

An 18-year-old city youth was bound to the Grand Jury under $1,000 bond after waiving a preliminary hearing this morning in Municipal Court on a charge of burglary of the downtown warehouse of a plumbing and heating concern.

His 21-year-old companion entered an innocent plea on the same charge and requested a hearing, which was set for next Wednesday at 9 a. m.

William H. Clendenning, 18, of 129½ W. 6th St. is being held in City jail in lieu of the bond after waiving the hearing. He entered a plea of not guilty.

Thomas Wilford Moore, 21, of 244 W. 5th St. is free on $500 bond on the same charge.

The two were caught early Sunday loading hundreds of pounds of metal into their auto after breaking and entering the warehouse of the Hall Plumbing & Heating Co., located at 130 Rural Ln., police said.

They were apprehended by Patrolman Paul E. Carter, who was on foot patrol.

When first arraigned in court, Moore was represented by Atty. George Aronson, who asked a continuance to prepare the defense. He requested a minimum bond, declaring it was Moore's first offense.

Wellsville's Firemen Help Ailing Youngster

Wellsville volunteer firemen proved Tuesday night they are ready for any emergency, even when they are many miles from home.

The volunteers' emergency truck was entered in a parade at Bellevue, near Pittsburgh, when a Donora girl became ill in the line of march.

The firemen pulled the truck from the parade and rushed her to a hospital. Serving on the unit were Charles Leatherberry, Dave Lanam and Richard Burns.

The firemen said they were told by hospital authorities the girl had appendicitis.

It's Not Indian, But 'PK' Is Okay

AUBURNDALE, Fla. (AP) — A move by a group of residents to give Pilaklakaha Ave. a less tongue - twisting name brought instant response from those who want to retain such Indian names in Florida.

Mayor Fred Jones sadi, "What would Florida be without Tallahassee, the Caloosahatchee River, and towns like Istachatta?" Auburndale would fold with Pilaklakaha Ave., quoth the mayor.

Jones said for those who couldn't pronounce the name "PK Ave." would get them there.

T.S.&T. Captures Crown In Little Minor League

T.S.&T., held to one hit, "walked" to the championship of the Little Minor League by downing Rogers Drive-In, 9-7, Tuesday at the Thompson Park Field.

T.S.&T. made it two straight in the best two-out-of-three playoff series.

Although only coming up with one hit off G. Kupchinsky, T.S.&T. took advantage of 11 walks given up by the Rogers' hurler.

The new champs trailed, 6-1, going into the fifth inning when they came up with eight big markers to put the victory away.

While Kupchinsky was touched with wildness he still managed to fan 10 batters. R. Seevers, the winning pitcher, fanned 10 and gave up four hits while walking six.

S. Murray stroked the lone safety for T.S.&T. Kupchinsky had two of his team's four hits.

6 Collect $4,337.80 In Thistledown 'DD'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five men and one woman—all of whom declined to give their names to anybody but a representative of the Internal Revenue Service—cashed $2 daily double tickets for $4,337.80 at Thistledown Tuesday.

The whopping return was a new Northeastern Ohio record in dual-pool payoffs and the third highest ever in the state.

The lucky bettors backed the 28-1 Little Pharo in the first race and the 34-1 Janie Fox in the second.

While coaching at Waynesboro (Pa.) High School, Penn State's Rip Engle compiled 86 wins, 17 defeats and five ties in 11 seasons. Three of his teams were unbeaten.

Biggest Vehicle Ever Sent Up

U.S. Lofts Big Balloon, Inflated 13 Stories High

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The largest space vehicle ever sent aloft — a balloon which inflated to the height of a 13-story building — was rocketed 950 miles above the Atlantic Ocean today as a forerunner of an advanced Echo communications satellite.

The gleaming silvery sphere, dubbed "Big Shot," provided a brief but spectacular show for ground observers in the Cape Canaveral area as it separated from the Thor booster, expanded to its full 135-foot diameter, and drifted across the predawn sky. It was visible for nearly 10 minutes before becoming obscured by haze and cloud.

Clouds apparently confined observation of the big ball to the Cape area. Clear skies would have permitted observation of the balloon throughout much of the eastern United States.

Today's shot was to determine whether the balloon would expand and hold its form after being sent aloft. There were no communications tests.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced success of the mission, which paves the way for launching a similar balloon into orbit later this year as the Echo II experimental communications satellite.

After rising to 950 miles the balloon plunged back and burned up as intended in the earth's atmosphere. Death of the sphere occurred about 23 minutes after the 4:30 a.m. launching, some 600 miles south of the cape.

"Big Shot" is easily the largest package ever sent into space. However, many U.S. satellites have weighed much more than its 510 pounds.

A television camera mounted in the head of the Thor booster rocket sent live pictures of the balloon inflation to a monitor on the Cape. Officials reported they were of excellent quality and clearly showed the inflating of the balloon after it was released from a canister in the nose of the Thor.

Recovery craft waited about 250 miles northeast of San Salvador to try to pick up films made by a movie camera board the rocket that also recorded the inflation process.

Neutralists To Ask Quick A-Test Ban

GENEVA (AP)—Nonaligned nations were expected to appeal again today at the 17-nation disarmament conference for the major nuclear powers to agree speedily on a permanent ban on nuclear weapon tests.

Indian delegate Arthur Lall told the conference Tuesday the Soviet and U.S. delegates have agreed in speeches that a test ban must be concluded, but he said he was "skeptical about their good words."

"Test series has followed test series," he said, "and I have heard rumors that additional high-altitude test series will be carried out."

Lall also said internationally renowned scientists have changed their views on the danger of nuclear fallout.

"There is now more peril involved in fallout than was though in the past, and it is now time for the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union to prove what they mean in their statements," he said.

Lall told the conference he thought the United States had accepted—as a basis for negotiations—the compromise test ban proposals put forward by the eight nonaligned conference members last April. But he said he apparently was wrong, judging from a statement last week by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk said that recent developments in the detection of underground explosions might result in progress in the test ban negotiations. Lall said this raised the question of whether the United States was still working on the basis of the neutralist proposal or had reverted to the draft treaty it submitted last year.

U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean told Lall the United States had welcomed the eight-nation memorandum but not as the only basis for negotiation.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told Lall that the Russians accepted the neutralist memorandum as the sole basis for negotiations. His statement drew a quick response from British delegate Joseph B. Godber that in test ban committee sessions the Western Alliance had tried to negotiate on the eight-nation memorandum but the Soviets refused.

Hearing To Continue In Gas Rate Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—East Ohio Gas Co.'s proposed random sampling plan was to be examined further today by Northeastern Ohio cities fighting the utility's proposal for a $33.9 million annual rate hike.

Dr. W. Edwards Deming, outside statistical expert who devised the plan, was expected to undergo further cross-examination at the Utilities Commission hearing. The sampling plan would involve inspection of East Ohio pipelines at 1,300 locations for purposes of property valuation.

Deming was questioned Tuesday by Assistant Cleveland Law Director James Harkins, who also appeared on behalf of Canton, Massillon and Akron.

Lawrenceville Post Will Stage Field Day

Plans for a field day for members of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 and their wives were made at a meeting Monday night at the post home.

The event will be held in August at an area park, according to John Grimes, entertainment chairman.

A contribution of $10 was authorized for a Lawrenceville area youth baseball team. Charles Laughlin, adjutant, reported 15 members have been enrolled to date.

Robert Laughlin, chaplain, gave prayer. Donald VanDyke, commander, was in charge. Lunch was served by Grimes and his committee. The post will meet Aug. 6.

Amendment Would Exempt Amish From Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Amish sect and other religious groups which oppose Social Security would be exempted from the system under an amendment tacked onto a public welfare bill.

The bill and the amendment, passed by the Senate Tuesday, are headed for a joint House-Senate Conference Committee.

The amendment would exempt the Amish from paying Social Security benefits.

The sect opposes Social Security on grounds that the bible requires each household to provide for its own.

"These people ask no dole," said Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio. "All they ask is to be let alone."

Joining Lausche as sponsors were Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

The amendment would permit the secretary of welfare to grant exemptions to Amish or similar religious sects if they filed affadavits that the Social Security System violated their religious tenets and that their elderly would not become public charges.

Asst. Secretary of Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen told a reporter that there is no department objection to the exemption for the Amish. But he said the provision may need to be altered since under the present wording it might apply to groups which Congress did not intend to exempt.

The U. S. Internal Revenue Service recently seized three plow horses from Mrs. and Mrs. Valentine Y. Byler of New Wilmington, Pa., and filed liens on 76 other Amish accounts for failure to pay Social Security taxes. The Bylers are suing for compensation and exemption from future Social Security taxes.

New Committees Appointed By County Legion Auxiliary

Standing committees were named at a coverdish picnic of the Columbiana County Council of American Legion Auxiliaries Tuesday at the home of Post 374 in East End. Fifty attended.

Mrs. June Patchin, of Columbiana, president, appointed: Mrs. Florence Hum, Columbiana, rehabilitation; Mrs. Frieda Skvarka, Post 374, child welfare; Mrs. Gertrude McLaughlin, Post 290, placement; Mrs. Alice Zundel, East Palestine, historian, and Mrs. Ethelyn Foster, Post 31, pianist.

In giving the report of the auditing committee, Mrs. McLaughlin, chairman, said that contributions during the past year included $15 worth of groceries, $84 worth of used clothing and other articles and $141 for rehabilitation, which consisted primarily of giving postage stamps to county draftees.

The group voted to give $25 to the post 70 auxiliary at Wellsville to go toward the purchase of a new banner as theirs was destroyed in the recent fire.

James Cregar, commander of Post 374 and social chairman of the County Council, invited the group to the annual family picnic Aug. 5 at Copeland Lake on Route 164 at Columbiana.

The program will begin at 1 p.m. with prizes awarded for games and contests for adults and children.

Get-well cards were signed for Gilford Burdick, a patient at Crile Veterans' Hospital in Cleveland, and Mrs. Gladys Pinkerton of Columbiana. Mrs. Norma Jean Poynter, president of the hostess unit, extended the welcome.

Next meeting is Aug. 21, when the Post 4 Auxiliary will be hostess unit at the post's headquarters in the Siff Building.

Gasoline Flames When Area Man Cleans Brushes

A Wellsville area man burned by flaming gasoline and a New Waterford man injured in a fall while fishing were among five district adults and youngsters treated Tuesday and today at City Hospital.

Donald Slaughter, 33, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was treated last night for first degree burns of the face, neck and arms received when gasoline he was using to clean paint brushes ignited.

Charles Spears, 25, of New Waterford was treated at 2:30 a. m. today for a laceration of the palm of the right hand suffered earlier in a fall while fishing at Yellow Creek.

Terry Lynn Tice, 3 daughter of Clifford Tice of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, suffered a cut of the forehead when struck with a mallet by her brother.

Jason Chase, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stark of 407 5th St., Wellsville, received a puncture wound of the scalp in a fall against the edge of a step.

In a fall from a bicycle, Franklin Daniels, 2, son of Franklin Daniels of 315 2nd St., Wellsville, suffered abrasions and lacerations of the chin.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a good man and we have always gotten along well together. The problem is this:

In the last two years he has asked me no less than a dozen times to take an oath that I will never remarry if he should die. I have refused to make such a promise because I'm not sure I could keep it. We are both in our late 20s and in good health. I see no reason for him to dwell on such morbid thoughts.

He is becoming more and more insistent and now we argue over this about once a week. Shall I promise him, with fingers crossed, just to put an end to the nagging? Please advise me. I am — EGGZAUSTED

-:-

Dear Egg: Promises with crossed fingers are for 5-year-olds. Don't let your husband's immaturity put you in a false position.

It is unreasonable and childish for your husband to try to exact a promise which would regulate your behavior in 40 years. You can't possibly know now what may be best for you when you are 75.

Ungracious Friend

Dear Ann: A woman I'm very fond of phoned last week and said she'd like to give a tea honoring my daughter who is being married this summer. She asked for a list of people I would like her to invite.

Since that day she has telephoned me five different times to tell me how expensive it is to mail invitations, how much the tea-cakes will cost, the price of the floral centerpiece, how much she will have to pay a woman to come in and help her.

I'm sorry now that I consented to let her give the tea. Should I offer to share the expense or would this be rude? Please help because I'm becoming annoyed at her frequent reminders that the party for my daughter is costing her money. — NORTH CAROLINA.

Dear North Carolina: If this ungracious friend (?) of yours mentions another word about the money, by all means offer to write her a check. Insist that she tell you how much she spent because you want to pay half of it.

Learned Too Late

Dear Ann: If "Too Young" only knew how wise her aunt is she'd thank her lucky stars instead of complaining because "the old battle-ax" won't give her permission to date at 13.

When I was 13 I thought I was mature for my age, too. My mother didn't want me to date so young but I was headstrong and she finally got tired of fighting so she let me have my way. I was dating at 13, going steady at 14, married at 17 and divorced at 19.

I'm 21 now, with a three-year-old child to support. As I look back at my teen years, I could have talked anybody's head off to prove that I knew what I was doing.

It's not a good feeling to be barely old enough to vote and realize you've messed up your life. I'm not blaming my mother but I can promise you, Ann, I'm going to be a lot stricter with my daughter than my mother was with me. — FRISCO SAL.

Dear Sal: Thanks for your honest letter. It's too bad some kids have to jump off cliffs in order to learn firsthand what's at the bottom.

You don't blame your mother, and this is good, but I do. Parents have the responsibility of guiding and controlling their children. They must stick to their position and not cave in when the teens give out with "But everybody's doing it!"

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Beverly Conkle Weds David Groubert Of Fairfield

Miss Beverly Ann Conkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Conkle of New Waterford, and David Michael Groubert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Groubert of East Fairfield, were united in marriage Saturday, July 7, at 7:30 p. m. at the New Waterford Methodist Church.

The Rev. Herman L. Strawn performed the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with palms, ferns, baskets of white gladioli and mums, vases of flowers and candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chantilly lace and nylon tulle gown fashioned with a scalloped bateau neckline and long pointed sleeves. It had a fitted basque bodice and a billowing, floor-length bouffant hooped skirt of tulle appliqued with bands of chantilly lace.

Mrs. Linda Conkle, a sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Renee Blower, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They were gowns of romance blue chiffon over taffeta. The backs were accented with flowers and ribbon bows. They wore blue pearl crowns with circular veils and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations tinted in pink.

Mrs. Conkle wore a white beige silk shantung and lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of burnt orange carnations. Mrs. Groubert wore an aqua silk crepe and lace dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage tipped in silver.

Louis Groubert served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Cecil L. Conkle and Keith Conkle, brothers of the bride, and Ronald Bender.

Shirley Custer, organist, gave a half-hour recital before the ceremony. Edgar Bacon, soloist, sang three selections.

A reception for 145 followed at the Fellowship Hall. The aides were Mrs. Raymond H. Weaver of Lisbon, Mrs. Donald Blower of Negley and Mrs. James L. Weaver and Mrs. David Weaver, all aunts of the bride.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table. It was topped with a miniature bridal couple and surrounded by tapers in crystal holders, white net, green ivy, and pink roses surrounded the punch bowl. Baskets of flowers were used in the hall.

The couple honeymooned in Atlantic City. For traveling, the bride wore a two-piece brown print dress with beige accessories and a white orchid corsage from the bridal bouquet.

She is a graduate of Crestview High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Fairfield-Waterford High School and Ohio Valley Business College. He is office manager of Ideal Chevrolet Co. in Wellsville.

Guests were from Negley, East Palestine, Cleveland, Chesterland, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Columbiana, Boardman and Poland.

A rehearsal dinner was held July 6 with Mr. and Mrs. Groubert as hosts. Miss Linda Peppel, a classmate of the bride, registered guests.

Ohioan Is Convicted In Sharon Burglary

MERCER, Pa. (AP) — Joseph Drago of Cleveland was convicted Tuesday night on charges of burglarizing a Sharon, Pa., clothing store Sept. 16, 1960.

Mercer County Court Judge Herman M. Rodgers deferred sentencing pending a motion for a new trial.

Five other men from the Cleveland-Youngstown, Ohio, area already are serving prison terms for the burglary.

Signup Slated On Chester's Kindergarten

Registration for the Chester Kindergarten, sponsored by the Chester Junior Women's Club for pre-school youngsters, will be held July 25 at the City Hall, Mrs. Richard Dean of the club announced today.

Mrs. Lorna Wilson of East Liverpool will serve as teacher for the program, formerly called the Chester Play School.

Mrs. Dean said some parents previously have mistaken its function for a day nursery rather than an educational preparation for school. She said its main objectives are to teach a child to get along with others, follow instructions, increase physical coordination, respect and share common property and express himself.

The kindergarten will be held at the American Legion post daily from 9 to 11:30 during the public school calendar. A $16 registration fee is deducted as tuition for the last month of school. Tuition is $4 a week, to be paid two weeks in advance, and includes cost of milk, cookies, workbooks and supplies.

The class will be limited to 30 and at least 25 children are required to start the program, Mrs. Dean said. Youngsters four and five are eligible.

Registration will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Registration may be made by mail to Mrs. Dean of 232 California Ave. before next Wednesday.

Padlock Case Slated Friday

A hearing on the State of Ohio's application for a temporary injunction against the Veterans Social Club of Pennsylvania Ave. as a public nuisance is scheduled for 10 a. m. Friday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Ultimately, the state seeks to padlock the East End club for a year, but no such action will result Friday since the hearing is on the application only.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw has called approximately 20 witnesses to present evidence against the club and Samuel Johnson, 1045 Pennsylvania Ave., who owns the premises and is club steward.

The club has been the scene of several cuttings and brawls in recent years, authorities allege.

Brokaw said it is unlikely he will have time to present many witnesses Friday. He said he will ask the court for the case to be heard on its merits as quickly as possible. Out of that hearing could come a padlock order.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville represents Johnson.

Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff will be a witness for the state. He urged Brokaw to file the padlock action.

Council Meeting Set

SUMMITVILLE — Council will meet Thursday night at 8 for routine business, Mayor Ernest Phillips reported. Planned consideration of a proposed gas rate ordinance has been postponed until August because Atty. Warren Bettis, legal advisor, is on vacation.

Biggest Vehicle Ever Sent Up

U.S. Lofts Big Balloon, Inflated 13 Stories High

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The largest space vehicle ever sent aloft — a balloon which inflated to the height of a 13-story building — was rocketed 950 miles above the Atlantic Ocean today as a forerunner of an advanced Echo communications satellite.

The gleaming silvery sphere, dubbed "Big Shot," provided a brief but spectacular show for ground observers in the Cape Canaveral area as it separated from the Thor booster, expanded to its full 135-foot diameter, and drifted across the predawn sky. It was visible for nearly 10 minutes before becoming obscured by haze and cloud.

Clouds apparently confined observation of the big ball to the Cape area. Clear skies would have permitted observation of the balloon throughout much of the eastern United States.

Today's shot was to determine whether the balloon would expand and hold its form after being sent aloft. There were no communications tests.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced success of the mission, which paves the way for launching a similar balloon into orbit later this year as the Echo II experimental communications satellite.

After rising to 950 miles the balloon plunged back and burned up as intended in the earth's atmosphere. Death of the sphere occurred about 23 minutes after the 4:30 a.m. launching, some 600 miles south of the cape.

"Big Shot" is easily the largest package ever sent into space. However, many U.S. satellites have weighed much more than its 510 pounds.

A television camera mounted in the head of the Thor booster rocket sent live pictures of the balloon inflation to a monitor on the Cape. Officials reported they were of excellent quality and clearly showed the inflating of the balloon after it was released from a canister in the nose of the Thor.

Recovery craft waited about 250 miles northeast of San Salvador to try to pick up films made by a movie camera board the rocket that also recorded the inflation process.

Neutralists To Ask Quick A-Test Ban

GENEVA (AP)—Nonaligned nations were expected to appeal again today at the 17-nation disarmament conference for the major nuclear powers to agree speedily on a permanent ban on nuclear weapon tests.

Indian delegate Arthur Lall told the conference Tuesday the Soviet and U.S. delegates have agreed in speeches that a test ban must be concluded, but he said he was "skeptical about their good words."

"Test series has followed test series," he said, "and I have heard rumors that additional high-altitude test series will be carried out."

Lall also said internationally renowned scientists have changed their views on the danger of nuclear fallout.

"There is now more peril involved in fallout than was thought in the past, and it is now time for the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union to prove what they mean in their statements," he said.

Lall told the conference he thought the United States had accepted—as a basis for negotiations—the compromise test ban proposals put forward by the eight nonaligned conference members last April. But he said he apparently was wrong, judging from a statement last week by Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Rusk said that recent developments in the detection of underground explosions might result in progress in the test ban negotiations. Lall said this raised the question of whether the United States was still working on the basis of the neutralist proposal or had reverted to the draft treaty it submitted last year.

U.S. delegate Arthur H. Dean told Lall the United States had welcomed the eight-nation memorandum but not as the only basis for negotiation.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin told Lall that the Russians accepted the neutralist memorandum as the sole basis for negotiations. His statement drew a quick response from British delegate Joseph B. Godber that in test ban committee sessions the Western Alliance had tried to negotiate on the eight-nation memorandum but the Soviets refused.

Hearing To Continue In Gas Rate Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—East Ohio Gas Co.'s proposed random sampling plan was to be examined further today by Northeastern Ohio cities fighting the utility's proposal for a $33.9 million annual rate hike.

Dr. W. Edwards Deming, outside statistical expert who devised the plan, was expected to undergo further cross-examination at the Utilities Commission hearing. The sampling plan would involve inspection of East Ohio pipelines at 1,300 locations for purposes of property valuation.

Deming was questioned Tuesday by Assistant Cleveland Law Director James Harkins, who also appeared on behalf of Canton, Massillon and Akron.

Lawrenceville Post Will Stage Field Day

Plans for a field day for members of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 and their wives were made at a meeting Monday night at the post home.

The event will be held in August at an area park, according to John Grimes, entertainment chairman.

A contribution of $10 was authorized for a Lawrenceville area youth baseball team. Charles Laughlin, adjutant, reported 15 members have been enrolled to date.

Robert Laughlin, chaplain, gave prayer. Donald VanDyke, commander, was in charge. Lunch was served by Grimes and his committee. The post will meet Aug. 6.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Unathletic Director To Tape Olympics

When the United States and Russian track and field stars resume their annual battle next Saturday and Sunday, TV viewers will have the best look they've ever had.

Hal Humphrey

The man mainly responsible for that look will be unathletic, rotund Roone Arledge. He is executive producer of ABC's "Wide World of Sports." Last year's meeting (the third) was in Moscow, and Roone was handicapped by the logistics of transporting 20 tons of equipment to the scene and having to filter his orders through interpreters.

On the final day of that meet, a rain deluged the high jump event, but Russia's Valeri Brumel didn't let it dampen his record-breaking leap.

"It was a tremendous climax," Roone recalls. "Sports are a universal language, and the Russians really had something to say that day."

NEXT WEEKEND, Roone still has tons of equipment (13 cameras, eight tape machines and two mobile units) to supervise, but he should have no trouble making himself understood around the Stanford Stadium at Palo Alto, Calif., scene of the 1962 meeting. And the California Chamber of Commerce won't allow it to rain.

This time, too, ABC is going all out and devoting enough hours to let Roone cover much of the contest "live." In addition to an hour Saturday afternoon (with a repeat late the same night), viewers in the western half of the United States can watch four straight hours telecast from Palo Alto Sunday afternoon (2 to 6). Eastern viewers receive 2½ hours, and on the full network late Sunday night ABC has scheduled an hour-long recap.

No matter what events Roone chooses to beam our way at a given moment, he can depend upon at least half of his viewers calling him a bum and an ignoramus.

Sports fans are the best second-guessers in the world. If Roone's cameras are focused on the broad-jump when a pole-vault record is broken, he will have to hang himself for an encore, and even then the fans won't be satisfied.

TO AVOID THIS (missing something, not hanging himself), Roone will spot cameras on each major event and tape - record those not going out over the airwaves. The taped coverage will be shown later, if it's important.

"The main problem with covering most sports events is trying to select the best story, just as a newsman is faced with getting the news from a political convention, or some other big and multi-faceted event," Roone says.

"We have two meets going on simultaneously — the men's and the women's in this case — and that makes it tough, too," he adds.

The Russians, incidentally, count the women's points in a grand total, while the U.S. officials keep men's and women's totals separate.

In the three previous meets, U.S. men have won, but the Russians have always amassed enough women's points to win by their grand-total count.

-:-

IT MAY seem silly to sports fans, but politically this outcome is perfect for Kennedy and Khrushchev.

After Roone Arledge has put away the U.S. - Russian track and field meet, he goes to New York to huddle with the all-network committee chosen to program our first regular "live" global telecast via the "Telstar" satellite which was shot into space from Cape Canaveral last week.

"About two minutes of this first satellite telecast will be devoted to sports, I'm told," says Roone, "and I would like to see us put on a rodeo.

"When a Frenchman comes to New York, he doesn't want to be taken to a French restaurant to eat. He would rather sample something considered typically American. I think our rodeo is more typical to America than anything else."

Whatever Roone is asked to produce for that occasion, he is hoping his luck will be better than during his recent attempt to cover the Grand Prix Le Mans race classic. The film was to be telecast last Sunday but the French camera crew goofed and lost the sound, and the show was canceled.

Drouth Reduces Winter Hay Crop

Many Hancock County farmers will lack enough hay to winter their livestock because of the recent drouth, according to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Farmers report the first cutting of hay is 25 percent to 50 percent below average, he said. Pastures are very short and dairymen are feeding hay presently, Johnson added.

In surveying the effects of the drouth upon farm crops, the agricultural agent says he found barley yields average and oats "rather uncertain." Wheat yields also are expected to be off, he said.

Johnson said field corn crops are "good," but need additional rain this week until the ears have grown tassels. Farmers who have built up their soils and used liberal amounts of fertilizers have suffered less from the effects of the drouth, the agent said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a good man and we have always gotten along well together. The problem is this:

In the last two years he has asked me no less than a dozen times to take an oath that I will never remarry if he should die. I have refused to make such a promise because I'm not sure I could keep it. We are both in our late 20s and in good health. I see no reason for him to dwell on such morbid thoughts.

He is becoming more and more insistent and now we argue over this about once a week. Shall I promise him, with fingers crossed, just to put an end to the nagging? Please advise me. I am — EGG-ZAUSTED

-:-

Dear Egg: Promises with crossed fingers are for 5-year-olds. Don't let your husband's immaturity put you in a false position.

It is unreasonable and childish for your husband to try to exact a promise which would regulate your behavior in 40 years. You can't possibly know now what may be best for you when you are 75.

Ungracious Friend

Dear Ann: A woman I'm very fond of phoned last week and said she'd like to give a tea honoring my daughter who is being married this summer. She asked for a list of people I would like her to invite.

Since that day she has telephoned me five different times to tell me how expensive it is to mail invitations, how much the tea-cakes will cost, the price of the floral centerpiece, how much she will have to pay a woman to come in and help her.

I'm sorry now that I consented to let her give the tea. Should I offer to share the expense or would this be rude? Please help because I'm becoming annoyed at her frequent reminders that the party for my daughter is costing her money. — NORTH CAROLINA.

Dear North Carolina: If this ungracious friend (?) of yours mentions another word about the money, by all means offer to write her a check. Insist that she tell you how much she spent because you want to pay half of it.

Learned Too Late

Dear Ann: If "Too Young" only knew how wise her aunt is she'd thank her lucky stars instead of complaining because "the old battle-ax" won't give her permission to date at 13.

When I was 13 I thought I was mature for my age, too. My mother didn't want me to date so young but I was headstrong and she finally got tired of fighting so she let me have my way. I was dating at 13, going steady at 14, married at 17 and divorced at 19.

I'm 21 now, with a three-year-old child to support. As I look back at my teen years, I could have talked anybody's head off to prove that I knew what I was doing.

It's not a good feeling to be barely old enough to vote and realize you've messed up your life. I'm not blaming my mother but I can promise you, Ann, I'm going to be a lot stricter with my daughter than my mother was with me. — FRISCO SAL.

Dear Sal: Thanks for your honest letter. It's too bad some kids have to jump off cliffs in order to learn firsthand what's at the bottom.

You don't blame your mother, and this is good, but I do. Parents have the responsibility of guiding and controlling their children. They must stick to their position and not cave in when the teens give out with "But everybody's doing it!"

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Miss Beverly Conkle Weds David Groubert Of Fairfield

Miss Beverly Ann Conkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Conkle of New Waterford, and David Michael Groubert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Groubert of East Fairfield, were united in marriage Saturday, July 7, at 7:30 p. m. at the New Waterford Methodist Church.

The Rev. Herman L. Strawn performed the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with palms, ferns, baskets of white gladioli and mums, vases of flowers and candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white chantilly lace and nylon tulle gown fashioned with a scalloped bateau neckline and long pointed sleeves. It had a fitted basque bodice and a billowing, floor-length bouffant hooped skirt of tulle appliqued with bands of chantilly lace.

Mrs. Linda Conkle, a sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Renee Blower, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid. They were gowns of romance blue chiffon over taffeta. The backs were accented with flowers and ribbon bows. They wore blue pearl crowns with circular veils and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations tinted in pink.

Mrs. Conkle wore a white beige silk shantung and lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of burnt orange carnations. Mrs. Groubert wore an aqua silk crepe and lace dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage tipped in silver.

Louis Groubert served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Cecil L. Conkle and Keith Conkle, brothers of the bride, and Ronald Bender.

Shirley Custer, organist, gave a half-hour recital before the ceremony. Edgar Bacon, soloist, sang three selections.

A reception for 145 followed at the Fellowship Hall. The aides were Mrs. Raymond H. Weaver of Lisbon, Mrs. Donald Blower of Negley and Mrs. James L. Weaver and Mrs. David Weaver, all aunts of the bride.

A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table. It was topped with a miniature bridal couple and surrounded by tapers in crystal holders, white net, green ivy, and pink roses surrounded the punch bowl. Baskets of flowers were used in the hall.

The couple honeymooned in Atlantic City. For traveling, the bride wore a two-piece brown print dress with beige accessories and a white orchid corsage from the bridal bouquet.

She is a graduate of Crestview High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Fairfield-Waterford High School and Ohio Valley Business College. He is office manager of Ideal Chevrolet Co. in Wellsville.

Guests were from Negley, East Palestine, Cleveland, Chesterland, Lisbon, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Columbiana, Boardman and Poland.

Ohioan Is Convicted In Sharon Burglary

MERCER, Pa. (AP) — Joseph Drago of Cleveland was convicted Tuesday night on charges of burglarizing a Sharon, Pa., clothing store Sept. 16, 1960.

Five other men from the Cleveland-Youngstown, Ohio, area already are serving prison terms for the burglary.

Signup Slated On Chester's Kindergarten

Registration for the Chester Kindergarten, sponsored by the Chester Junior Women's Club for pre-school youngsters, will be held July 25 at the City Hall, Mrs. Richard Dean of the club announced today.

Mrs. Lorna Wilson of East Liverpool will serve as teacher for the program, formerly called the Chester Play School.

Mrs. Dean said some parents previously have mistaken its function for a day nursery rather than an educational preparation for school. She said its main objectives are to teach a child to get along with others, follow instructions, increase physical coordination, respect and share common property and express himself.

The kindergarten will be held at the American Legion post daily from 9 to 11:30 during the public school calendar. A $16 registration fee is deducted as tuition for the last month of school. Tuition is $4 a week, to be paid two weeks in advance, and includes cost of milk, cookies, workbooks and supplies.

The class will be limited to 30 and at least 25 children are required to start the program, Mrs. Dean said. Youngsters four and five are eligible.

Registration will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. Registration may be made by mail to Mrs. Dean of 232 California Ave. before next Wednesday.

Padlock Case Slated Friday

A hearing on the State of Ohio's application for a temporary injunction against the Veterans Social Club of Pennsylvania Ave. as a public nuisance is scheduled for 10 a. m. Friday in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Ultimately, the state seeks to padlock the East End club for a year, but no such action will result Friday since the hearing is on the application only.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw has called approximately 20 witnesses to present evidence against the club and Samuel Johnson, 1045 Pennsylvania Ave., who owns the premises and is club steward.

The club has been the scene of several cuttings and brawls in recent years, authorities allege.

Brokaw said it is unlikely he will have time to present many witnesses Friday. He said he will ask the court for the case to be heard on its merits as quickly as possible. Out of that hearing could come a padlock order.

Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville represents Johnson.

Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff will be a witness for the state. He urged Brokaw to file the padlock action.

Council Meeting Set

SUMMITVILLE — Council will meet Thursday night at 8 for routine business, Mayor Ernest Phillips reported. Planned consideration of a proposed gas rate ordinance has been postponed until August because Atty. Warren Bettis, legal advisor, is on vacation.

President's Personal Representative Gives Views

Clay Says Berlin Situation Brighter

This is the first of a two-part series based on an exclusive interview with Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

By SAUL PETT
Associated Press Writer

President Kennedy's personal representative to Berlin feels Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be using that perennial crisis to sow fears and differences among the Western Allies and impede European progress toward political unity.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who commanded the 1948-49 operation that broke the Berlin blockade, says he notes substantial improvement in West Berlin's situation at the moment and adds he sees no immediate change in prospect.

But he cautions Khrushchev conceivably might risk war over the city, not because he wants free West Berlin that badly, but because "he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity in Western Europe."

Clay, to many Germans a symbol of a U.S. promise not to abandon West Berlin to communism, advanced his views in an exclusive and unusually illuminating interview in New York with The Associated Press, the first half of which follows in question and answering form. The second half of the interview will be presented Thursday.

Q. You are getting to be quite a commuter to Berlin aren't you, general?

A. Well I hope I'll be lengthening the time between visits, because I think they are in a status quo there now. It could last for many, many months.

Q. Why?

A. Well in the first place the morale of the people in Berlin has withstood the wall and there is not much that the Communists can do to frighten Berlin short of those measures that would undoubtedly lead to massive counter measures. The pin-pricks which they might exert against the Allies carried great risk. And they proved to be a failure in disturbing the Berliners. So I don't see what they have to gain out taking that risk.

Q. Will your mission continue for the duration of the Berlin crisis?

A. I don't think we know. The President has asked me to continue as an advisor and obviously there is very little advice to give as long as we stay in the position of status quo. As far as Berlin is concerned there has been a substantial improvement.

Q. In what way?

A. Well the morale of the people has returned to normal and in fact I think they are probably more determined than ever to hold out. The economy of the city has recovered from the initial shock and looks like it is on the move again.

Q. But the basic situation as between the West and the Russians?

A. It remains unchanged and I don't see any immediate change in prospect.

Q. What do you suppose was behind Khrushchev's recent proposal, which we rejected, that Western troops in Berlin be replaced by Norwegian-Danish or Belgian-Dutch plus Czech-Polish forces?

A. I think Mr. Khrushchev would like very much to get the Allies out of West Berlin. The presence of the Allied troops there and the rapid development of the city has of course made it a veritable citadel of freedom behind the Iron Curtain which he would like to destroy.

Now this proposal to replace the Allies with the troops of other nations, of course, doesn't make very much sense. We are in Berlin as a result of victory in war. Many of these nations were not even in the war. There is no right to garrison Berlin per se. The people of West Berlin cannot be made to accept garrisons from any and all countries.

We have added to that a firm commitment to the people of West Berlin that as long as they want our troops there they will be there. We couldn't give up on that commitment under any circumstances.

Q. Why do you suppose Khrushchev brought it up? Is it some sort of a gambit?

A. Yes. I think it's to show—before the world—that he is willing to compromise and find a settlement. He has several times said he would be glad to see West Berlin made into an international city. Now by that he means a city completely free and independent but having no connections with the Federal Republic of Germany. And of course a little enclave like West Berlin, entirely behind the Iron Curtain, would quickly fade away if it did not have its connections with the Federal Republic.

Q. Khrushchev said that the possibility of war over Berlin is "ever more ominous." What do you think?

A. I would say that possibility is entirely under the control of Mr. Khrushchev. Only if Mr. Khrushchev takes aggressive actions to destroy the city, to lesson the authority and responsibility of the Allies, will war become a possibility or a threat. So Mr. K to this extent is in control. He can make it a place where war can easily break out. But no one but Mr. K can do that.

Q. But your general feeling is that tension has lessened and the possibility of war is lower?

A. I think you have got to remember that the tensions we are speaking of are two different kinds. The important tension which existed between the U.S. and its Allies and Russia has abated. The constant needling of the Allies by the Soviets and East Germans has stopped. They are no longer threatening our air corridors. The general atmosphere is much more free of tension than it has been for some time. This is why it is possible to conduct talks that are going on now.

On the other hand the tension between the East German and the West German in Berlin has not abated. The wall is still there. The constant attempts of desperate people to escape through the wall leads to constant shootings across the border. People are killed quite frequently.

Q. The question of Berlin constantly comes up in Communist discussions of other issues such as nuclear weapons and disarmament. In propaganda to Germany the Communists say the U.S. is planning "new harassing maneuvers" against any solution in Berlin and intending to direct some sort of West German atomic aggression eastward. Are they leading up to something?

A. Of course, the Soviet government has already indicated its considerable apprehension over the growth of the Common Market and over its movement toward political unity. It has always been their view that these kinds of movements could be stopped by creating new tensions, new apprehensions, new fears. I have a feeling that their actions against Berlin have this in view.

For this reason, and since the alliance continues to grow very strongly towards eventual political union, I am inclined to believe that we may expect further pushes from Mr. K against Berlin.

At the present moment the economy of East Germany is in rather bad shape. That economy is oriented to West Germany and without trade with Western Germany it might indeed put East Germany in a very difficult economic position. Great efforts are being made to re-orient the economy of East Germany toward Warsaw Pact countries. This will take some time.

I doubt if the Communist countries will be included to take any moves that risk a break in the East German West German trade until they have succeeded in re-orienting the East German economy. This is another reason why I think we have an interlude of relative quiet in Berlin.

Q. You think, then, if he does do anything about Berlin it's primarily with an eye toward undermining the Western alliance?

A. There is a possibility that to stop the development of Western European political unity he might even be willing to risk war. It is certain he wouldn't risk war just for Berlin. So if these developments take place, if he begins to take the actions which could lead to war in Berlin it would not be because he wants Berlin. It would be because he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity in Western Europe.

Q. Khrushchev and other Communists have been repeating word for word the Warsaw Pact declaration of June 7, that unless the West agrees to sign peace treaties with both Germanys, the East will go ahead on its own with all the consequences that it involves. Does this sound to you like a new ultimatum in the making?

A. This ultimatum has been one that has existed since 1958 and it is now 1962. I would suppose that there will come a time when Mr. K does have to go ahead with a peace treaty. Even if he does he could put in the reservations which would protect the rights of the Allies in West Berlin. If he doesn't why of course the peace treaty could lead to very serious consequences. I don't know when he is going to sign this peace treaty, if ever. I can't get excited because he talks about it again, since it has been a constant threat since 1958.

I also think it is very important that we must remember several things about this Berlin situation One—I think a very important one—is that we gave up almost half of what is now East Germany for the position which we hold in Berlin. There wouldn't be an East Germany of any consequence if we had not given up the territory which we had captured in exchange for the position which we hold in West Berlin.

Q. You are speaking of the wartime agreements?

A. Yes. Under these agreements, too, the only troops allowed in West Berlin were Allied troops. We have lived up to that. On the other hand, the Soviet government started raising an East German army very quickly and they have stationed that army in East Berlin. We have never stationed any troops from the Federal Republic of West Germany in West Berlin. Now as a result of all that, certain basic commitments have been made publicly and solemly, and negotiations cannot break away from these firm commitments. There are not very many.

They are basically — first, we will maintain Allied right of access on the ground and complete freedom of access in the air. Second, we will maintain the viability of West Berlin, meaning freedom of movement for persons and goods into West Berlin. Third, we have agreed that we will maintain our garrisons in West Berlin as long as the people of West Berlin want them.

We have also agreed with the Federal Republic not to recognize any other government as speaking for any portion of the German people other than the Federal Republic until the German people themselves have selected in free elections a government of their own. We have also agreed to support the future reunification of Germany. Finally, and I also think very importantly, we have said that we intend to support no lessening of the ties that exist between West Berlin and the Federal Republic.

Astronaut's Way Of Feeding Babies Is Health News Item

By The Associated Press

An astronaut's way of feeding babies and a medical passport are health news items:

Space Dividend

Babies and mothers are promised a dividend from the space age.

Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., ate from a plastic squeeze tube, squirting food into his mouth, during orbit. Now, the same idea is being developed for no-mess, easy feeding of babies during travel by car or plane, or on picnics. Similar food tubes are equipped with a clear , plastic, hollow-stemmed spoon attached to the tube.

Just the right amount of fruit, vegetable or other food can be squeezed into the spoon. A hermetic seal in the neck of the tube is punctured when the spoon is screwed onto the tube. Tube and spoon are disposed of afterward.

A baby food company is testing the squeeze tubes, originally developed by the American Can Company for feeding astronauts under weightless conditions of space flight.

Medical Passports

To ensure proper emergency medical treatment at home or abroad, you can carry a medical passport listing essential information which a doctor or hospital should know about your own health. The pocket-sized document can contain data on treatment for a heart condition, for diabetes, epilepsy, or other disorders, as well as giving your blood type, allergies, and results of X-ray and laboratory studies.

Published by the Medical Passport Foundation, Inc., New York, the passports are provided to physicians and hospitals at cost.

Hearing's Due Friday For LaCroft Motorist

Harry M. Watkins of 5th Ave., LaCroft, is due for a Municipal Court hearing Friday on charges of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license and driving an unsafe vehicle.

Watkins was cited at 2:40 a. m. Monday on Route 170 by the State Highway Patrol, which said his car had defective foot and hand brakes, defective headlights, no stoplight, no windshield wipers and a defective horn.

Interest Lags In Job Exams

LISBON — County officials said today there is little apparent interest in a scheduled Civil Service examination for the posts of superintendent and matron for Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home at East Palestine.

The examinations will be given at 9 a. m. Tuesday, Aug. 14, at the Courthouse. Last date for receipt of applications is Tuesday, July 31.

The forms may be obtained at the Courthouse from Auditor Kenneth Bell or from the Department of State Personnel, Columbus 15. Only two persons have asked for applications here, the auditor said.

The superintendent's post will pay from $150 to $200 a month, plus maintenance, and the matron's post from $125 to $150, plus maintenance. Examinations are restricted to legal residents of the county.

Other details are available from Bell or County Welfare Director Robert Bycroft.

The children's receiving home was closed Jan. 1 because of a financial pinch. County commissioners announced in April that it would be reopened and asked for a Civil Service examination and eligibility list.

2 Ohioans And 2 From Florida Killed In Crash

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Two Ohioans and two Florida residents died Tuesday in the crash of an automobile and a station wagon at the busy intersection of U.S. 6 and Ohio 199 about 13 miles east of here.

Highway patrolmen spent several hours trying to pin down the identification of the dead.

They said a car driven by Daniel J. O'Neill of St. Petersburg Beach, Fla., collided with a station wagon driven by Mrs. Ruth O'Rork, 40, a Sandusky school teacher. O'Neill and his wife, Loretta, died in the crash, along with Mary Ann Michael, 10, who with her brother, Joseph, 7, had been riding with Mrs. O'Rork. Mrs. O'Rork died in Wood County Hospital about an hour after the crash.

Joseph Michael was being treated at the hospital for shock and other injuries. He and his sister were children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Michael of Rt. 4, Bowling Green. They were returning home with Mrs. O'Rork to Sandusky. Patrolmen had first identified them as children of Mrs. O'Rork.

Killed By Train

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Earl Ison, 43, an unemployed former member of the Ashland fire department, was struck by a train and killed at a downtown crossing Tuesday night. Authorities said he was walking along the tracks when a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train hit him.

Ravenna Man To Be Arraigned In Bank Robbery

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Adam Ken, 52, of Ravenna was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today for arraignment on a bank robbery charge in the $2,825 holdup of the County Savings & Loan Co. here.

He was arrested shortly after the robbery Tuesday when Mrs. Gene Lemasters, a teller, pointed him out to Deputy Sheriff Howard Leland.

Police said the money was found stuffed in Ken's pockets and shirt. He is an unemployed furnace repairman.

Police Sgt. Frank Stockdale said Ken told him that he staged the oldup because he wanted "a place to eat and sleep this winter." He had been drinking at the time of his arrest, Stockdale said.

A man walked into the loan company office about 2 p.m. Nancy Parmelee, 19, said she gave the man the money when he pretended to have a gun in his pocket. He then left.

Mrs. Lemasters followed the robber after asking that the sheriff's office be called because it is across the street from the bank. She followed the man about two blocks on a trail that took them back to within a few feet of the bank, where Leland was waiting.

The man offered no resistance and was "very peaceful about the whole thing," Leland said.

Lisbon District Blaze Burns Over Half Acre

LISBON — A grass fire burned off a half acre and threatened a housetrailer and tractor west of town Tuesday noon before it was extinguished by the Lisbon volunteer fire department and neighbors.

Mrs. Jonquil Dotson said she was burning trash in a tub and some sparks set the grass ablaze. She lives in the southwestern part of Center Township about three miles west of Lisbon and two and a half miles south of Route 30.

Ankeny, 29, of New Rumley, failure to yield the right-of-way, and Arla J. Hoffman, 23, of North Georgetown and Richard J. Lingro, 25, of Cleveland, both speeding.

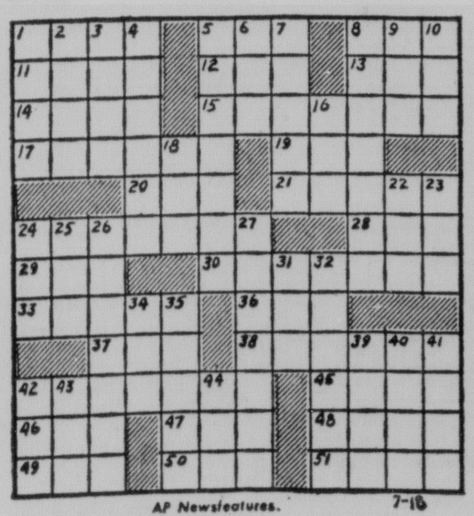
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle



PAR TIME 21 MIN.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Unathletic Director To Tape Olympics

When the United States and Russian track and field stars resume their annual battle next Saturday and Sunday, TV viewers will have the best look they've ever had.

Hal Humphrey

The man mainly responsible for that look will be unathletic, rotund Roone Arledge. He is executive producer of ABC's "Wide World of Sports." Last year's meeting (the third) was in Moscow, and Roone was handicapped by the logistics of transporting 20 tons of equipment to the scene and having to filter his orders through interpreters.

On the final day of that meet, a rain deluged the high jump event, but Russia's Valeri Brumel didn't let it dampen his record-breaking leap.

"It was a tremendous climax," Roone recalls. "Sports are a universal language, and the Russians really had something to say that day."

-:-

NEXT WEEKEND, Roone still has tons of equipment (13 cameras, eight tape machines and two mobile units) to supervise, but he should have no trouble making himself understood around the Stanford Stadium at Palo Alto, Calif., scene of the 1962 meeting. And the California Chamber of Commerce won't allow it to rain.

This time, too, ABC is going all out and devoting enough hours to let Roone cover much of the contest "live." In addition to an hour Saturday afternoon (with a repeat late the same night), viewers in the western half of the United States can watch four straight hours telecast from Palo Alto Sunday afternoon (2 to 6). Eastern viewers receive 2½ hours, and on the full network late Sunday night ABC has scheduled an hour-long recap.

No matter what events Roone chooses to beam our way at a given moment, he can depend upon at least half of his viewers calling him a bum and an ignoramus.

Sports fans are the best second-guessers in the world. If Roone's cameras are focused on the broad-jump when a pole-vault record is broken, he will have to hang himself for an encore, and even then the fans won't be satisfied.

TO AVOID THIS (missing something, not hanging himself), Roone will spot cameras on each major event and tape - record those not going out over the airwaves. The taped coverage will be shown later, if it's important.

"The main problem with covering most sports events is trying to select the best story, just as a newsman is faced with getting the news from a political convention, or some other big and multi-faceted event," Roone says.

"We have two meets going on simultaneously — the men's and the women's in this case — and that makes it tough, too," he adds.

The Russians, incidentally, count the women's points in a grand total, while the U.S. officials keep men's and women's totals separate.

In the three previous meets, U.S. men have won, but the Russians have always amassed enough women's points to win by their grand-total count.

-:-

IT MAY seem silly to sports fans, but politically this outcome is perfect for Kennedy and Khrushchev.

After Roone Arledge has put away the U.S. - Russian track and field meet, he goes to New York to huddle with the all-network committee chosen to program our first regular "live" global telecast via the "Telstar" satellite which was shot into space from Cape Canaveral last week.

"About two minutes of this first satellite telecast will be devoted to sports, I'm told," says Roone, "and I would like to see us put on a rodeo.

"When a Frenchman comes to New York, he doesn't want to be taken to a French restaurant to eat. He would rather sample something considered typically American. I think our rodeo is more typical to America than anything else."

Whatever Roone is asked to produce for that occasion, he is hoping his luck will be better than during his recent attempt to cover the Grand Prix Le Mans race classic. The film was to be telecast last Sunday but the French camera crew goofed and lost the sound, and the show was canceled.

Drouth Reduces Winter Hay Crop

Many Hancock County farmers will lack enough hay to winter their livestock because of the recent drouth, according to Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent.

Farmers report the first cutting of hay is 25 percent to 50 percent below average, he said. Pastures are very short and dairymen are feeding hay presently, Johnson added.

In surveying the effects of the drouth upon farm crops, the agricultural agent says he found barley yields average and oats "rather uncertain." Wheat yields also are expected to be off, he said.

Johnson said field corn crops are "good," but need additional rain this week until the ears have grown tassels. Farmers who have built up their soils and used liberal amounts of fertilizers have suffered less from the effects of the drouth, the agent said.

We extend our grateful acknowledgment to the nurses on 3 north, Martins Funeral Home, Father Buckman and to those who sent floral offerings. We also want to thank the neighbors of Michigan Ave. and Ohio Ave. for their help and kindness, also the neighbors of Woodbine Ave. and Carolina Ave. for their kindness during our great loss. President's Personal Representative Gives Views

Clay Says Berlin Situation Brighter

This is the first of a two-part series based on an exclusive interview with Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

By SAUL PETT
Associated Press Writer

President Kennedy's personal representative to Berlin feels Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be using that perennial crisis to sow fears and differences among the Western Allies and impede European progress toward political unity.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who commanded the 1948-49 operation that broke the Berlin blockade, says he notes substantial improvement in West Berlin's situation at the moment and adds he sees no immediate change in prospect.

But he cautions Khrushchev conceivably might risk war over the city, not because he wants free West Berlin that badly, but because "he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity in Western Europe."

Clay, to many Germans a symbol of a U.S. promise not to abandon West Berlin to communism, advanced his views in an exclusive and unusually illuminating interview in New York with The Associated Press, the first half of which follows in question and answering form. The second half of the interview will be presented Thursday.

Q. You are getting to be quite a commuter to Berlin aren't you, general?

A. Well I hope I'll be lengthening the time between visits, because I think they are in a status quo there now. It could last for many, many months.

Q. Why?

A. Well in the first place the morale of the people in Berlin has withstood the wall and there is not much that the Communists can do to frighten Berlin short of those measures that would undoubtedly lead to massive counter measures. The pin-pricks which they might exert against the Allies carried great risk. And they proved to be a failure in disturbing the Berliners. So I don't see what they have to gain out taking that risk.

Q. Will your mission continue for the duration of the Berlin crisis?

A. I don't think we know. The President has asked me to continue as an advisor and obviously there is very little advice to give as long as we stay in the position of status quo. As far as Berlin is concerned there has been a substantial improvement.

Q. In what way?

A. Well the morale of the people has returned to normal and in fact I think they are probably more determined than ever to hold out. The economy of the city has recovered from the initial shock and looks like it is on the move again.

Q. But the basic situation as between the West and the Russians?

A. It remains unchanged and I don't see any immediate change in prospect.

Q. What do you suppose was behind Khrushchev's recent proposal, which we rejected, that Western troops in Berlin be replaced by Norwegian-Danish or Belgian-Dutch plus Czech-Polish forces?

A. I think Mr. Khrushchev would like very much to get the Allies out of West Berlin. The presence of the Allied troops there and the rapid development of the city has of course made it a veritable citadel of freedom behind the Iron Curtain which he would like to destroy.

Now this proposal to replace the Allies with the troops of other nations, of course, doesn't make very much sense. We are in Berlin as a result of victory in war. Many of these nations were not even in the war. There is no right to garrison Berlin per se. The people of West Berlin cannot be made to accept garrisons from any and all countries.

We have added to that a firm commitment to the people of West Berlin that as long as they want our troops there they will be there. We couldn't give up on that commitment under any circumstances.

Q. Why do you suppose Khrushchev brought it up? Is it some sort of a gambit?

A. Yes. I think it's to show—before the world—that he is willing to compromise and find a settlement. He has several times said he would be glad to see West Berlin made into an international city. Now by that he means a city completely free and independent but having no connections with the Federal Republic of Germany. And of course a little enclave like West Berlin, entirely behind the Iron Curtain, would quickly fade away if it did not have its connections with the Federal Republic.

Q. Khrushchev said that the possibility of war over Berlin is "ever more ominous." What do you think?

A. I would say that possibility is entirely under the control of Mr. Khrushchev. Only if Mr. Khrushchev takes aggressive actions to destroy the city, to lesson the authority and responsibility of the Allies, will war become a possibility or a threat. So Mr. K to this extent is in control. He can make it a place where war can easily break out. But no one but Mr. K can do that.

Q. But your general feeling is that tension has lessened and the possibility of war is lower?

A. I think you have got to remember that the tensions we are speaking of are two different kinds. The important tension which existed between the U.S. and its Allies and Russia has abated. The constant needling of the Allies by the Soviets and East Germans has stopped. They are no longer threatening our air corridors. The general atmosphere is much more free of tension than it has been for some time. This is why it is possible to conduct talks that are going on now.

On the other hand the tension between the East German and the West German in Berlin has not abated. The wall is still there. The constant attempts of desperate people to escape through the wall leads to constant shootings across the border. People are killed quite frequently.

Q. The question of Berlin constantly comes up in Communist discussions of other issues such as nuclear weapons and disarmament. In propaganda to Germany the Communists say the U.S. is planning "new harassing maneuvers" against any solution in Berlin and intending to direct some sort of West German atomic aggression eastward. Are they leading up to something?

A. Of course, the Soviet government has already indicated its considerable apprehension over the growth of the Common Market and over its movement toward political unity. It has always been their view that these kinds of movements could be stopped by creating new tensions, new apprehensions, new fears. I have a feeling that their actions against Berlin have this in view.

For this reason, and since the alliance continues to grow very strongly towards eventual political union, I am inclined to believe that we may expect further pushes from Mr. K against Berlin.

At the present moment the economy of East Germany is in rather bad shape. That economy is oriented to West Germany and without trade with Western Germany it might indeed put East Germany in a very difficult economic position. Great efforts are being made to re-orient the economy of East Germany toward Warsaw Pact countries. This will take some time.

I doubt if the Communist countries will be included to take any moves that risk a break in the East German West German trade until they have succeeded in reorienting the East German economy. This is another reason why I think we have an interlude of relative quiet in Berlin.

Q. You think, then, if he does do anything about Berlin it's primarily with an eye toward undermining the Western alliance?

A. There is a possibility that to stop the development of Western European political unity he might even be willing to risk war. It is certain he wouldn't risk war just for Berlin. So if these developments take place, if he begins to take the actions which could lead to war in Berlin it would not be because he wants Berlin. It would be because he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity in Western Europe.

Q. Khrushchev and other Communists have been repeating word for word the Warsaw Pact declaration of June 7, that unless the West agrees to sign peace treaties with both Germanys, the East will go ahead on its own with all the consequences that it involves. Does this sound to you like a new ultimatum in the making?

A. This ultimatum has been one that has existed since 1958 and it is now 1962. I would suppose that there will come a time when Mr. K does have to go ahead with a peace treaty. Even if he does he could put in the reservations which would protect the rights of the Allies in West Berlin. If he doesn't why of course the peace treaty could lead to very serious consequences. I don't know when he is going to sign this peace treaty, if ever. I can't get excited because he talks about it again, since it has been a constant threat since 1958.

I also think it is very important that we must remember several things about this Berlin situation One—I think a very important one—is that we gave up almost half of what is now East Germany for the position which we hold in Berlin. There wouldn't be an East Germany of any consequence if we had not given up the territory which we had captured in exchange for the position which we hold in West Berlin.

Q. You are speaking of the wartime agreements?

A. Yes. Under these agreements, too, the only troops allowed in West Berlin were Allied troops. We have lived up to that. On the other hand, the Soviet government started raising an East German army very quickly and they have stationed that army in East Berlin. We have never stationed any troops from the Federal Republic of West Germany in West Berlin. Now as a result of all that, certain basic commitments have been made publicly and solemly, and negotiations cannot break away from these firm commitments. There are not very many.

They are basically — first, we will maintain Allied right of access on the ground and complete freedom of access in the air. Second, we will maintain the viability of West Berlin, meaning freedom of movement for persons and goods into West Berlin. Third, we have agreed that we will maintain our garrisons in West Berlin as long as the people of West Berlin want them.

We have also agreed with the Federal Republic not to recognize any other government as speaking for any portion of the German people other than the Federal Republic until the German people themselves have selected in free elections a government of their own. We have also agreed to support the future reunification of Germany. Finally, and I also think very importantly, we have said that we intend to support no lessening of the ties that exist between West Berlin and the Federal Republic.

Astronaut's Way Of Feeding Babies Is Health News Item

By The Associated Press

An astronaut's way of feeding babies and a medical passport are health news items:

Space Dividend

Babies and mothers are promised a dividend from the space age.

Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., ate from a plastic squeeze tube, squirting food into his mouth, during orbit. Now, the same idea is being developed for no-mess, easy feeding of babies during travel by car or plane, or on picnics. Similar food tubes are equipped with a clear , plastic, hollow-stemmed spoon attached to the tube.

Just the right amount of fruit, vegetable or other food can be squeezed into the spoon. A hermetic seal in the neck of the tube is punctured when the spoon is screwed onto the tube. Tube and spoon are disposed of afterward.

A baby food company is testing the squeeze tubes, originally developed by the American Can Company for feeding astronauts under weightless conditions of space flight.

Medical Passports

To ensure proper emergency medical treatment at home or abroad, you can carry a medical passport listing essential information which a doctor or hospital should know about your own health. The pocket-sized document can contain data on treatment for a heart condition, for diabetes, epilepsy, or other disorders, as well as giving your blood type, allergies, and results of X-ray and laboratory studies.

Published by the Medical Passport Foundation, Inc., New York, the passports are provided to physicians and hospitals at cost.

Interest Lags In Job Exams

LISBON — County officials said today there is little apparent interest in a scheduled Civil Service examination for the posts of superintendent and matron for Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home at East Palestine.

The examinations will be given at 9 a. m. Tuesday, Aug. 14, at the Courthouse. Last date for receipt of applications is Tuesday, July 31.

The forms may be obtained at the Courthouse from Auditor Kenneth Bell or from the Department of State Personnel, Columbus 15. Only two persons have asked for applications here, the auditor said.

The superintendent's post will pay from $150 to $200 a month, plus maintenance, and the matron's post from $125 to $150, plus maintenance. Examinations are restricted to legal residents of the county.

Other details are available from Bell or County Welfare Director Robert Bycroft.

The children's receiving home was closed Jan. 1 because of a financial pinch. County commissioners announced in April that it would be reopened and asked for a Civil Service examination and eligibility list.

2 Ohioans And 2 From Florida Killed In Crash

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —Two Ohioans and two Florida residents died Tuesday in the crash of an automobile and a station wagon at the busy intersection of U.S. 6 and Ohio 199 about 13 miles east of here.

Highway patrolmen spent several hours trying to pin down the identification of the dead.

They said a car driven by Daniel J. O'Neill of St. Petersburg Beach, Fla., collided with a station wagon driven by Mrs. Ruth O'Rork, 40, a Sandusky school teacher. O'Neill and his wife, Loretta, died in the crash, along with Mary Ann Michael, 10, who with her brother, Joseph, 7, had been riding with Mrs. O'Rork. Mrs. O'Rork died in Wood County Hospital about an hour after the crash.

Joseph Michael was being treated at the hospital for shock and other injuries. He and his sister were children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Michael of Rt. 4, Bowling Green. They were returning home with Mrs. O'Rork to Sandusky. Patrolmen had first identified them as children of Mrs. O'Rork.

Killed By Train

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Earl Ison, 43, an unemployed former member of the Ashland fire department, was struck by a train and killed at a downtown crossing Tuesday night. Authorities said he was walking along the tracks when a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train hit him.

Ravenna Man To Be Arraigned In Bank Robbery

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Adam Ken, 52, of Ravenna was scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today for arraignment on a bank robbery charge in the $2,825 holdup of the County Savings & Loan Co. here.

He was arrested shortly after the robbery Tuesday when Mrs. Gene Lemasters, a teller, pointed him out to Deputy Sheriff Howard Leland.

Police said the money was found stuffed in Ken's pockets and shirt. He is an unemployed furnace repairman.

Police Sgt. Frank Stockdale said Ken told him that he staged the oldup because he wanted "a place to eat and sleep this winter." He had been drinking at the time of his arrest, Stockdale said.

A man walked into the loan company office about 2 p.m. Nancy Parmelee, 19, said she gave the man the money when he pretended to have a gun in his pocket. He then left.

Mrs. Lemasters followed the robber after asking that the sheriff's office be called because it is across the street from the bank. She followed the man about two blocks on a trail that took them back to within a few feet of the bank, where Leland was waiting.

The man offered no resistance and was "very peaceful about the whole thing," Leland said.

Kingston, Jamaica, is the largest English-speaking city in the Western Hemisphere south of Miami. It has a population of 380,000.

Lisbon District Blaze Burns Over Half Acre

LISBON — A grass fire burned off a half acre and threatened a housetrailer and tractor west of town Tuesday noon before it was extinguished by the Lisbon volunteer fire department and neighbors.

Mrs. Jonquil Dotson said she was burning trash in a tub and some sparks set the grass ablaze. She lives in the southwestern part of Center Township about three miles west of Lisbon and two and a half miles south of Route 30.

Lagos is the capital of Nigeria.

3 Motorists Forfeit

LISBON — Three drivers charged by the State Highway Patrol forfeited appearance bonds of $15 each Tuesday in Southwest Area Court here. They are Helen I. Ankeny, 29, of New Rumley, failure to yield the right-of-way, and Arla J. Hoffman, 23, of North Georgetown and Richard J. Lingro, 25, of Cleveland, both speeding.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

3 CARDS OF THANKS

OUR sorrow is great, and hard to bear, but we know it would have been even greater if it hadn't been for our friends, neighbors and relatives in the loss of our beloved Violet McMillen. We extend our grateful acknowledgment to the nurses on 3 north, Martins Funeral Home, Father Buckman and to those who sent floral offerings. We also want to thank the neighbors of Michigan Ave. and Ohio Ave. for their help and kindness, also the neighbors of Woodbine Ave. and Carolina Ave. for their kindness during our great loss. Thank you again.
Mr. McMillen (Ace), Thelma, Jeanedeane, and granddaughter Judy.

Junior Editors Quiz on BOOKS

QUESTION: Who invented pages in a book?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Among the first books were tablets of clay (A) made in Ninevah and Babylon about 3500 B. C. The writing was done by pressing a triangular tool into clay and then baking to make the marks permanent. Later the Egyptians made paper, or "papyrus," from reeds. They wrote on long scrolls which one had to unwind in order to read. The Greeks and Romans also followed this system. By about 300 A. D. parchment or animal skin was in use instead of paper, and monks in monasteries, who had to write their books by hand (B), began to fold parchment into sheets, put them together into a group called a "gathering" and then sew a number of gatherings into a book. These were the first pages; but they were not the first printed pages. Printing written characters on paper was invented by the Chinese — there is a scroll made by them in 868 which is said to be the first printed book. The first printed pages of the kind of book we know about came into being in 1456, when Johannes Gutenberg printed his famous Bible, using the new discovery of movable type. These printed pages soon made knowledge available to everybody.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Make your own book of your writings and drawings. One easy way: fold a number of pieces of paper of the same size in half and punch four holes through the folded edge, using a hammer and nail. Thread string through the holes and tie the ends with a bow knot.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: This is an item. (Gals, she wrote me on the back of a piece of beautiful wrapping paper. Darling idea! It was yellow with designs. The inside was slick. The paper can be cut with pinking scissors or just plain scissors. Can be made any size.)

I don't know about your relatives but ours write to us on anything that's handy! I love to get the news and I think this is a most attractive way to get it. No use to get in a rut. Try something different.

I use terry cloth towels for wrapping vegetables to place in the refrigerator. They are more absorbent and less expensive than paper towels and can be used over and over just by tossing them in the washing machine. No ironing required, and they leave the lettuce nice and crisp for salads.

After I come home from the grocery, I take the cash register tape and circle all the figures that are not for groceries. I total these figures and subtract from the total. I then know how much I really spent on groceries.

ETTA EVERETT

Pet Problem

DEAR HELOISE: To remove dog or cat hairs from clothes . . . just moisten a sponge and rub the fabric lightly.

One way to wash a crinoline petticoat is to dip it up and down in warm soap suds in the bathtub, then rinse it under the shower without wringing. Hang it by the waist band, using a skirt hanger. Or open that umbrella and put it in the tub and lay the skirts over it.

Full strength plastic starch is good if you like the petticoats real stiff.

MRS. J. N. REINIG

Time For Change

DEAR HELOISE: I love to change things in my home—furniture, pictures, everything. To me, it makes housekeeping more enjoyable.

I have an area behind my stove (goes up to the cabinets) and it is approximately 20 inches high. I covered the entire area with contact paper! This makes it quite washable. I have even scoured it when necessary.

When I tire of this pattern or color, I remove the paper and line a shelf with it. The paper makes a permanent shelf liner, one that won't tear and wrinkle. It's washable too.

There are so many pretty colors and designs and this gives my kitchen a new, fresh look. Cost? Less than 50 cents a yard, and very easy to install.

Jaycee's Board Discusses Plans

Plans for future projects were discussed by the Junior Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Frank Dawson reported on plans for an inter-city track meet between children of East Liverpool and Salem. It will be held next month at Patterson Field. The date will be announced later.

Joseph Coons said the committee has been meeting on setting up a public scholarship fund. Ted is being initiated by the Jaycees but will be turned over to a board of directors comprised of various citizens if it is adopted.

A husband - wife picnic will be held Friday at 6:30 p. m. at a site on Beaver Creek off Route 30 near Crockery City Farms. Sidney Porter is in charge.

Robert Lewis, president, conducted business. The board will meet again Aug. 6. General membership meetings will resume in September.

Ohio Legion To Convene

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Delegates to the annual state convention of the American Legion, starting here Friday, may take a stand in the controversy over instruction on communism in public schools.

Among resolutions to be submitted is one by the Westerville and Bexley (Columbus) posts defending the so-called "Spirit of '76" law, which prescribes certain priorities for basic instruction in the schools.

A 1955 amendment to the law has been under fire from some Ohio educators who claim they are prevented from teaching world communism. The amendment requires that students must first receive basic instruction in Americanism before they can be taught about communism.

The resolution, among other things, states that "schools in Columbus, Toledo, and elsewhere have found no difficulty in carrying out the intent of the law and at the same time informing pupils about world communism and world affairs."

In all, the Ohio Legion's various committees will consider 14 resolutions. The resolutions are to be acted upon at the convention's general session Saturday.

Killed By Power Saw

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ted V. Lockert, 17, of Akron, a summer employe of the Summit County Engineer's Department, was killed Tuesday when a power saw ripped into his right leg while he was working on a drainage ditch project.

Blue Cross Gets Okay To Hike Rates About 18%

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Insurance Department has granted most of the Blue Cross hospitalization rate hike sought in 15 Southwestern Ohio counties.

Robert Mullins, state insurance chief, said Tuesday the increases, ranging from 50 cents to $1.90 monthly on individual contracts, will be effective Sept. 1.

The increases represent about 18 per cent of present costs. Hospital Care Corp., the Blue Cross agency, had asked for increases of about 21.5 per cent.

Present and new fees are:

Standard 70 - day group contracts—single, $2.75 to $3.25 a month; family, $6.95 to $8.05.

Standard 70-day bill - at - home contracts—single, $4.50 to $5.45; family, $9 to $10.90.

Comprehensive 120-day contracts—single, $4 to $5; family, $9.60 to $11.10.

The increases will affect approximately 1.6 million Blue Cross subscribers in Adams, Brown, Butler, Clermont, Drake, Clinton, Clark, Greene, Hamilton, Miami, Montgomery, Preble, Scioto and Warren counties and all of Highland County except Greenfield.

Junior Editors Quiz on BOOKS

QUESTION: Who invented pages in a book?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Among the first books were tablets of clay (A) made in Ninevah and Babylon about 3500 B. C. The writing was done by pressing a triangular tool into clay and then baking to make the marks permanent. Later the Egyptians made paper, or "papyrus," from reeds. They wrote on long scrolls which one had to unwind in order to read. The Greeks and Romans also followed this system. By about 300 A. D. parchment or animal skin was in use instead of paper, and monks in monasteries, who had to write their books by hand (B), began to fold parchment into sheets, put them together into a group called a "gathering" and then sew a number of gatherings into a book. These were the first pages; but they were not the first printed pages. Printing written characters on paper was invented by the Chinese — there is a scroll made by them in 868 which is said to be the first printed book. The first printed pages of the kind of book we know about came into being in 1456, when Johannes Gutenberg printed his famous Bible, using the new discovery of movable type. These printed pages soon made knowledge available to everybody.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Make your own book of your writings and drawings. One easy way: fold a number of pieces of paper of the same size in half and punch four holes through the folded edge, using a hammer and nail. Thread string through the holes and tie the ends with a bow knot.

Ohio Legion To Convene

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Delegates to the annual state convention of the American Legion, starting here Friday, may take a stand in the controversy over instruction on communism in public schools.

Among resolutions to be submitted is one by the Westerville and Bexley (Columbus) posts defending the so-called "Spirit of '76" law, which prescribes certain priorities for basic instruction in the schools.

A 1955 amendment to the law has been under fire from some Ohio educators who claim they are prevented from teaching world communism. The amendment requires that students must first receive basic instruction in Americanism before they can be taught about communism.

The resolution, among other things, states that "schools in Columbus, Toledo, and elsewhere have found no difficulty in carrying out the intent of the law and at the same time informing pupils about world communism and world affairs."

In all, the Ohio Legion's various committees will consider 14 resolutions. The resolutions are to be acted upon at the convention's general session Saturday.
